LIBBY HOLMAN IN DELAWARE, POLICE THINK

Authorities There Asked to Arrest Widow in Reynolds' Death.

PRIVILEGE OF BAIL SOUGHT BY FATHER

Bonding of Slain Youth's Chum Also Asked as His Brother Speeds Home.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Delaware authorities tonight were asked to arrest Libby Holman Reynolds, while her counsel here issued a statement that she would appear voluntarily to answer charges that she and Albert Walker murdered her husband, Smith Reynolds, tobacco fortune heir. Sheriff Transou Scott sent a telegram to Sheriff Irving J. Hollingsworth, of Newcastle County, Del., saying that he had information that the former Broadway actress was with or at the home of Mrs. Louisa d'A. Jenney, said to be a member of the wealthy duPont family, at Montchanin, a few miles north of Wilmington.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Habeas corpus proceedings seeking the release on bond of Albert Walker, indicted with Libby Holman Reynolds for the murder of the latter's husband, Smith Reynolds, were instituted here tonight and a hearing was set for noon tomorrow. The petition for the writ was filed by Bailey Lilpfert, Walker's attorney.

The hearing will be held before Judge A. M. Stack, presiding in Forsyth County superior court, who signed an order providing for it.

Informed of the move, Solicitor Carlisle Higgins said it would be incumbent upon Walker to show he is wrongfully denied privilege of bond, but would not say definitely that he would oppose the release of the 19-year-old chum of Reynolds.

Holman Arrives.

Walker has been held in the county jail without privilege of bond since the grand jury returned a true bill late yesterday against him and the young widow of the tobacco fortune heir.

Efforts to locate Mrs. Reynolds to take her into custody have been futile. Her father, Alfred Holman, an attorney, arrived here today from Cincinnati, announcing he would seek to arrange for her release under bond, pending her trial.

After a brief conference with Solicitor Higgins, Holman retained two Winston-Salem lawyers, Benet Polikoff and William Graves, to assist him. If they decide to present a petition to Judge Stack, it will be tomorrow, they announced.

Wants Early Trial.

A desire for the trial of his daughter at the earliest possible date was expressed here tonight by Holman.

"That, and the natural desire to save my daughter all needless inconvenience before the trial, were the main reasons for coming here," he said, shortly before he went into conference with the two attorneys engaged as local counsel to assist in presenting his bond plea for Libby in superior court tomorrow.

"Of course, I wanted to cooperate with the local authorities in clearing this case up," he added.

In the midst of the conference Polikoff made a brief oral statement in which he said that Holman had no intention of defying the laws of North Carolina and that Libby would be produced whenever it was neces-

MacDonald Takes Plane For Northern Ireland

London, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald left by airplane this afternoon with Lord Londonderry, Governor General of Northern Ireland, presumably to spend the week-end in Ulster.

Belfast, Ireland, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald is expected to arrive in Belfast tomorrow morning with Lord Londonderry, who will be his week-end host. It will be his first visit to Ulster since twenty years ago, when he was a Socialist election organizer.

Dr. Rinehart's Family Encouraged by Progress

Utica, N. Y., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Members of Dr. Stanley M. Rinehart's family, including his wife, the widely-known novelist, Mary Roberts Rinehart, today had found some encouragement in a report that the physician's condition seemed somewhat improved. Dr. Rinehart was brought to a hospital here last Friday, after collapsing at a summer camp on Little Moose Lake.

Mrs. Rinehart remained at her husband's bedside throughout yesterday.

Entries, Read to Prove Lancaster Slew in Jealousy, Disclose Fear Clarke Was Winning Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Miami, Fla., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Capt. W. N. Lancaster's own written record of passionate devotion to Jessie M. Keith-Miller and his anxiety over her relations with Haden Clarke, young writer, was put in the record today at the British flier's trial for what the prosecution calls a love triangle murder.

The former British army pilot's diary, read by State's Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne to an intent jury and spectators, also revealed the beginning of the attachment between Clarke and the Australian aviatrix who had been Lancaster's constant companion for five years.

Hawthorne declared his motive was to show by the diary that intense love for her led him to murder Clarke in a fit of jealousy.

The diary told of the suspicions of friends relayed to Lancaster by letter while he was in the West and repeated the friends' stories of the drinking bouts in which Mrs. Keith-Miller has testified the attraction between her and Clarke was fed by liquor.

Clarke was shot to death in the room he and Lancaster occupied at Mrs. Keith-Miller's home with a pistol brought here by Lancaster within twelve hours after the latter had returned hurriedly from St. Louis upon being notified that his former fiancee and Clarke planned to be married.

Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller contend Clarke's death was suicide, induced by financial troubles which beset all three, a disease from which he suffered and remorse over his unfaithfulness to Lancaster. The flier had left Clarke and Mrs. Keith-Miller here working on her life story for publication under her name.

The first entries in the diary, which ran from January 1 to April 15, 1932, only a few days before Clarke was shot, revealed the desperate financial straits to which the flying couple had been reduced.

Then came a notation, showing how his thoughts dwelt constantly on his fiancee while he was on a brief trip to New York. The entry follows:

"New York, Feb. 3, 1932, A. and N. Club N. Y., (Midnight).—Am in a cold sweat. Return to Aberdeen Ho-

DAIL VOTES BIG SUM FOR ECONOMIC WAR

De Valera's Anti-British Bill Pledges £2,000,000 After Bitter Fight.

Dublin, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Riding over protests that the Irish Free State is encouraging communism and revolution, the Dail tonight passed the 2,000,000 pounds (about $7,000,000) emergency fund bill to aid President Eamon de Valera's government in its economic war with Great Britain.

After the bill was passed, President De Valera said:

"If the coercive measures such as Britain is using against Ireland at present are continued, then the sooner the connection between the two countries is severed, the better."

The bill was passed after the most bitter debate in the last year. The vote was 58 to 43.

Under direction of former President William T. Cosgrave, the opposition put up a stiff fight against the measure in its efforts to end the conflict between the Free State and the United Kingdom, arising out of refusal of De Valera to pay Britain the land annuities.

It also was considered significant that William Norton, the leader of the Labor party, which holds the balance of power in the Dail, was critical of De Valera although his party voted with the Government on this issue.

"The government has shown a complete absence of decisive policy and concrete plan in dealing with the emergency," Norton said, hinting that the laborites were doubtful about continuing their collaboration.

The bill will now go to the Senate.

Waterford, Ireland, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Irish Republican army officers today asked local motion picture house owners to suppress news films of British events, particularly scenes showing royalty or military ceremony.

Oklahoma Democrats Rename Swank by 46

Oklahoma City, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—P. B. Swank, Democratic representative from the Fifth Oklahoma District, won renomination by 46 votes in a recount completed today.

First official tabulations after the runoff primary July 26, gave his opponent O. B. Mothershead the nomination by 56 votes.

Democratic Chiefs To Meet in 15 Days

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Lieutenants of Democracy from every corner of the Nation will report at Roosevelt-Garner headquarters in New York within the next 15 days to get their orders for the political battle of 1932.

They will come from 43 States. With the exception of a few national committeemen, they all will be chairmen of Democratic State committees. With the generals in the Roosevelt-Garner camp they will discuss the campaign strategy to be followed, the issues on which attacks will be made, the finance plans, and the individual problems they expect to face in their own sections.

Before they leave for home, James A. Farley, national chairman, will place on the shoulders of each State leader the full responsibility for the conduct of the campaign in his territory.

ARMS ENVOYS VISION FURTHER REDUCTION

Returning Geneva Delegates Say Hoover's Suggestion Is Partially Met.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—At least partial success of President Hoover's suggestion for one-third reduction in world armaments was freely predicted by members of the American delegation to the World Disarmament Conference as they returned from Geneva today aboard the liner Leviathan.

They were neither dismayed by criticism nor over-elated at the results obtained in the six months of negotiations already passed.

"The conference pledged itself to a substantial reduction in land, air and sea armaments and recognized the underlying principle of President Hoovers' plan," said Senator Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia. "If this specific promise is complied with at the second session of the conference, a further substantial reduction in armament expenditures may be expected."

The next session of the conference will open early in 1933.

That the Hoover plan was not immediately accepted in its entirety, Senator Swanson explained in a parable:

"We had an American train running on a European track and we necessarily ran it slowly. When we return we hope to find an Americanized track."

Two other leaders in the delegation

4 Seized in Killing Of Wealthy Woman

Recluse Daughter of Former Envoy to Belgium Slain Near Home.

Natchez, Miss., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Three men and a woman were detained for questioning here today in the slaying of Miss Jane Merrill, aged and wealthy recluse. Officers said Richard Dana, an eccentric woodsman; Dana's housekeeper, Miss Octavia Dockery, and two men listed only as Burke and Ferguson, were in custody. Dana and Miss Dockery, the officers said, had quarreled with the aged woman several days ago because a flock of goats owned by Miss Dockery had grazed on Miss Merrill's plantation.

The body of Miss Merrill, with two bullet wounds in the neck and one in the left side, was found at dawn today in a thicket about 200 yards from the plantation home where for many years she had defied the changes of modern times and lived as nearly as possible in the manner of the antebellum South.

Miss Merrill was the daughter of Ayres Merrill, who served at one timee as United States Ambassador to Belgium.

Endurance Flight Begun Again by Mrs. Bruce

Hambleton, England, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Mrs. Victor Bruce, who made a false start on Monday in an attempt to set a new endurance flight record, took off again this afternoon.

She and her husband and a radio operator are using an amphibian plane equipped with a kitchen, dining room and shower bath, which Mrs. Bruce calls her "flying bungalow." On Monday they were forced down an hour after the take-off by trouble in the electrical circuit.

STOCKS CLIMB 1 TO 8 POINTS TO NEW HIGHS

Huge Commodity "Pool" Rumors Aid Advance; Selling Offset.

FARM SHARES LEAD RISE; BUYING HEAVY

White House Receiving Many Assurances Business Is on Upgrade.

New York, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Bulls continued to rule the stock market today, bidding prices up to further highs in the face of heavy week-end realizing.

With rumors of a gigantic commodity "pool" providing the principal speculative fuel, the stock market had little difficulty in pushing through resistance levels to gains of 1 to 8 points.

Although trading volume slumped from 3,500,000 shares yesterday to 2,700,000 shares today, bullish enthusiasm continued unrestrained and bolstered by an ever-growing outside demand for stocks, the bear party experienced another uncomfortable five hours.

Shorts in the so-called "farm" shares suffered considerable punishment as stocks of this class soared in response to expectations of a bull campaign in farm products prices through the formation of a large commodity pool.

Farm Shares Soar.

Linked with the magic name of Arthur Cutten, large bankers were reported to be considering a huge buying movement in farm commodities with the hopes of handsome profits and at the same time contributing to business improvement through bolstering of commodity values. Cutten denied he was buying.

On the heels of another 2-cent advance in the price of wheat, "farm shares" on the stock exchange soared sensationally. Led by J. I. Case, which rose 8½ points to 43½; International Harvester rose 7⅛ points to 28⅛; Montgomery Ward, 1¾ points to 10¾, and Sears, Roebuck, 3⅝ points to 21⅝. Long strings of these issues and others like Oliver Farm Equipment and Advance Rumely appeared on the tape, crossing out many of the other market leaders.

Expectations of a move toward "prosperity" have been general in the farm belt for many months and buyers of the farm stocks today were apparently basing their purchases on these hopes. This buying caught a large short interest unawares.

Blue Chips Advance.

But buying operations today were not confined to such stocks. Other leaders, such as American Telephone, United States Steel, National Biscuit, General Electric and American Can, broke through to new highs on the recovery on gains of 1 to 3 points and held most of them to the close. Activity showed a tendency to dwindle toward the close, but the final dealings witnessed another heavy buying movement that carried leading issues to their best levels of the recovery.

Brokerage houses reported an ever widening circle of public participation in the market and reports were current of the prospective reemployment

(Associated Press Sports Editor).

Olympic Stadium, Los Angeles, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—In two thundering finishes that shook the Olympic Arena today, Bill Carr raced to spectacular victory over Ben Eastman in the almost incredible world record time of 46.2 seconds in the 400-meter final after Lauri Lehtinen, ace of Finland's distance runners, barely nosed out Ralph Hill, American star, in a wildly disputed climax to the 5,000-meter final.

Crowd Boos Decision.

The crowd of more than 60,000 spectators, who rose to their feet roaring as Carr administered his third and most convincing setback to Eastman in a dazzling all-American duel for speed laurels, gave a demonstration of disapproval unprecedented in the history of Olympic track and field competition, as Lehtinen three times side-stepped in front of Hill to lead the American to the tape by a scant 3 inches.

No sooner had Lehtinen stepped off the track, after blocking Hill's last futile rush, than the spectators let loose a reverberating chorus of boos in the belief that the Finnish star had deliberately frustrated the American's attempts to get a clear path for the rush down the stretch.

Lehtinen Seemed Fresh.

Lehtinen's tactics, doubly astonishing for the reason that he still seemed fresh and strong enough to match Hill's challenge, drew the wrath of official disapproval. Charges of unsportsmanlike tactics, if not actual fouling, were lodged and it was more than an hour before the official verdict finally was reached to accept Lehtinen's victory. Finland's first in the distance races, and credit him with a new Olympic record of 14 minutes 30 seconds.

Unofficially, it was reported a majority of track judges at first favored disqualifying Lehtinen, but the only official statement they issued was signed by Arthur Holz, of Germany, as chief judge and said, "I am of the opinion that No. 125 (Lehtinen) did

France May Ask Debt Cut As Price of Trade Treaty

MacDonald Decries United European Ultimatum Against U. S.

London, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has no intention at present of going to the United States, it was authoritatively stated today in connection with reports that he or some member of the delegation to the imperial economic conference was about to go to Washington to discuss the debts issue.

It was said Mr. MacDonald has not yet decided what will be the best way of approaching the United States on this question, nor does he believe anything can be done until after the American elections.

He is, however, prepared to act when the time comes in any way which seems most effective for reaching a friendly settlement acceptable to the United States and to the governments which participated in the recent Lausanne conference.

His purpose, it was said, is to achieve a settlement which will mean a complete and cooperative understanding with the United States. He is particularly anxious that whatever is done should result in a real cooperative agreement and that there should be nothing in the nature of an ultimatum or a united front by Europe against the United States.

Edge Invites Herriot to State Desires in Pact Negotiations.

Paris, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Reports in diplomatic circles tonight said France might ask the United States for favorable consideration of war debt adjustment, in exchange for a most-favored-nation commercial treaty.

Ambassador Walter E. Edge invited Premier Herriot yesterday to state the French desires in connection with negotiations for such a treaty. As the United States could not easily grant customs concessions to France in view of the rigidity of the tariff law, it was said the French might seek debt concessions instead.

An apparently inspired article to be published tomorrow in Le Matin supports talk of such concessions. The article says Edge, in a long conversation with Herriot July 27, hinted a favorable commercial accord between France and the United States would have a good effect on outstanding financial customs.

"If we reach an accord on particularly favorable treatment for certain American products, it would be necessary for France to obtain compensation concessions in the domain of financial settlements, and thus the debts and tariffs might be linked more or less together," the article says.

Liberal Economy Rule Asked of White House

"Grievance" Subcommittee Chairman Mead Complains of Administration of Saving Legislation, Especially in Postoffice Department.

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT.

Complaints of inequitable administration of the economy act were carried to the White House yesterday by a newly created "grievance" subcommittee of the House committee on postoffice and post roads.

Chairman James M. Mead asked President Hoover to exert his influence toward "liberal" administration of the act, and "humane interpretation" of its provisions, particularly where they hit the Postoffice Department.

At the same time Representative Mead sought a showdown with Postmaster General Brown on whether postal employes will get paid military leave. The postoffice has denied this privilege, but the Comptroller General holds it mandatory.

The question is of immediate importance, as the District National Guard leaves for summer encampment tomorrow.

"I would respectfully inquire whether the Postoffice Department proposes to follow its present policy regarding military leaves or will the Comptroller General's ruling be made effective?" the New York representative asked.

In a letter to the President, the chairman of the House committee on postoffice and post roads complained to Mr. Hoover of the postoffice action.

"For no reason," he said, "the Postoffice Department has suspended military leaves, imposing a hardship upon a great many employes who have heretofore received military training under the terms of the national defense act.

"This action, too, has deprived the unemployed substitute of work opportunities, and is in conflict with the Comptroller General's decision that such leaves are not affected by the furlough plan."

There was nothing critical of the President's attitude in the postoffice grievance committee's communication to the White House. On the other hand, Representative Mead shared the President's viewpoint "that a wider spread of work is our present outstanding need."

"I can assure you that the House

NEUTRAL NOTE HELD NO CHACO WAR BAN

Bolivia Replies It Owns Area and Hence Doctrine Is Inapplicable.

La Paz, Bolivia, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Bolivia's reply to the note of the United States and 18 Latin-American countries, urging that Bolivia and Paraguay avoid war, welcomes the principle of "victory confers no rights," but expresses the opinion that this does not apply to the disputed Gran Chaco region since Bolivia is mobilizing troops in territory which juridically and historically belongs to her.

The reply, made public tonight, recommends that neutral nations urge Paraguay to accept a real solution of the Chaco dispute, envisaging Bolivia's right to the use of the Paraguay River, which will give her an outlet to the sea.

La Paz, Bolivia, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Opponents of a truce with Paraguay in the conflict over the Gran Chaco put on a demonstration today urging that war be declared.

Students and workers discussed a request that the government mobilize all men between 16 and 30. Former President Bautista Saavedra declared that unless Bolivia obtains a port on the Paraguay River at about the twenty-second parallel, which is approximately at the mouth of the Apa River—the northern boundary of Paraguay—the government will be unable to accept mediation by neutral nations.

Drive by Japanese On China Feared

Mukden, Manchuria, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Conflict between Japanese and Chinese forces north of the Great Wall assumed critical proportions tonight, with rumors that Japanese may plan a movement against the Province of Jehol and possibly the great City of Peiping and its neighbor, Tientsin.

These threats of another smashing blow at the Chinese came after extended fighting near Yingkow (Newchang) and along the South Manchurian Railroad.

Thirty Chinese irregulars were killed and a force of 2,400 Chinese were defeated by Manchukuo troops, led by Gen. Wang Tien-Chung and aided by Japanese. The clash occurred northeast of Yingkow after several days of daring Chinese action against Japan in that district.

Other clashes were at Penshui, Tashan, Nantai and Lishan, on the main line of the railroad, where many trains were delayed. Japanese troops were operating all along the line.

Flood and Cholera Take Big Toll in Manchuria

Harbin, Manchuria, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Floods, cholera, kidnaping and banditry are taking a toll of life in Manchuria. From all sections come reports of enormous property damage, of thousands of villages wiped out, of tens of thousands of persons homeless.

Rivers are blocked with floating houses, drowned men and women and cattle. All the branches of the Chinese Eastern Railway are paralyzed. The Trans-Siberian Express has been suspended and the railroad stations are crowded with panic-stricken women, crying children and bewildered men.

CONVICTED BANKER SHOT AND KIDNAPED

Head of Institution Failing for $1,500,000 Thought Waylaid in Home.

Taylorville, Ill., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—John B. Colegrove, banker recently convicted and sentenced to prison in connection with a $1,500,000 bank failure, was apparently shot and kidnaped tonight by one or more men, who evidently had hid in his cottage.

Police said feeling had been aroused against Colegrove because of the closing of the John B. Colegrove & Co. State Bank in October, 1929, with more than $1,500,000 in deposits.

Persons who lived near the little house where the banker lived almost as a recluse heard a blast from a shotgun and then several shrieks shortly after 10 p. m., they told police.

A few seconds later, they said, an automobile roared away and they found the glass front of a china cabinet smashed with buckshot and blood on the floor.

Investigators said Colegrove apparently was eating supper when an intruder, who they believed had secreted himself in the banker's home, stepped from his hiding place.

Colegrove was tried twice on charges of accepting deposits after knowing his bank to be insolvent. A few weeks ago he was sentenced to a one-to-three-year prison term.

Supreme Court Upholds Life Terms in Hijacking

Tallahassee, Fla., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—It's a crime to hijack liquor in this State, and if the hijacking is done by force of arms, the punishment is life imprisonment, the Florida Supreme Court ruled today.

The case at issue involved Charles Gregory, and Puege Nelson who were sentenced to life imprisonment for assaulting Sam Lord and Andrew Brown and seizing their automobile and 60 cases of liquor. The court affirmed the sentences.

Borah in Fine Condition, Mayo Doctors Declare

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—United States Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, was given a general phyical examination by Mayo Clinic physicians today and was pronounced in "fine condition."

Ziegfeld Gives All To Wife and Child

Estate Is Divided Equally; No Indication Given of Value.

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Florenz Ziegfeld divided his worldly goods equally between his actress wife, Billie Burke, and their small daughter, Patricia.

The New York producer, who died recently in Los Angeles, gave no indication of the value of his estate in his will as filed for probate today. Friends on Broadway believed him to be "broke" and it was known that he had suffered losses on recent productions.

The will requested his widow, formally named as Ethelbert Appleton Ziegfeld, to provide for his mother, Mrs. Rosalie Ziegfeld, of Chicago, until Patricia reached maturity, at which time they would share the responsibility. The necessary sum was placed at not less than $500 a month. Louis Levy, New York lawyer, was named sole executor.

OTTAWA PERILS U. S. SUBSIDIARY PLANTS ABROAD

PLAN IS LINKED WITH FARM PREFERENCES

Industrial and Agricultural Scheme Involves Nearly $200,000,000.

Ottawa, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—American branch plants in British countries would become almost entirely alienated from their parent factories in the United States under a scheme of empire content which was said unofficially today to be under consideration by the imperial economic conference.

Sources which usually are reliable said the Canadian delegation had coupled a request for a 60 per cent empire content all around the board with its offer to trade the United Kingdom industrial preferences for agricultural preferences involving an additional annual outlet for each of between $100,000,000 and $200,000,000.

If it were adopted, such a plan would mean that a subsidiary or branch plant of an American manufacturing firm, whether in Canada or any other nation of the British commonwealth, would have to guarantee that 60 per cent of the total value of its product represented British labor and materials. Otherwise that plant would not enjoy any intraempire tariff preference.

Fifth Largest Exporter.

The benefit to Canadian industry would be derived from less competition by American branch plants manufacturing here and shipping to British nations under empire preferences.

Products of Canadian factories figure largely in maintaining the Dominion as the world's fifth largest exporter.

With a home population of only 10,000,000 to supply, most of the domestic industries depend on a foreign outlet. They have had keen competition from American plants established just inside the boundary for the single purpose of escaping tariffs against foreign products in British commerce.

Purely Empire Industry.

At present these branch plants can export to Great Britain on the same favorable terms granted to bona-fide Canadian industries so long as 25 per cent of the value of their output represents Canadian labor or materials.

Automobile assembling plants which obtain their present empire content by hiring Canadian labor to put together parts imported from the United States would be dealt a severe blow. Some observers said this would virtually mean Canadian production of the parts assembled for the British trade.

The huge American investment in factories established in the British isles would be affected in their sale of special products to the dominions.

The idea behind this plan was said to be the encouragement of purely empire industry.

Sinn Fein Plot to Kill Thomas Stirs Canada

Hamilton, Ontario, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted police instructed the local detachment today to arrest a man described as "a Sinn Feiner of the most radical type" in connection with a reported plot to assassinate J. H. Thomas, British secretary for dominions.

FRAUD IS CHARGED IN TENNESSEE VOTE

Manager of Runner-Up in Democratic Race Will Demand Recount.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A contest before the State primary board, based on charges of voting frauds, was announced tonight by Sam Carmack, campaign manager for Lewis S. Pope, runner-up in the gubernatorial race in yesterday's Democratic primary, in which unofficial returns gave Hill McAlister the nomination by a plurality of approximately 10,000.

"The spurious claims of McAlister's nomination based upon the wholesale and unprecedented frauds in Shelby (Memphis) and Davidson (Nashville) counties," Carmack said, "can not avail against the verdict of the honest electorate of Tennessee."

Wholesale Frauds Charged.

Referring to a resolution of the primary board, adopted at a meeting called at the request of Judge Malcolm R. Patterson, of Memphis, another entry in the gubernatorial contest, in which the board said it would throw out the votes of Negros "herded" to the polls, Carmack said:

"We have an abundance of evidence of wholesale frauds committed in both counties which we will present to the State primary board with the demand that, in accordance with its resolutions, it throw out every box tainted with these revolting frauds."

"Pope," he declared, "was nominated by the Democracy of the State as its candidate for governor, and by the eternals it shall not be stolen from him."

Pope Called Nominee.

Pope was called to Pikeville today by the death of his father.

In the meantime Patterson, at Memphis, issued a statement referring to Pope as "the nominee of the party" and said he would support him as a candidate for the governorship.

Unofficial returns from 2,032 of the 2,237 precincts in the State gave McAlister a commanding lead in a field of four Democratic candidates, in that number of precincts he polled 108,122 votes. Lewis S. Pope received 98,168 and Malcolm R. Patterson, the third candidate, polled 55,812.

Congressional Contests.

Charges of irregularities were not confined to the Democratic gubernatorial race, but cropped out in two congressional contests.

In the First District, where former Representative B. Carroll Reece wrested the Republican congressional nomination from Representative O. B Lovette, the latter charged that in one county he had been "defrauded" of enough votes to insure victory and that he planned an investigation.

Practically complete unofficial returns showed Representative Ridley Mitchell victorious over Representative Ewin L. Davis for the Democratic nomination to Congress in the Fourth, where the two colleagues were thrown into a contest as a result of redistricting of the State. Davis contended, however, that "notwithstanding the illegal votes cast for my opponent," he would be proved the nominee.

Reece Ahead by 1,750.

While Reece and Lovette were in a close contest on the face of returns reported, a 1,750 majority was credited to the former in Claiborne County. It was in that county that Lovette claimed he had been "defrauded" of enough votes to give him the nomination.

Representatives J. Will Taylor, Sam D. McReynolds, Joseph W. Byrns, Gordon Browning, Jere Cooper and J. H. Crump all were renominated. Mrs. Eslick, widow of Representative E. E. Eslick, was elected to serve out the remainder of his term. C. W. Turner is the Democratic nominee for the new term.

Action Taken as Result of Visit by Mysterious Stranger.

Special police attention was being given last night to the home of Mrs. Edward E. Gann, sister of the Vice President, at 3508 Macomb street northwest, as the result of the appearance there yesterday of a roughly dressed individual who inquired for the Vice President, and who on being informed the latter was not there, wanted to know "when he would be in."

The visit of the man was immediately described to Commissioner Herbert A. Crosby, Police Commissioner, and his secretary, Ralph Norton, arranged with Eighth Precinct Police to investigate the mysterious visitor.

Described as between 40 and 50 years old, dressed in rough clothes, including a blue work-shirt, the man was said to have been of dangerous appearance. The Vice President does not reside with his sister, whose husband is an attorney, but lives at the Mayflower Hotel. Mrs. Gann acts as his official hostess at social gatherings.

Man Held in Own Child's Kidnaping

Arrest in Arkansas Ends Search After Girl Was Awarded to Mother.

Hot Springs, Ark., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A man booked as Fred Read, 31, was arrested here today on a warrant charging him with kidnaping his own child, Carol, 9, in Oak Park, Ill., several months ago.

Read told police he was cashier of the Central Republic Investment Co. of Chicago and that the child was at a home near Winslow, Ark., 30 miles north of Fort Smith, in the Ozark Mountains. Officers were sent there for her. Police said J. Zerlane, 25, also of Oak Park, was arrested with Read and held pending word from Illinois authorities.

Oak Park, Ill., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The arrest today of Fred J. Read ended a widespread search which started when he disappeared with the child from the home of his estranged wife May 8, Mother's Day. Mrs. Read was granted a decree of separate maintenance on June 22. Judge Daniel P. Trude then issued a bench warrant charging her husband with kidnaping their child. He had granted her custody to the mother.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Manuscript for Sale

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The original manuscript of Abraham Lincoln's Gettysburg address was offered for sale here today by Robert Johnson, attorney for the owner, Mrs. Margaret O'Herron, of Streator, Ill. Mrs. O'Herron said the framed manuscript and other mementoes were given to her by Robert T. Lincoln, the emancipator's son.

Robert Lincoln told her, she said, that the original manuscript was left at the White House when the President went to Gettysburg to deliver the "four-score-and-seven-year-ago" address. While on the train, Lincoln rewrote it on a scrap of wrapping paper.

Except for some punctuation changes, the manuscript is identical with the Gettysburg address as Lincoln gave it.

GARNER IS NOTIFIED BY MAIL OF NAMING

Capitol Hill Hears Speaker Also Will Write Letter of Acceptance.

(Associated Press.)

Capitol Hill heard yesterday that Speaker Garner already had been officially notified of his nomination for the Vice Presidency, but instead of the usual ostentation and formality one of Uncle Sam's new 3-cent stamps carried the message.

In deference to the Texas plainsman's modest wish, Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, temporary chairman of the recent Democratic national convention, informed the Speaker of his nomination by letter.

Garners' acceptance is expected in a few days and both communications will be made public simultaneously, either here or in Kentucky, where Senator Barkley has gone to be on hand for today's primary.

Moses Answers Ashurst.

Meanwhile the debate over Gov. Roosevelt's recent speech continued yesterday, Senator Moses (Republican), New Hampshire, taking a shot at Senator Ashurst (Democrat), Arizona, for the latter's criticism of Moses' first assault on the Democratic presidential nominee. Ashurst had assailed the Republican tariff as discriminatory, with the products of the farm, field and ranch unprotected.

Moses referred to this sally as "amusing."

"In the last Democratic tariff," he said, "the competitive Underwood bill, which is the same kind of a tariff Gov. Roosevelt now espouses, practically all the products of the farm, the field, the mines and the ranch were on the free list.

Vetoed by Democrat.

"When the Republicans regained control of the Congress in 1919, they passed an emergency agricultural tariff measure which the Democratic President vetoed.

"Consequently it was not until the Republicans regained entire control of the Government in 1921 that they were able to put through this emergency tariff and so save agriculture from the complete debacle with which it was threatened by Democratic policies. These tariffs were included in the 1922 Republican protective act and were further increased in the act of 1930."

Moses also said Ashurst voted for at least nineteen increases in the Hawley-Smoot act and against at least thirteen proposed decreases. He said the Arizonian also voted in the recent session for duties on copper, oil, coal and lumber.

ARMS ENVOYS VISION FURTHER REDUCTION

returning with Swanson were Dr. Mary E. Woolley and Norman Davis, former Undersecretary of State. Davis, who is favored by the League of Nations finance committee for its presidency to succeed Suvich, new Italian undersecretary to Mussolini, said he had not yet decided whether he could accept the post.

Dr. Woolley said the Benes resolution, adopted at the conclusion of the conference's first session, did not go so far toward accepting the Hoover proposal as the American delegation would have liked, but it, nevertheless, marked a real achievement in the acceptance of the principle and in presenting a definite plan for the next session.

"One of the most cheering aspects," she told reporters, "has been the good will and sincerity shown. If nations would follow the example of their representatives the problem would be solved."

She was impressed because Japan, France, Switzerland, Portugal, Germany and Spain sat at one table, chummed and swapped cigarets. Davis insisted that more progress had been made at the conference than seems to be generally recognized.

(Associated Press.)

Senator Swanson, of Virginia, returned to Washington last night from a long stay in Europe as a member of the American delegation to the disarmament conference and was welcomed at the Union Station by Secretary Stimson and a group of State Department officials.

Swanson was the only one of the returning members of the delegation to come to Washington. Most of the others went directly to their homes after disembarking in New York yesterday.

Stimson was accompanied to the station by Richard Southgate, acting chief of the division of international conferences; Charles Lee Cooke, the State Department ceremonial officer; Noel Field, of the division of western European affairs, and Capt. E. A. Regnier, military aide to the Secretary of State.

After a brief exchange of pleasantries with Secretary Stimson and an affectionate greeting of his young cousin, little Miss Douglas Wood, Senator Swanson was off to his home here. He plans to be at his office today, and Tuesday he will make his formal report to Secretary Stimson of the State Department. As soon as possible thereafter he plans to go to Danville to visit relatives.

Senator Swanson was accompanied home by Mrs. Swanson, Douglas Hall, Mrs. Swanson's son and the senator's secretary on the trip, remained in Europe.

COUNTY SHORTAGES ARE PUT AT $656,274

Findings in Investigation of Arlington Accounts Are Made Public.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Arlington County's total of the alleged shortages in public funds has mounted to $656,274.10. Of this amount former County Treasurer E. Wade Ball's shortage, as reported some time ago, is $564,405.40. William H. Duncan's, former county clerk, alleged shortage as released yesterday by T. Coleman Andrews, State auditor, shows the sum of $85,618.70. The alleged shortage of F. J. Hallock, former clerk to the county school board, while not officially reported, is said to be $6,250.

The report of Duncan's alleged shortage covering the period from January 1, 1920, to April 21, 1932, as announced by Mr. Andrews, follows:

To the Commonwealth of Virginia, $1,334.79; to the County of Arlington, $72,324.92; to the Commonwealth of Virginia on special accounts, $12,725.40; to Harry K. Green, commissioner of revenue, $1,626.83, making a total of $88,014.94.

Recovering Funds Doubtful.

Cash items on hand, according to the report, follow: On hand, $822.96; on deposit with the Citizens National Bank of Alexandria, Va., $1,573.28, making a total of $2,396.24.

Whether Arlington County will recover the sums reported by the State auditors who have been in the county more than four months going over the accounts of the three officials, all of whom stand indicted and are now at liberty on bond, is a grave question in the minds of county leaders about the county courthouse.

When Ball went out of office as a result of the uncovered alleged shortage his bond was for the amount of $300,000. For the term prior to January 1 of this year his bond was $450,000.

Trials Are Set.

It is known that the county stands to lose the major portion of the reported shortage in the accounts of Duncan, as his bond was but $8,000. The county loses all of the reported shortage in Hallock's accounts, as he was not bonded.

The case of Ball comes before Judge Walter T. McCarthy in the Circuit Court of Arlington County Monday, August 15. Duncan's case has been set for the following Monday.

Indications are that the case of Duncan will be later in the month or go over to September, as it appears hardly possible that the case of Ball will be completed by the time set for Duncan's case to begin.

The case of Hallock has been continued until the October term of the Circuit Court.

Scouting Force Stay May Be Prolonged

(Associated Press.)

The return of the Scouting Force to the East Coast after October 1 seemed improbable yesterday, although fleet plans for the quarter beginning on that date had not been published, and high Navy officials were emphatic that plans had not yet been decided.

Observers, however, believe the Scouting Force will remain in the Pacific, where it has been since last March 9, until time for the force assembly on January 7. Fleet plans revealed in the 1933 Navy appropriation bill called for operations in the Guantanamo-Gonaives area until February 1; after that a fleet problem until February 18, and a fleet concentration at Panama February 19-March 24.

tel to find two telegrams from Chubbie, (his name for Mrs. Keith-Miller) saying I must call her—important. What can it be? Have just fixed everything up in New York and can leave in the morning for Miami, but this urgent request to telephone Chubbie has knocked me flat. God, if anything has happened to her I shall suffer as I have never suffered in my whole life. * * *

Decided to "Have It Out."

"1 a. m.—Just talked to Chubbie. Gee it was wonderful to hear her voice. I love her more than my very life. I think she needs me. If I did not think this I would give my life to make her happy."

Upon his return to Miami the diary told of an agreement reached with "Latin-American Airways" for Lancaster to fly out of Mexico money belonging to Chinese. On Tuesday February 9, his first meeting with Clarke was recorded with the statement that the writer's first impression was "very good" when Clarke agreed to "ghost" the book for Mrs. Keith-Miller.

March 4 Lancaster delayed the start of the Mexican flying venture to insist that financial provision be made for Mrs. Keith-Miller during his absence. Then at intervals as he went West the flier recorded his joy over communications from Mrs. Keith-Miller.

April 9 in Tucson, Ariz., the flier wrote that Mrs. Keith-Miller's answer to a telegram "worries me," and that he had decided to end his mental strain by "having it out."

"Felt Like a Snake."

"I adore her and want to see her happy," the entry continued. "If only she did not drink while I was away I could feel O. K. Gent says she has two personalities. Chubbie drunk and chubbie sober. I love both personalities. Is H. C. trustworthy is my problem."

Another entry was in St. Louis a few days later, where he was notified of the marriage plans of Clarke and Mrs. Keith-Miller.

Clarke wrote he "felt like a snake" for becoming engaged to the aviatrix during Lancaster's absence.

"Bill," it read, "it was a question of hell for one of us and heaven for two, or hell for two of us and a little less hell for the third." The hope was expressed that Lancaster would forgive them.

Lancaster was calm throughout the day. Occasionally he smiled and turned his face to the floor as particularly intimate parts of the letters were read.

CLEWS CAST DOUBT ON SUICIDE OF HEIR

Sheriff Held Vanishing of Bullet and Pistol Were Not Explainable.

Winston-Salem, N. C., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Several factors caused Sheriff Transou Scott, whose investigation led to indictment of Libby Holman and Ab Walker for murder of her husband, Smith Reynolds, to refuse to accept the tobacco heir's death as a suicide.

The bullet which killed Reynolds never has been found. It entered the right side of his head and ranged downward, coming out the left side.

A bullet hole was found in a screen on the sleeping porch more than 6 feet from the floor. Sheriff Scott expressed belief it would have been impossible for the bullet which killed Reynolds to have made the hole.

For several hours after Reynolds was shot, the death weapon was not found, although a search was made for it. Later it was discovered lying on a rug near the place where Reynolds fell unconscious from the bullet wound.

Stewart Warneken, manager of the Reynolds estate and one of those who had searched for the weapon, expressed belief it could not have been overlooked if at the time of the search it had been where it later was found.

Several of Libby's garments were found in Walker's room at Reynolds. Walker said she and Reynolds had been in his room earlier in the evening and that she must have left them there then.

A pair of Libby's pajamas were found under cushions on a sofa in the drawing room.

Smith Reynolds' share in the estate of his father, the late R. J. Reynolds, has been estimated in excess of $15,000,000. It is held in trust, however, and the elder Reynolds' will stipulated that his children were not to receive their parts of his estate until they were 28 years old.

HOLMAN SEEKS BAIL RIGHT FOR DAUGHTER

sary for her to face a jury for murder.

Polikoff said one reason Mr. Holman was so eager to protect his daughter from incarceration in jail was the fact that she is an expectant mother.

The whereabouts of Libby, the husky-throated blues singer, who was married to the 20-year-old tobacco fortune heir last November, remained unknown to North Carolina officers.

Sheriff Transou Scott, who has been in charge of the investigation since Reynolds was fatally shot July 6 after a gay party at the family home, said he had received no further word from Ohio authorities, who were asked to arrest her yesterday, after a grand jury had indicted her and 19-year-old Albert Walker, chum of Smith, on a murder charge.

Holman refused to inform Cincinnati officers where Libby was in seclusion, and telegraphed Winston-Salem authorities to undergo no expense in seeking her return. He declared his daughter was the victim of a "frame-up," but said he would produce her at any time her presence in Winston-Salem should be "essential."

Trial May Be in October.

Unless a special term of court is called, the case will not be brought to trial before October 3, when the next regular term is scheduled. No plans for special term had been announced tonight.

Arriving here alone after an overnight train trip from Cincinnati, Holman, who has announced he is his daughter's attorney, went direct to the courtroom after registering at a hotel.

He talked briefly with J. Erle McMichael, assistant solicitor, and then was closeted for half an hour with Solicitor Higgins.

Higgins said Holman sought to discuss the subject of arranging bond for Libby, but the solicitor said he declined to enter into a conversation regarding the matter, but informed Holman that Judge Stack was the only official who could speak with authority.

Higgins pointed out that first-degree murder is ordinarily not a bailable charge in North Carolina, although defendants sometimes successfully resort to habeas corpus proceedings to obtain their freedom.

He added, however, that it would be impossible to sue out a writ of habeas corpus for Libby until she is in custody and within the jurisdiction of North Carolina courts.

Elder Brother Sails for Home.

Meanwhile, Richard Reynolds, elder brother of Smith, sailed today from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, for the United States with the announced intention of seeing "that justice is visited upon the guilty party" if it appeared to him after his arrival here that his brother was murdered.

"I'm sure the authorities are doing everything they can to find the solution, but before I can reach any definite opinion I will have to talk with them and with my family's attorneys," he said.

Relatives admitted she had been informed of the indictment, but they continued to shield her hiding place from Cincinnati officers who sought to apprehend her for Winston-Salem authorities.

Kentucky Primary Voting Is Today

Interest Is Centered on Barkley's Race for Reelection.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The political fate of United States Senator Alben W. Barkley, Paducah, keynoter and temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention, will hold major interest tomorrow when Kentucky votes at the end of a primary campaign in which prohibition was the major issue for the first time since adoption of the eighteenth amendment.

Barkley in his campaign addresses said he was "disappointed" in results of the eighteenth amendment, promised to vote to submit repeal to the people, and pledged support to the Democratic platform. His principal opponent is former United States Senator George B. Martin, Catlettsburg, who claimed he had always opposed national prohibition and attacked Barkley for supporting the dry cause in the past.

MILITARY MEN BACK U.S. MEDICAL POLICY

House Group Hears Denial of Economies Possible Under Private Treatment.

Kansas City, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Veterans defended the present system of hospitalization for service men before the Shannon House committee today, as representatives of bankers, commission men and dyers increased the volume of complaint against Government competition.

The spokesmen of service men's organization vigorously objected to a suggestion from the medical profession yesterday that disabled veterans be cared for in private hospitals as an economy measure.

Their appearance brought to a temporary close the hearings, which will be resumed Wednesday and Thursday at Lawton, Okla., where merchants have objected to the "big Government department store" at Fort Sill, Field Artillery post.

"Dangers of Bureaucracy."

"I believe these hearings have been most successful in arousing the public to the dangers of bureaucracy," commented Chairman Joseph B. Shannon (Democrat), Missouri, on the testimony presented by the 114 witnesses appearing before him here.

"All of America has been startled at the activities of Government Bureau in business. The thing is Nation-wide. It has produced something the average citizen knows nothing about.

"Once a Government Bureau becomes intrenched, it is almost impossible to dislodge it."

The representatives of former service men's organizations offered the only indorsement of Government policy heard in the 10 days witnesses representing 16 classes of industry and profession have been testifying before the committee.

Farm Loan Act Scored.

R. S. Beachy, president of the First Mortgage Investment Co. of Kansas City, offered information gathered by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America, which he said showed the Federal Farm Loan Act had proved "expensive and disastrous."

The borrower, the lender, the Government and the investor, had suffered alike, he declared.

The National Association of Dyers and Cleaners was the final industry to offer complaint.

Thomas Dods, jr., its spokesman, declared the Government maintained seven dry-cleaning plants, operated in competition to private companies, one at the Federal Penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kans.

Inspection Bureau Decried.

Charles D. Carlisle, a commission merchant, complained that the Government Hay Inspection Bureau had cost $500,000 since its inception and had been without practical benefit.

Joe W. McQueen, wounded in the World War, told the committee that the disabled American veterans which he represented, were unalterably opposed to the contract hospital for men with service-connected disabilities. He expressed belief that veterans in such hospitals would not receive the same care and attention as private patients.

HINDENBURG SEEKS RIOT DEATH PENALTY

Submits Decree Designed to End Violence; Hitler Opposes Proposal.

Berlin, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Six weeks of bloodshed and violence among Germany's political parties has brought the government to the point of issuing a decree which would impose the full force of its power upon those responsible for the trouble.

President von Hindenburg, no stranger to battle, is understood to have prepared a decree which would impose the death penalty for extreme acts of violence. It was said that he had submitted the document to the ministry of justice with instructions to go over all its phases to insure its legal efficacy.

Because the worst of the trouble has been in East Prussia, Rudolf Diels, counselor to the Prussian ministry of the interior, was appointed special commissioner today with orders to proceed to Koenigsberg immediately to investigate the situation.

Franz Bracht, federal commissioner for Prussia, published figures this evening which showed that between June 1 and July 20, 72 persons were killed and 497 were injured in 322 political brawls in Prussia, not including Berlin.

The instigators in 203 cases, the records show, were Communists. In 75 brawls police said the National Socialists were at fault. The Reichsbanner men started 21 fights. Responsibility for the rest was not fixed.

A National Socialist newspaper in Munich printed a similar set of statistics which showed that 59 members of that party had been killed and 8,107 injured this year to date. The table placed 1931 casualties at 6,303.

Today the riots in East Prussia went on unchecked. There were street brawls at Lyck, Roessel and Deutscheylau. At Tilsit a Communists' home was peppered with bullets. At Loetzen a branch of the Reichsbank was fired upon.

There was an attack on the National Socialist headquarters at Preystadt, and at Jucha, near Lyck, a Nazi meeting place was wrecked by a bomb.

A man was killed at Chemnitz, two Nazis were seriously wounded at Elbing and a police inspector was shot at Beuthen.

Reports from Zeickau said 40 men were implicated by police through the discovery of Reichsbanner ammunition dumps in four neighboring villages.

At Hamburg the National Socialist newspaper Hamburger Tageblatt was suspended for five days for inciting to violence.

In the face of all these troubles Ernst Siehr, Democratic Governor of East Prussia since 1920, resigned this morning.

Adolf Hitler's Nazi party issued a veiled warning that such a decree as President Von Hindenburg is considering would do more harm than good. They declared that discipline was being maintained among the Nazi storm troopers now, but that they could guarantee nothing if the government adopted heavy-handed measures.

Meantime, Capt. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Hitler's political adviser, conferred with Foreign Minister von Neurath. It was assumed that they discussed the conditions under which the Hitlerites would participate in the government.

Interest to Cover Farm Loan Losses

Carl Williams Says Board Is Dealing With 4,000 Cooperatives.

Durham, N. H., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Carl Williams, vice chairman of the Federal Farm Board, told the American Institute of Cooperation at its closing session today that losses on Farm Board loans to agricultural cooperatives would be more than offset by interest collections.

These loans, he said, totaling more than $400,000,000 distributed in 46 States and dealing directly or indirectly with 4,000 cooperatives, undoubtedly would bring some losses to the Government, but he assured the cooperative leaders that there was every indication interest on the loans would exceed total losses.

Williams devoted his remarks today to answering criticisms of the Farm Board and its policies, expressed by speakers at previous sessions of the institute's five-day meeting. He denied the board placed undue emphasis upon centralization, that it attempted to dominate cooperatives and that it had sought to achieve national unity at the expense of economic efficiency.

PLEA FOR LIBERAL ECONOMY RULE TAKEN TO WHITE HOUSE

postoffice committee will look with favor upon any needed corrective legislation that may be required to soften the effects of the economy bill when Congress is reassembled in December," he wrote Mr. Hoover.

"Meanwhile, I sincerely hope you will insist upon a reasonably humane interpretation of the law by the Postoffice Department."

Chairman Mead held it "most unfortunate" that administration of the furlough plan, particularly in certain branches of the postal service, has not been in accordance with the President's ideas. The greatest number of complaints, he said, are coming from city and village letter carriers.

"There is no uniformity in the application of the furlough in these offices, and many postmasters have inaugurated fanciful plans of their own," he wrote the President.

Substitutes Not Hired.

"Carriers and clerks, for example, are furloughed one hour or even a fraction of an hour when the time is of no benefit to them. You will agree that this is not the intent of the law, and such absurd practices should be stopped at once.

"There is much disappointment among postal substitutes, numbering 25,000, over the fact that work opportunities have not increased as was expected. This is due to a restrictive policy and a misinterpretation of the law, under which the services of the substitutes are not utilized to the extent possible in conformity with the law's provisions."

Finally, Representative Mead charged that the Postoffice Department comptroller is applying 8 1-3 per cent pay cuts to substitutes, whether or not their annual salary is over $1,000. The economy act exempted salaries under $1,000.

Concluding, the House committee chairman told the President:

"I would summarize my suggestions, first, that you insist upon a more satisfactory administration of the economy bill in the Bureau of the First Assistant Postmaster General, to minimize its hardships instead of making them more harsh, particularly the elimination of furloughs of less than one day, unless at the employes' option.

Other Recommendations.

"Second, that substitutes be employed on Sundays and holidays and on overtime work as was contemplated by the law and that no pay deductions be made from these substitutes receiving $1,000 or less during the fiscal year.

Third, that postal employes be given their leave privileges for military training to which they are entitled by law and in accord with the Comptroller General's rulings."

Comptroller General McCarl yesterday delayed action upon the Civil Service request for reversal of his opinion requiring that "legislative" furloughs be taken before any "administrative" payless leave is ordered. The fate of the five-day week in Government hangs on his decision.

Meanwhile he issued a ruling ordering pay deductions from civilian employes who are furnished their subsistence and quarters. He held deductions must be made not only for cash income, but for value received in the form of subsistence and quarters.

Capt. Doyle O. Hickey, superintendent of Park Police, disclosed yesterday that some of the guards who patrol the Government buildings face payless furloughs of nearly four months, due to curtailed appropriations.

BRAZIL FORCE SEEKS TO TURN REBEL LINE

Flanking Movement Begun as Federals Cross River and Take Town.

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Federal forces operating against the Sao Paulo rebels reported today that they had improved their position on the northeastern front by crossing the Parahyba River and that an intense conflict was going on in hilly country in which the loyal infantrymen were being assisted by artillery, tanks and airplanes.

The purpose of this action is to turn the rebel flank. Gen. Waldomiro Lima sent word that his federal forces had captured Caputera, north of Faxina, after sixteen hours' fighting.

Managua, Nicaragua, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Numerous skirmishes between National Guard patrols and insurgents were reported by guard headquarters yesterday. Bloody trails left by the insurgents indicated that their forces had suffered some casualties. No guard losses were reported. A combined Guardia patrol from Leon and El Sauce attacked an insurgent camp near Valide Del Ocotal and the outlaws fled after brief fighting. A small insurgent group was dispersed near Totogalpa by another patrol. Marine Sergt. Harry E. Kipp, of Winnebago, Minn., commanding a Guardia patrol out of Jicaro, engaged an insurgent band on August 2 west of El Chipote, former Sandino stronghold, dispersing the group and capturing provisions and other supplies.

San Juan, Puerto Rico, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Senator Santiago Iglesias, pioneer union labor leader of the island and formerly a prominent official of the American Federationof Labor, has been nominated by the Socialist party for the post of resident commissioner at Washington.

Huaraz, Peru, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Five rebels have been executed by a firing squad, bringing the total number put to death for participation in the Trujillo and Huaraz revolts to 48. The others were executed July 27. Maj. Paulo Lopez Mindreau, leader of the Huaraz movement, two civilians and two police officers were shot to death. Five other rebels, now fugitives from justice, were also given death sentences, 15 sentenced to prison and 27 acquitted.

Havana, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The warehouses of a local camera manufacturing company on Neptuno street were burned yesterday. Officials said the loss of $80,000 was covered by insurance. A scarcity of water handicapped firemen. Henry Shaw, the manager of the warehouses, was taken into custody pending an investigation.

Rio de Janeiro, Aug. 5 (U. P.).—Storms of unprecedented magnitude have been sweeping over central Brazil the last three days, causing great property and crop damage as well as several deaths. In Rio de Janeiro high winds of almost cyclonic proportions toppled trees and damaged buildings in the tenement districts. Heavy rains accompanied the wind.

Banes, Cuba, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Rita Proenza y Ebra, a cousin of Capridad Proenza, who has been sought for some time in connection with anti-government activities, was found drowned this morning in the river near here. Rita and her sister, Julia, were injured last month when a bomb exploded in their home. Caridad has eluded the police for several days, although they announced they wanted her merely for questioning.

Medellin, Colombia, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—President Olaya Herrera arrived today by air from Bogota to open a fair and inaugurate the Colombian Olympic games.

COCHRAN WILL BARS SHARING BY WALSKA

Opera Singer, Former Wife, Has Trust Fund; Cathedral Gets $1,000,000.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Alexander Smith Cochran, carpet manufacturer, philanthropist and yachtsman, who died June 20, 1929, at Saranac Lake, N. Y., left a net estate of $38,977,237, a transfer tax appraisal filed today disclosed.

Most of the estate was left to relatives, and the philanthropist left specific directions in his will that his former wife, now Ganna Walska McCormick, "shall not share in any part of my estate." Another paragraph in his will directed that in the event he should have failed to dispose of any property and "the said Ganna Walska McCormick would by reason of such failure be entitled to share therein, then I hereby expressly give, devise and bequeath such property or interest therein to my next of kin, according to the statutes of distribution of the State of New York."

Cochran's three sisters and two brothers each received $1,000,000. They included Anna C. Ewing, of Yonkers, N. Y.; Elinor C. Stewart, of Plainfield, N. J., and William P. Cochran, of New York and Baltimore.

Each of sixteen nieces and nephews received $500,000. They include William F. Cochran, jr., Baltimore, Md.; Alex Smith Cochran, Gwendolyn C. Cochran and Anne W. Cochran, all of Baltimore.

The Protestant Episcopal Cathedral Foundation of the District of Columbia received $1,000,000 for its College of Preachers, which the philanthropist founded.

The will explained his special provision that his former wife receive none of his estate was due to his having "heretofore, by written agreement, made provisions" for her support. This agreement set up a $300,000 trust fund for Mrs. McCormick with the Bankers Trust Co., and was drawn May 1, 1922.

Right Accorded Walker To Reply to Seabury

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The Walker-Seabury debate over "Jimmy's" fitness to be mayor of New York City today reached the surrebuttal stage, which the law calls the last word in an argument.

Walker asked Gov. Roosevelt for a copy of Samuel Seabury's rebuttal and the right to answer the counsel to the Hofstadter committee. The mayor said there were "glaring discrepancies, misrepresentations and evident distortion of facts and the record" in Mr. Seabury's last document. Mr. Roosevelt sent the mayor a copy of Seabury's rebuttal and asked him to have a surrebuttal back by next Monday.

MAN SOUGHT AS CAR UPSET INJURES GIRL

Former Washington Nurse Is Gravely Hurt by Crash in Rock Creek Park.

While a former Washington nurse lies critically injured in Emergency Hospital, United States Park Police are conducting an extensive search for a man companion, who disappeared after the automobile in which the two were riding plunged over a steep embankment at the foot of Blagden avenue in Rock Creek Park, last night.

Miss Thelma Ruth Digman, 20, a former nurse at St. Elizabeths Hospital, was seriously injured when the machine overturned in the creek after leaping a 10-foot embankment. She was thrown several yards from the wreckage into a deep portion of Rock Creek.

Witnesses declared the machine was traveling at a high rate of speed and could be heard for a distance of several blocks. Persons living in the vicinity of Sixteenth street and Blagden avenue said the car roared into the park, almost turning over rounding the corner.

Failed to Make Turn.

Police said the machine failed to make the turn into Beach drive at the foot of Blagden avenue, and plunged over the bank. Policeman Thomas P. Fogarty, of the Park Police, was the first to reach the scene.

He said Miss Digman was lying in the creek face down. Her companion, he said, was attempting to make his way to the road through deep underbrush. Fogarty overtook him and brought him back to the demolished machine.

Before Miss Digman could be placed in a passing car to be taken to the hospital, Fogarty said, the man attempted again to gain his freedom.

The policeman finally placed the pair in an automobile and went to Emergency Hospital. Miss Digman was unconscious on arrival and was unable to explain the accident. Her companion refused to discuss the affair.

Gives Two Names.

En route to the hospital the man said he was Wayne March, of the Park Lane Apartments, Twenty-first street and Pennsylvania avenue northwest. He later said his name was Paul Keough, of 3333 P street northwest.

Policeman Fogarty aided physicians in moving Miss Digman into the hospital. He turned to locate the man, only to find he had disappeared. A search of the hospital grounds proved futile and he was still missing at an early hour this morning.

Miss Digman was found to have suffered a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries. Only recently, it was learned, had she resigned her position as nurse to return to her home in Montrose, W. Va.

Police discovered the machine in which the pair were riding was listed to a man living near Twenty-third and H streets northwest. He could not be located.

Writ Hits Redistricting Program in Mississippi

New Orleans, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A preliminary injunction which in effect invalidates the Mississippi congressional redistricting act, was issued here late today by a special three-judge Federal court.

The injunction will tie up the congressional election machinery in the primary on August 23. The election of the States' seven representatives will, under the injunction, be made from the State at large.

CAR THAT PLUNGED OVER EMBANKMENT

B. E. F. REAR GUARD GETS CITY GASOLINE

Johnstown Also Gives Each Driver $1; Gay Legion Hosts Welcomed.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—All dressed up in the national colors, Johnstown watched two strangely different parades tonight as it turned its back on the departing shabby bonus army and welcomed groups of the American Legion.

No gypsy caravan could be more fantastic than the procession of rickety trucks and autos that rolled out of the dismal camp to the mountain highways.

Two days of impatient delay ended with the announcement that every tank would be filled with gas and every driver given a dollar and ordered to move on.

A few protested, some laughed, but the majority accepted the city's "last offer" and cars, battered and dirty and piled high with bundles, bedding and other belongings, began rolling out of the city.

Legion Is Applauded.

A few blocks away legion drum and bugle corps, here for "Legion Day," paraded in gaudy uniforms to martial strains and the applause of townsfolk.

There was no confusion as Johnstown closed its doors on the bonus expedition. Mayor Eddie McCloskey went to the camp that had been named Camp McCloskey in his honor and told the 1,000 remaining veterans and their families that gasoline and a dollar apiece would be given them.

He said he would continue his efforts to obtain trains for those who came from the Eastern States other than Pennsylvania.

"I don't want you to have to ride in box cars," he shouted.

"Bring on the box cars," came from hundreds of throats.

There was a wild scramble for gasoline as more than a half-hundred veterans who brought their own cars to the squalid camp sought to be the first to leave, but there was no disorder.

Raids on Food.

McCloskey, who still hopes to obtain a Pennsylvania Railroad train to aid in completing the evacuation, said he would take drastic steps if the delay continues and the veterans refuse to leave. In groups of twos and threes, some left the camp today on foot.

Hoke Smith, director of camp supplies, was told by the B. E. F. field staff that no more food will be forthcoming after today. The commissary was depleted after last night's raids, when it was broken into several times and much food taken by reveling veterans.

Police reported many veterans are remaining in Johnstown after leaving the camp. A dozen or more were found in cheap rooming houses. Others, protesting they had missed the evacuation trains, asked for transportation. McCloskey said all of these will be sent out of town.

585 Reach St. Louis On Bonus Special Train

St. Louis, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A special train carrying returning members of the bonus army, bound for St. Louis and points West and Southwest, arrived here today. The conductor said it carried 566 men, twelve women and seven children, a total of 585 passengers. As the men left the train, tired, unwashed and dazed, the question was raised, "Where do we go from here?"

At first no one seemed to know whether the men had transportation beyond St. Louis, but an arrangement was made between Chief of Police Gerk and the Missouri Pacific, whereby the railroad would transport the veterans not living in St. Louis, to Kansas City.

600 Veterans Sheltered In Chicago on Way West

Chicago, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Chicago sheltered 600 homeward bound bonus marchers tonight. Awaiting transportation westward, the men were bivouacked in a deserted rooming house at the edge of the "Gold Coast." None was hungry. Sausages, bread and coffee were provided.

A second trainload pulled in at noon, bringing 300 men and five women from Johnstown, Pa., where they camped after being ejected from Washington. The first contingent arrived last night. No others were expected immediately. Most of the veterans here are from the Pacific Coast and the Southwest.

$10,000 Damages Asked for Fall.

John M. McLachlen, 5917 Fourth street northwest, yesterday brought suit against the District of Columbia and Jacob and Jennie Kohner, of 919 F street northwest for $10,000. McLachlen claimed he fell on the door of a sloping coal chute last March in front of a piece of property owned by the Kohners.

Sunshine, 9, Forgotten Man in Camp of B. E. F.

Johnstown, Pa., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Just when they thought they had everything straightened out in evacuation of the bonus army camp tonight, up popped "Sunshine."

A 9-year-old Negro, who said his name is Clark and that he lives in Chicago, was rescued and carried along after he was found in the middle of disorders in Washington.

He was turned over to authorities in Washington, but when the expedition arrived here, they found him a stowaway in a truck.

Munching sandwiches and candy heaped on him by crowds in the City Hall tonight, "Sunshine," in rags, said his father was with the expedition when it left Chicago, but he hasn't seen him since. His mother is dead, he said, and he knows no other kin. Members of the veterans' official staff are pondering the case.

SECOND B. E. F. RIOT VICTIM BURIED HERE

Three Children of Marchers Remaining at Hospitals; Parents Sought.

Three children, bereft of their bonus-marcher parents, were still in Children's Hospital yesterday as local and bonus marching veterans attended the military burial in Arlington National Cemetery of Eric Carlson, of Oakland, Calif., veteran fatally wounded in the riots last week.

Third Cavalry troops giving the rifle salute and sounding of taps by an Army bugler closed the rites for Carlson. Members of posts of several veterans' organizations attended and the colors of a number of others were in evidence.

Glassford at Funeral.

The burial in Arlington was at the request of Dr. John Carlson, nearest relative of the slain veteran, who lives in Oakland. Commander Waters, of the bonus legions, was a member of the cortege from a local undertaking parlor where brief services were also held. Brig. Gen. Pelham D. Glassford, superintendent of police, also attended the funeral. He said he attended as a legionnaire and not in official capacity.

The children who are separated from their parents all have recovered from attacks of dysentery suffered during encampment here of the bonus marchers. They are Raymond Hauser, 2, son of a Buffalo couple; Theresa Smith, 18 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Smith, whose only known address is Tennessee, and Janet Reamer, 18 months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reamer, whose known address is also only Tennessee.

Parents Are Sought.

Authorities are seeking to get in touch with the parents of the trio, but last night had heard nothing. Tenants of the Schuyler Arms, an apartment house here, have adopted Harold Hauser, 3-year-old brother of the child at the hospital.

Two other bonus army babies are seriously ill in the hospital. They are 2-month-old Bernard Myers, suffering from a digestive disturbance, and William Cardoza, jr., 3 years old, ill with dysentery since July 13. Parents of both of these children are here awaiting their recovery. Another child, Catherine Belt, is recovering from an attack of typhoid. Her father is also in the city. Several other children have recently been discharged to their parents.

Edmund Koennel's Rites to Be Today

St. John's Cadets Will Be Pallbearers for Funeral of Comrade.

Fellow cadets at St. John's College will act as pallbearers and form a guard of honor at the funeral today of Edmund L. Koennel, 18 years old, who died Thursday at Walter Reed Hospital from an illness which developed while he was attending the C. M. T. C. course at Fort George G. Meade, Md.

The services will be held at the residence, 902 Webster street northwest, this morning at 9:15 o'clock, with burial in St. Mary's Cemetery. One of the cadets will sound taps at the grave.

The youth was a senior at St. John's. He was in line for a cadet officer's commission this year and was popular with his teachers and fellow students. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Koennel; three brothers, Emil, Ludwig, jr., and Friedrich, and two sisters, Elfrieda and Emma.

MRS. C. M. REMEY'S RITES TO BE MONDAY

Socially Prominent Capital Matron Shot Herself to Death, Is Verdict.

Episcopal funeral services will be held for Mrs. Charles Mason Remey, socially prominent Washington matron, who ended her own life early yesterday morning. The services will be held at 11 a. m. Monday from the Remey residence, 2440 Massachusetts avenue.

Interment will be in Rock Creek Cemetery. Other details of the services will be announced later.

A verdict of suicide was issued in Mrs. Remey's death yesterday by Deputy Coroner A. Magruder MacDonald. Mrs. Remey was found wounded in the bedroom of her palatial home by her husband, well known Washington architect, author and lecturer.

When Mr. Remey went to the telephone to call a private physician, his wife shot herself a second time. Examination by Dr. MacDonald found that the first shot only inflicted a scalp wound. She died in Emergency Hospital an hour after her removal there from effects of the second wound.

Rites to Be Today For Mrs. Fitzhugh

Service for Venerable Resident Will Be Held in Pulaski County.

Mrs. Champe Summerfield Fitzhugh, 84 years old, will be buried at 1 o'clock this afternoon at Newbern Cemetery, Pulaski County, Va. Funeral services will be conducted at the grave by the Rev. M. A. Stevenson, of Pulaski. Mrs. Fitzhugh died at her home, 713 Nineteenth street northwest, Washington.

She was a descendant of two of the oldest families in Virginia and Kentucky, the Grigsby and Garrard families. Her parents had large holdings in Virginia but were impoverished by the Civil War. She was born in Centerville, Va., in 1848, but came to Washington to make her home in 1907. She married R. G. Fitzhugh, who for many years was a commissioner of internal revenue in Pulaski.

She is survived by ten children, her daughter, Champe Geraldine Fitzhugh, with whom she lived in Washington; Mrs. Edward Ferneyhough, Mrs. M. L. Eggleston, Mrs. George P. Grant, Mrs. R. H. Barton, Miss Matilda Washington Fitzhugh, Mrs. George Winfree, Mrs. W. S. Barton, R. G. Fitzhugh, jr., and William Lee Fitzhugh.

M. M. Flannery Rites Conducted

Federal Trade Commission Official Is Buried at Mount Olivet.

Funeral services for M. Markham Flannery, director of trade practice conferences for the Federal Trade Commission, who died Wednesday following an illness of several weeks, were held yesterday at the family residence, 2944 Upton street northwest, followed by mass at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament. Burial took place at Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Honorary pallbearers were Commissioners C. W. Hunt and Garland S. Ferguson, of the Federal Trade Commission; Otis B. Johnson, secretary of the commission; Judge Robert E. Healy, chief counsel, and Ishmael Burton, chief examiner; former Senator Henry C. Hansbrough; Henry P. Fowler, special attorney for the United States Chamber of Commerce, and W. J. Parker, New York.

Active pallbearers were James A. Horton, Charles M. Brown, William E. Forbes, Stephen C. Van Fleet, James J. Laughlin and Denis E. Connell.

CHARLES W. GRAY DIES.

Funeral services will be held today at his former home in Etchison, Md., for Charles W. Gray, prominent farmer who died yesterday at the age of 78. The services will be held at 2 o'clock, after which the body will be buried in the Sykesville Cemetery. The Rev. John A. Grose, pastor of the Etchison M. E. Church will officiate.

Mr. Gray died of heart trouble, which had confined him to his bed since last April. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emily Grayson Gray, a son, William, and a brother, Joseph Lee Gray.

Dr. Goode, Chicago Professor, Dies.

IDENTIFYING OF BANK RAID SUSPECT FAILS

Victims Unable to Pick Man Taken in Philadelphia From Line-Up.

Witnesses to the robberies of the two branches of the Washington Mechanics Savings Bank failed to identify Edward Dee, of Philadelphia, Pa., who was returned here yesterday from that city as a suspect in the daring daylight robberies.

The 20 or more witnesses in the line-up room at headquarters last night also failed to identify Edward Workman, of Columbia, S. C., in connection with any of the recent crimes.

Workman was charged several days ago with white slavery and threatening a witness and was held for $3,500 bond. Yesterday he managed to raise the bond and was released. He was rearrested as he stepped out of Commissioner Turnage's office by Detective Sergt. Dennis Murphy and held for investigation. He was later released again in custody of his attorney.

Dee is being held and will be viewed by other witnesses in an endeavor to clear up several important cases that have not been solved.

Secretary Adams Starts For Vacation on Yachts

(Associated Press).

Landlocked most of the time by his duties as Secretary of the Navy, Charles Francis Adams yesterday headed for the seashore and the wheel of a yacht. He plans to spend most of his two weeks' vacation at Minot, Mass., and the chances are that he will be steering a sailboat day in and day out until he takes his place at his desk again.

The secretary is regarded as one of the best handlers of racing yachts in the country. He was skipper of the Resolute in 1920 when America repulsed the perennial challenge of the late Sir Thomas Lipton.

Shanghaing Here Alleged by Man

Declares He Was Herded Out of City on Truck of Bonus Marchers.

Greensburg, Pa., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A man who told a county official he is Lester Werl, 35, a time checker for the Columbia Broadcasting Co. in New York, complained that he was shanghaied Monday by Washington police, who mistook him for a bonus marcher.

The man told County Commissioner Clarence H. Pershing that he was on his vacation and went to see the deserted bonus camp in the Capital. Suddenly, he said, he was seized, put on a truck and sent westward with other bonus stragglers.

The man said he remained on the truck until it reached Jennerstown, Pa. He came from there to Greensburg and, after telling his story, continued on to Pittsburgh.

Free Mailing by Mills Attacked by Costello

(Associated Press.)

John F. Costello, Democratic national committeeman for the District of Columbia, yesterday issued a statement saying Secretary Mills of the Treasury is guilty of misuse of the postal franking privilege "in a moral and economic sense if not actually in violation of law."

Costello said a series of "popgun political speeches and statements" by Mills had been mailed out under free franking privileges at the expense of taxpayers.

TELEGRAPHIC DISPATCHES

Uniontown, Pa., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—For killing a woodpecker she cooked to feed her large family, Mrs. Anna Chess, 36, of Fairchance, is serving a 20-day sentence in jail. The woman is charged with violating the State game laws. The bird was a flicker, protected by the State.

Reno, Nev., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Mrs. Julia Calhern, known on the stage as Julia Lydig Hoyt, the society actress, filed suit for divorce today against Louis Calhern, of New York. She charges cruelty. Mrs. Emily Alexander Markle Bannard, New York society woman, filed suit against William Newell Bannard, jr., on grounds of cruelty. Mrs. Mary Bancroft Badger filed suit against Sherwin C. Badger, of 152 Brite avenue, Scarsdale, N. Y., on grounds of cruelty. Both are listed in the New York social register.

Seattle, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—One woman was wounded in the eye with a hatpin here today in a disturbance growing out of the strike of about 1,200 women laundry workers. A group of girls attempted to force their way through union picket lines and a fight enaued. Laundry operators said the girls were unemployed and seeking work, but union officials described them as strike breakers.

Hastings, Minn., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Grabbing a gun from the holster of Rudolph Fischer, deputy sheriff, one of two men he was questioning shot and killed the officer today. Fischer had arrested the pair as robber suspects and brought them to the jail office. The two backed out the door, stole an automobile and fled. They were caught later by a posse.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The best opportunity in several years to see brilliant shooting stars comes Thursday night, August 11, after midnight. The annual shower of perseid meteors is due that night, with possibilities that it may strike the night before or after. Expectations of a bigger show this year are not based on more meteors, but on less interference by moonlight. The moon will set about midnight August 11.

MRS. VIOLETT'S RITES.

Funeral Services Will Be Conducted Tomorrow For Lorton Woman.

Funeral services for Mrs. Annie Violett, 67, of Lorton, Va., wife of Milton P. Violett, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Cranford Memorial Church at Lorton. Burial will be in Cranford Cemetery.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Violett is survived by four children, Claude Violett, Ellis Violett and Miss Edith Violett of Lorton, and Mrs. Bessie Bender of Baltimore.

MORE RARE BEASTS PRESENTED TO ZOO

Graceful Mangabies, Which Are Monkeys, and Ugliest Snakes Arrive.

The extensive collection in the National Zoological Park was augmented yesterday by a shipment of West African animals and reptiles, the gift of Warren Buck, noted big game hunter.

Two gabboon vipers, reputedly most repellant of reptiles, are among the new arrivals, as are a pair of crested mangabies, most graceful of monkeys, a Colobus monkey and other specimens.

Four feet long and two inches wide, the gabboon viper is fantastically horrible in appearance. A flat enormously grotesque head surmounts the vicious, writhing body. Brooding, yellow eyes gleam deeply set from the unwieldy head.

The gabboon viper lurks in the desert sands of West Africa, only its loathsome head protruding. Rivalling the cobra in deadliness the large flat head is mainly constructed of glands storing reservoirs of deadly poison. Its bite means certain death. The color scheme of the body, an interweaving of purple and gray, blends with the desert and provides a natural camouflage.

The mangabies, or Diana monkeys, are seldom seen in captivity. They are small with black beards, speckled with white. Colobus monkeys are very difficult to capture. They live almost permanently in the jungle foliage, feeding on buds and twigs, and rarely coming to the ground.

A pair of mangrove snakes were also received at the Zoo yesterday. They were captured in Sumatra. Jet black reptiles, spotted with yellow, the mangroves are only mildly poisonous.

Vatican Tightens Rules In Matrimonial Courts

Vatican City, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—More rigorous procedure in diocesan matrimonial courts was ordered today by Cardinal Lega, prefect of the congregation of sacraments, in a circular sent to bishops all over the world. The scope of the order is to give the ecclestiastical tribunals the same dignity now held by similar civil courts.

The cardinal ordered the bishops to send to the congregation of sacraments the names of those composing the tribunals, a list of fees, a list of cases introduced, pending and disposed of, with an indication of the decision, and a report on how the "defender of the marriage bond" exercised his office.

NEUTRAL'S NOTE HELD NO CHACO WAR BAN

Paraguay informed the United States and eighteen other neutral American nations tonight that she agreed to suspend hostilities with Bolivia on the basis of the positions held by the armed forces of the two nations in the Gran Chaco territory June 1.

The government is willing to submit the conflict to arbitration or any other friendly solution as soon as truce has been arranged.

An official bulletin said Bolivan activity in the Chaco region was increasing. A Bolivian patrol, consisting of five of six men, fired on an outpost of Fort Presidente Ayala this afternoon, but the attack was easily repulsed, the bulletin said. Other sectors were reported quiet.

Fort Presidente Ayala is less than 190 miles northwest of Asuncion and is one of eleven Paraguayan and eleven Bolivian forts grouped within a 50-mile radius in the southern Chaco.

Another official communique said the garrison at Bahianegra, the northernmost river port, "serenely awaits the hour of test and only wishes the invader would attack. Paraguayans may be sure that the officers and men there will do their duty."

Popular feeling in Paraguay, judging from public expressions, is that the Chaco question must be settled now with or without war.

(Associated Press.)

The United States and four other neutrals negotiating peace in the Paraguayan-Bolivian dispute over the Chaco yesterday rejected Bolivia's proposal for an armistice that would allow her to continue to occupy Paraguayan positions taken since the outbreak of hostilities June 15.

The neutrals reiterated to Bolivia the stand taken August 3 by the nineteen American governments in collective notes to Bolivia and Paraguay refusing to recognize territorial gains through conquest. Bolivia's desire to maintain newly won positions was said to be unacceptable and Bolivia again was requested to end hostilities on the neutrals' terms.

A note similar to that sent August 2 to Bolivia was dispatched yesterday to Paraguay.

Bolivian Attacks League's Attitude

Criticizes Difference in Stands on Far East and Chaco Fighting.

Geneva, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—A sharp contrast between the attitude of members of the League of Nations toward the Chinese-Japanese warfare and toward the Gran Chaco conflict in South America was alleged tonight in a statement by Adolphe Costa du Rels, Bolivian representative.

"The great powers had special interests in the Chinese-Japanese affair," Rels said, but they considered the dispute between Bolivia and Paraguay a "more academic case."

"There was a marked increase in their enthusiasm for the spirit of peaceful solution," he said, recalling that France and other powers who wavered on the Far Eastern crisis had quickly made stern representations to the small republics of Bolivia and Paraguay.

Villamin Declined Vice Governorship

Filipino Writer Verifies Reports of Offer to Important Post.

San Francisco, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Vicente Villamin, Filipino writer who favors dominion status for the Philippines rather than independence, today confirmed reports he had been offered the vice governorship of the Philippines, and had declined.

"The position is an important one, but * * * I believe I can be more useful to the Philippines by being outside the government," Villamin said.

Villamin conferred here today with civic and business leaders. They discussed the Philippine situation, particularly in view of the legislation pending before Congress. The Filipino leader said the vice governorship had been tendered him just before he left Washington July 19, and he had immediately asked that his name not be considered. Villamin goes from here to Los Angeles to cheer the Philippines team at the Olympic games, and then will return East.

57 Killed in Japanese Mine.

Tokyo, Aug. 6 (U.P.).—Fifty-seven persons, including six students, were killed yesterday in a coal mine explosion at Sorachi, Hokkaido Province, a dispatch to the newspaper Asahi said today. Fifty bodies were recovered today. The students were studying mining.

National Biscuit Sued by Kellogg

Violation of Antitrust Law Charged in Action for $3,000,000.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The National Biscuit Co. was accused of violating the Sherman antitrust law in a $3,000,000 suit filed in Federal court today by the Kellogg Co., makers of health foods.

The Kellogg Co., a Battle Creek, Mich., concern, set forth, in its complaint that it had "endeavored fairly and in good faith" to exercise its lawful right to enter into the manufacture and sale of shredded wheat, but had been impeded by "coercive methods" allegedly employed by the defendant company.

This situation had existed, the complaint continued, since the expiration of patents under which the Shredded Wheat Co., a National Biscuit subsidiary, had manufactured that product. National Biscuit recently brought suit in Wilmington, Del., alleging that the Kellogg concern had adopted unfair practices in the marketing of a product it called similar to shredded wheat.

The plaintiff attested it had been damaged to the extent of about $1,000,000 and took advantage of the provisions of the Sherman act to sue for triple that amount.

MUSIC SUPERVISOR DROPPED IN FAIRFAX

Elimination of Position Is Reaffirmed by County School Board.

The Fairfax County School Board, meeting yesterday in the courthouse at Fairfax, Va., reaffirmed its previous action not to employ a music supervisor for the elementary schools during the coming school year. This action was taken following numerous protests from citizens and various civic organizations.

The board also voted to discontinue the teaching of modern languages in the high schools. Second year French only will be taught in the schools this fall where first year French was taught last year. This was done so that those who had completed the first year could meet the State requirements for modern language.

Many requests for school bus service and extension of existing routes and individual requests for transportation to various schools were considered. These requests were referred to the school trustee from the district where the request was made for investigation and report.

It was reported that the additions to the Fairview School at Fairfax Station and the Lee-Jackson School at Cameron were practically completed and would be ready for the opening of school next month. The board authorized the construction of steps at the Baileys Cross Roads School according to plans which have been under consideration for some time. The dental clinics which have been conducted in the county schools for the past two years will be continued through next year as an appropriation of $500 was made to help cover the cost of the dental inspection service. The work will be performed by a dental clinician from the State health department's offices at Richmond.

Mrs. Louise Trice, who has served as the secretary to Division Superintendent W. T. Woodson for the past several years, submitted her resignation yesterday, which was accepted, effective September 1.

Arlington Reports 243 Deeds in July

County Clerk's Office Also Discloses Volume of Other Business.

In July 243 deeds were reported in the Arlington County Clerk's Office, according to the report made yesterday. The tax to the State amounted to $801.50.

Other items in the report are: Wills, 4, State tax, $24.50; chancery suits, 10, State tax, 15; actions at law, 7, State tax, $14. Fines collected for violation of the prohibition law during the month amounted to $195, with costs totaling $140.50. In cases other than prohibition fines amounted to $55, with the costs totaling $187.90.

Delinquent real estate taxes collected during the month and going to the State amounted to $86.90; to the county, $749.32. There were fifteen marriage licenses issued during the month.

Club Proprietor Fined $50 on Liquor Charge

Benjamin Morris, proprietor of the Forestville Club at Forestville, Md., was fined $50 in Marlboro police court on charges of possession of liquor, found last Sunday in a raid on the place. Prince Georges County police said they found a 5-gallon can of alcohol, twelve pints of whisky and a half barrel of beer.

Frederick Radtke, of Oakland, Md., asked for a jury trial when he was arraigned in the same court on charges of possession of three quarts of liquor.

Business Women's Club To Visit Ivakota Farms

The Business and Professional Women's Club, of Alexandria, will omit the regular supper meeting at the George Mason Hotel, for August, but on Tuesday next will visit Ivakota Farms, at Clifton, as the guests of a club member, Mrs. Reba Barrett Smith.

Automobiles will leave from the George Mason Hotel at 5, 5:30 and 6 o'clock. Mrs. Charles M. Shepperson, club president, is making reservations and arranging for the automobiles, and all members going on the trip are aske dto communicate with her.

Band Concert Arranged By Alexandria Masons

Arrangements are being made by the members of the Masonic fraternity in Alexandria for a concert Friday night, August 19, by the band and glee club of the Masonic Home of Virginia, Richmond. The concert will be in Maury School auditorium.

The committee in charge is made up of members of the Masonic lodges, the Eastern Star and the Scottish Rite bodies.

Indiana Bank Robbed Of $5,500 by 5 Men

Union City, Ind., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The Commercial Bank & Trust Co. here was robbed today of between $5,500 and $6,000 by a band of five men. The car in which the men fled toward Lima, Ohio, bore Ohio license tags.

Bethesda Fireman Suspended.

William H. Hartley, fire marshal of the Bethesda Fire Department, was suspended from duty on June 12, the day after he is alleged to have been insubordinate at a fire in Mohican Hills, officials of the department disclosed yesterday. Hartley's place has been temporarily filled by John Murdock, and the appointment is expected to be made permanent at the next meeting of the fire board.

$1,500 Bail Is Set In Hotel Dry Raid

Federal Agents Say They Found Much Liquor in Marlboro Place.

George Dooli, arrested by Federal dry agents when they raided a Marlboro, Md., hotel early yesterday, was held in bond of $1,500 yesterday afternoon after a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Harry Ambercrombie in Baltimore.

Dooli was the only one arrested by the agents, who said they found 60 pints of whisky, a quantity of gin, and several cases of beer in the hotel. The raid, made by a crew from Baltimore, was conducted on a search warrant sworn out after a pint of $4 whisky was purchased at the hotel on July 30.

After the Marlboro raid, the agents went on to North Beach, Md., and arrested John Anglo and Stephen Mavars. Anglo was charged with sale, possession and manufacture after a small alleged home-brew plant was found in his restaurant. In Mavars' place, the agents said, they found fourteen cases of beer and a quantity of whisky.

CHEAPER MEAT CUTS NUTRITIOUS AS FOOD

Attractive Dishes Also Can Be Made From This Useful Item in Diet.

Hint of the fall in the air brings new desire for meat dishes. Homemakers who read the Saturday Food Page will find that meat has been greatly reduced in price in the last few months and meat, therefore, is a cheap and most useful item in the diet.

There are many ways in which to fix meat and it will be found from a little study of the subject that sometimes the cheaper cuts of meat are just as nutritious and attractive as food as the higher priced cuts.

The winner of book and honorable mentions this week were as follows:

STUFFED PEAR SALAD.
(Awarded Book Prize.)

Peel and core small ripe pears and marinate in lemon juice diluted with ice water while preparing the stuffing.

This is made by mixing (Sanitary) cream cheese with half the quantity of chopped pecans or walnuts. Season with salt or paprika. Drain and fill the pears, top each with a rosette of cream cheese pressed through a pastry tube, and garnish with fleck of allspice. Sprinkle the pears lightly with paprika and arrange on slices of pineapple with lettuce.

DAISY WARD.
Brandywine, Md.

POTATO PANCAKES.
(Honorable Mention.)

2 cups of grated potatoes (Sanitary)
2 eggs (Sanitary)
1 tablespoon of Washington Flour
Dash of pepper.

The potatoes should be peeled and kept in cold water to cover over night, in the morning drain and grate them, then add the eggs well-beaten and bake them in nice, fresh bacon fat until nice and brown. They will seem very thin but the potato thickens them. In winter serve them with meat, in summer serve with tomato sauce.

MRS. M. L. TURNER.
Berwyn, Md.

CHOCOLATE CAKE.
(Honorable Mention.)

Ingredients from Sanitary Grocery.
2 squares chocolate
1 cup boiling water
1 cup honey (Zirkle's)
1 tablespoon butter (Land-O'Lakes)
1 egg, separated
1 cup Washington Flour
½ cup barley flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
Boiled maple frosting.

Grate chocolate and boil with half the water until thick as cream. Move to back of stove, add sugar, butter and beaten yolk of egg mixed together. Dissolve soda in remainder of water and add to chocolate mixture. Add vanilla and sift in flour, baking powder and salt. Mix well and turn into well-greased pan. Bake in moderate oven 30 minutes. Cool and cover with maple frosting. Three tablespoons of cocoa may be used in place of chocolate.

MRS. J. L. O'CONNELL.
934 I street northwest.

BUTTERFLY SALAD.
(Honorable Mention.)

1 Can sliced pineapple
1 small bottle stuffed olives
8 dates
1 red pepper

Cut pineapple in half and turn cut edges out. Cut olives in slices and place on pineapple for butterfly spots. Date is for body. Red pepper in long strips for feelers. Place on lettuce leaves with salad dressing placed at one side. All ingredients purchased at Sanitary grocery store.

ESTELLE N. NORMAL.
3033 Sixteenth street northwest.

VEAL SALAD.
(Honorable Mention.)

2 pounds veal
1 medium stalk celery
½ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon salt
½ pint Krafts mayonnaise
3 tablespoons French's mustard
2 sweet green peppers
1 small glass pimentoes

Ingredients from the District Grocery Stores or the Sanitary Stores.

Cook veal until tender; remove all fat and bone. Chop celery and peppers in small pieces, then add mayonnaise, mustard, salt and pepper. Mix well and serve on lettuce.

MRS. JOHN A. DORR.
11 Block street, Hyattsville, Md.

CHICKEN TETRAZZINI.
(Honorable Mention.)

2 cups cooked chicken
2 cups cooked spaghetti
1 small green pepper, cut fine
½ pound peeled mushrooms, cut fine
1 tablespoon butter
1 can pimento, cut fine
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup cold chicken stock
1 cup milk
2 eggg yolks

Saute pepper and mushrooms ten minutes in 1 tablespoon butter, stirring constantly. Add to chicken and spaghetti. Add pimento. Make white sauce with remaining ingredients, adding egg yolks, beaten. Just before serving add white sauce to mixture and serve on hot biscuit halves.

All ingredients from Sanitary Grocery or District Grocery Stores.

UNCLE SAM AND THE HOMEMAKER

By PATTIE ELLICOTT

Uncle Sam, out of goodness of his heart, follows the homemaker even to the summer cottage or camp and gives useful instruction in a recent bulletin from the Bureau of Home Economics, Department of Agriculture, about closing of these places for the winter.

The first consideration is the disposal of every scrap of food so as to leave nothing for mice or insects. Some food—flour, sugar, spices, and salt—will keep all winter in moisture-proof and vermin-proof containers—tin boxes or glass jars with tight lids. Don't try to store corn meal or whole grain cereal or any packaged food that has been opened, says the Bureau of Home Economics, which is an authority on the proper care of foods, summer or winter. Don't leave fats of any kind, for they will become rancid. Nor bottled liquids, nor canned goods, as they will freeze and probably burst. Remove everything from the refrigerator and wash it thoroughly. If the drain pipe leads out of doors, plug it up to keep out mice and insects. Never leave the refrigerator outside for the winter. Put it in the kitchen, with all its doors open.

Prevention Against Fire.

For the sake of fire prevention as well as cleanliness, dispose of all accumulated rubbish like papers, old magazines and rags, cloths with oil on them particularly, or those that have been used for cleaning. Put every single match away in a tightly sealed box. Mice have been known to start fires by gnawing matches.

Mice also eat candles and wax tops from jellies, so store these in tight tin containers. When very hungry they will eat soap and soap flakes. These, too, are better taken away or tightly stored. In unoccupied houses mice and squirrels sometimes get into mattresses and make nests. Some campers hang the mattresses and pillows up on the room partitions, over the winter, and others cover them right on the beds with clean sheets of paper. In damp climates put several layers of paper between the spring and the mattress to protect the latter from rust stains. Or roll up the mattresses, wrapping each roll with papers. Rub a little oil over the bed springs to prevent rust forming in the damp atmosphere. This is a good thing to do for stoves and screws, too.

Store blankets, comfortables and any woolens, such as sweaters or bathing suits in a tight safe box or trunk, after brushing them and making sure they are clean and free from moths or moth eggs. Perhaps you'd better, as an added precaution, sprinkle some naphthalene or other moth-protective substance on them as you fold them and lay them in the trunk.

New Recipes Offered.

On one of those days when you find yourself vainly wishing somebody would invent a new kind of dinner, you might have a mixed grill. In appearance it is quite attractive enough for a company dinner, and in flavor it would be hard to beat the special quality of foods that have been broiled by direct heat. Of course, if necessary, part or all of the grill can be pan-broiled, and the flavor will still be very fine. Quick preparation is a particular merit of a grilled dinner on a hot day. The kitchen is heated up for only a short time.

In cooking the grill the various ingredients should be started with reference to their cooking time. It is not necessary to place everything on the broiler at once. Nevertheless, to avoid long cooking, choose only foods that can be prepared in about the same length of time.

Mixed Grill.

Lamb chops
Small flat sausage cakes
Thin slices liver
Tomatoes, cut in half
Small cooked potatoes
Salt
Pepper
Melted butter or other fat

Allow one or more of each of the above for each serving. Place the meat and vegetables on the broiler rack about 3 inches from the flame. Turn the meat frequently to insure even cooking. Baste the potatoes with the meat drippings or melted fat and brown them on all sides. Arrange a chop, a piece of liver and a sausage cake on a hot serving plate with some of each of the vegetables. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and serve.

One of the nicest dishes for summer meals is jellied salmon. It's delicious, it's cool, and it looks attractive, besides costing very little. You can make it the night before you want it or in the cool early morning and put it away in the refrigerator to set and chill until you are ready to serve it. Mold the jellied salmon in a loaf, a round mold for a round platter, or in individual molds. Garnish it with lettuce or watercress or any other crisp salad green, and thin slices of lemon.

Jellied Salmon.

1 pound can of salmon
1½ tablespoons gelatin
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon of sugar
A dash of cayenne
2 eggs, beaten
¾ cup of milk
¼ cup vinegar
2 tablespoons of butter and a dash of tabasco sauce

Drain and remove the skin and bones from the salmon. Cut the salmon into small pieces. Soften the gelatin in cold water. Mix the dry ingredients. Add the eggs, vinegar, and milk. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Remove from the fire. Add the butter, and gelatin and stir until the gelatin has dissolved. Chill. When the mixture is semisolid, stir in the salmon and the tabasco sauce. Pour into a wet mold, and when set serve with cucumber sauce.

Rice and meat in combination appears in the menus of many lands. Of Persian or Turkish origin is the dish called "pilau," for which the bureau supplies a recipe:

Rice Pilau.

2 thick slices of salt pork, finely diced
¾ cup of uncooked rice
3 cups hot water
2 medium-sized onions, cut fine
2 cups tomato juice and pulp
4 tablespoons minced parsley
Salt, pepper and paprika

Fry the salt pork until it is slightly browned. Then add the rice, which has been washed and drained, and stir until the rice is a golden brown, adding the onions meantime. Add the hot water gradually, cover and cook. When the rice is tender add the remaining ingredients. Place the mixture in a greased baking dish and bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Here's another good meat and rice combination, which requires some long, slow cooking at first, but not much time in the oven. One of the attractive features of boiled rice is that it can be molded and served in a fancy shape, either hot or cold. In this recipe for beef and ham gumbo in a rice ring the rice mold is served steaming hot on a platter with the brown, juicy beef and ham mixture in the center.

Beef and Ham Gumbo.

1 pound beef, diced
2 tablespoons of chopped parsley
1 onion sliced
1 green pepper, chopped fine
½ cup diced celery
1 pint water
1 quart tomatoes, fresh or canned
1 quart of okra cut crosswise
Bay leaf or celery seed if desired
Salt and pepper to taste

Cook the pieces of ham and beef in a heavy skillet until browned. Then add the parsley, onion, green pepper and celery. Cook the mixture for a few minutes and then add the water and the tomatoes. Cover the skillet and simmer until the meat is almost tender. Then add the okra. Season to taste and simmer uncovered until the okra is tender and the stew has thickened.

For the rice ring wash 1 cup of rice well and sprinkle it into 4 cups of rapidly boiling salted water. Cook it for 20 minutes, or until the rice is tender and the water absorbed. Add 2 tablespoons of butter and 2 dashes of tabasco sauce. Then put the rice into a well-greased ring, mold and pat it down. Reheat in the oven and turn it onto a round platter. Fill the center with the hot gumbo and serve at once.

OUR DAILY FOOD

By COLONEL GOODBODY

"SIX PRUNES IN A DISH—"

I WISH everybody could see the Santa Clara Valley early in the spring when the prune orchards are in blossom. It's a beautiful sight. Something you never forget. Snow-white prune blossoms mingle with the deep pink of the peach, and the delicately tinted apricot blossoms. Half the prune supply of the world is grown, dried and packed in the Santa Clara Valley.

A package of prunes on the pantry shelf is an anchor to windward. A jar of stewed prunes in the ice box is even handier. Supposing company drops in unexpectedly—not enough fresh fruit in the house to go around—must have something good for breakfast—Ah! delicious stewed prunes! And they are delicious cooked this way:

Soak the prunes overnight or for several hours. When the fruit is soft and plumped up, put it to cook in the water it was soaked in. Simmer slowly—that's the secret—simmer the prunes slowly until they are tender and the juice is rich and thick. It isn't necessary to add sugar. But you might add a little lemon juice before the prunes are done. Or add a slice of lemon to the prunes while they are simmering. Serve with or without cream.

A friend of mine who lives in San Jose, the prune capital of the universe, reads Emerson and eats prunes.

He says: "To keep my body fit I eat a dish of prunes for breakfast every day. To keep my soul fit I read Emerson's 'Essay on Self-Reliance' every month."

Did you notice the story from the United States Department of Agriculture? "Six prunes in a dish," says Uncle Sam, "have for many years been a breakfast standby of every one, from lumberjacks to brokers."

There are many fine recipes for prunes. To make a prize-winning prune pie, soak a pound of prunes, cook until tender, and remove the stones. Cut the prunes in pieces, and put them in a pastry-lined pie plate. Then, on the prunes sprinkle three-fourths cup of sugar mixed with one tablespoonful of flour. Add two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and about two-thirds cup of prune juice. Dot with butter, cover with a top crust and bake in a hot oven.

A poet wrote feelingly of prunes:

"Under their gleaming, coal-black skins Hearts of pure gold abide."

I could get almost as ecstatic over a frozen prune whip. It's a dessert men like.

There are seven ingredients: One-half cup of prune pulp, one-half cup orange juice, one tablespoonful lemon juice, one egg white, one-half cup sugar, a pinch of salt and one cup of cream. Mix the prune pulp, the orange juice and the lemon juice. Add half of the sugar and chill. Beat the egg white with the salt, and the rest of the sugar. Fold into the prune mixture. Then fold in the whipped cream, and it's all ready to freeze—in ice and salt, or in an automatic refrigerator.

TOASTED COCOANUT ICE CREAM WINNER

This week's Post food page award of $5 was won by the recipe of Mrs. Catherine M. Hessler, of 218 S street northwest. Her entrant was "Toasted Cocoanut Ice Cream."

The "toasted" applies only to the cocoanut and not to the ice cream. This recipe should make a delicious summer dessert.

To be eligible in the weekly recipe contests of The Post, some product of advertisers on the food page of the paper must be an ingredient of formulas submitted. Mrs. Hessler's recipe follows:

1 tablespoon flour
½ cup sugar
1 egg (slightly beaten)
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 cup shredded cocoanut (toasted)
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk (scalded)
1 cup cream

Combine flour, sugar and salt. Add to egg. Pour small amount of milk over egg mixture, stirring vigorously. Return to double boiler and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Cool, add cream and vanilla. Freeze, using 8 parts ice to 1 part salt. When partly frozen, add cocoanut and continue freezing until firm.

RECORD BEET CROP TO NET $50,000,000

250,000 Are Expected to Get Jobs in Harvesting and Refining Seasons.

A new bright spot in American agriculture was reported yesterday when the United States Beet Sugar Association made public a forecast of an all-time record crop, which would return more than $50,000,000 to farmers in sixteen States and provide employment for perhaps 250,000 persons during the harvesting and refining seasons.

This year's total domestic crop of sugar beets is estimated at 9,200,000 tons, which compares with 7,100,000 in 1928 and 5,900,000 ten years earlier. Although beet prices have declined about 17 per cent during the last two years, the larger crop this year will make gross farm income from this crop about equal to that of 1929.

Commenting on the results of a recent Nation-wide survey of current crop prospects, Charles S. Young, Washington representative of the United States Beet Sugar Association, said that thousands of farmers every year are turning a portion of the acreage to sugar beets for a quick money crop.

Whereas wheat returns the farmer only about $4 to $6 an acre at prevailing market prices and cotton about the same, sugar beets will bring a gross income of between $50 and $60 an acre.

This year's beet area, estimated at 807,000 acres, promises to be the largest since 1921. Last year only 700,000 acres were harvested.

"Beet sugar production will provide employment for 200,000 to 250,000 persons on the farms and in the factories this summer and next winter, with other thousands given work in connection with transportation and distribution," Mr. Young said. "This represents a considerable increase over last year."

In addition, the feeding of beet pulp to livestock yields on an average of 300 pounds of meat per acre harvested, which means 120,000 tons of lamb and beef from the same land.

"Besides providing employment for farmers and field workers in sixteen States," Mr. Young added, "sugar-beet growing is an important source of revenue for railroads and the trucking business."

The association's survey estimated that the industry would spend, directly and indirectly, more than $28,000,000 in freight revenues during the current crop year.

"Beet sugar factories will employ about 10,000 persons, and thousands of others will be engaged in distribution and marketing, in the manufacture of candies made from beet sugar and in other factories directly dependent upon the industry," the survey concluded.

Sugar prices have shown a firm upward tendency during the last six weeks, refined advancing about 12 per cent from the 1932 low of 3.70 cents a pound at New York.

FOREIGN NEWS IN BRIEF

Warsaw, Poland, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Charles S. Dewey, former financial adviser to the Polish government, arrived here today on a vacation trip with Mrs. Dewey. President Wroblewski, of the Bank of Poland, a representative of the American Embassy and an officer of the Polish Chamber of Commerce met him at the train with representatives of the foreign office and the treasury department.

High Bluff, Manitoba, Aug. 3 (A.P.).—Smoke from 34,000 bushels of smoldering wheat pervaded this town today as three grain elevators lay in ruins, destroyed last night in one of the most spectacular fires ever seen in rural Manitoba.

Calcutta, India, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Sir Alfred Watson, noted editor of the Statesman, was shot at today, but not injured, by a young Bengalese. The assailant was seized immediately, but he swallowed poison and died a few minutes afterward.

Ottawa, Ontario, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A conference of officials representing all government agricultural services in Canada will be held in Toronto on August 29, Robert Weir, Dominion minister of agriculture, announced today.

Jasper, Alberta, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Word was received here today that William R. Hainsworth and Max Strumis, of New York City, have made a successful first ascent of Mount Oubliette, in Jasper National Park. This peak, although it has an elevation of only 10,100 feet, is of such formidable rock formation that it has defeated the efforts of some of the best climbers of the continent.

Changchun, Manchuria, Aug. 5 (A. P.)—George Bronson Rea, American adviser to the Manchukuo government, will represent that new state at the League of Nations' council meeting in the autumn, it was announced today.

Quebec, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The locomotive of a Canadian National freight train exploded near St. Malachie station today, killing the brakeman and seriously injuring two other members of the crew. A dozen freight cars were thrown into a heap, blocking the track.

Vienna, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Mgr. Ignaz Seipel, former chancellor of Austria, who died on Tuesday, was buried today after funeral services attended by President Miklas and all the members of the cabinet.

Berncastel, Germany, Aug. 5 (A.P.). Half the grape vines in this district, home of the choicest Moselle wines, were destroyed last night by a terrific thunderstorm.

Carlsbad, Germany, Aug. 5 (A.P.). Mayor Anton Cermak of Chicago arrived here last night on a vacation. Next week he will go to Prague, where an official reception awaits him.

Cutten, Plunger in Grain, Certain Trade Is Reviving

Laughs, However, at Tale of $30,000,000 Pool Credited to Him.

ARTHUR W. CUTTEN.

Chicago, Aug. 5 (U.P.).—Arthur W. Cutten, one of the biggest plungers in the history of American grain markets, said today that he believed business definitely has turned the corner for the better.

As for rumors of a $30,000,000 grain pool, said to have been engineered by him, Cutten laughed.

"I am against pools," he said. "I'm not in any pool and I don't intend to be—not so long as the Government sits in the game."

Recent improvement in grain prices merely is the reflection of the general improvement in business, he explained. While he spoke cheerfully in his office, labeled for some unknown reason "the Chicago Perforating Co." grain was making an impressive display of strength at the board of trade, across the street.

Wheat opened 1 to 2 cents higher, and despite heavy profit taking, closed 1 to 1 and a fraction higher. Cutten watched its progress on his private ticker.

"Yes, I think the turn has come," he said, "but I don't like to see things go up too fast.

"I'd like to see Europe come into the market and take cash wheat before I take hold."

Were it not for the Federal Farm Board, he intimated, he would be buying wheat in vast quantities, operating as he used to do, on such a large scale that wheat traders, upon seeing his tiny white beard approach, would nudge each other and say "There goes the biggest bull of them all."

Cutten eyed his interviewer over his old-fashioned half glasses and exclaimed:

"You can say anything you want to say about the Farm Board and quote me on it.

"Grain prices would be a great deal higher if it weren't for this—ah—agency. The Government is the greatest menace there is to business in all lines, the grain trade included.

"This country was built up by private initiative and not by Government bureaus.

"That's why I'm not in the wheat market—now. This isn't the time. The market is so narrow that the hedging of the spring wheat and Canadian crop can't be absorbed.

"Later I think prices are going to do better. Much better. Don't you see?"

STOCKS CLIMB 1 TO 8 POINTS TO NEW HIGHS ON BUYING

of thousands of clerks to handle the expanding brokerage business if the activity continues for a few more days. Many were hard pressed to take care of current business without extensive night work.

Along with the growing public interest in the market, houses with foreign connections reported the continent keenly interested in the recent rise in prices at New York.

Large Traders Wary.

The continued headlong advance in prices continued to make many large traders wary of following the gains with buying orders, however, with the result that considerable realizing went ahead today in many of the leaders. Few observers would predict, however, when this selling would become of sufficient importance to bring about a technical setback.

(United Press.)

Republicans are counting heavily upon improved business conditions to brighten their election chances and are organized to capitalize every favorable omen such as the present advances in stock and commodity markets.

In this connection, political Washington placed much significance on reports from New York that Eugene Meyer, governor of the Federal Reserve Board, was busy yesterday conferring with leading financial figures.

Meyer is a familiar and influential figure about Wall street, where he once was known as one of the "ace" traders. In the wake of conferences he held yesterday come reports of a big commodity pool designed to bolster the prices of agricultural products, among other ventures of a nature designed to restore confidence.

Improvement Aids G. O. P.

Politicians know that an improvement in business would submerge all other issues and react favorably for the Republicans, just as a continuation of the depression would react in favor of the Democrats.

President Hoover intends to sound a note of confidence in his acceptance speech, in which financial relief ventures of the administration will overshadow all other issues. He will make an appeal to the conservative business man to stand by while the country reacts to the various credit and stabilization measures which he has fostered.

From the President's message other campaign orators will take their cue. It is significant of the Republican strategy that the administration's financial right arm, Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills, has been made the real generalissimo of campaign propaganda. This shows where the emphasis will be placed.

Visitors to the White House almost daily bring President Hoover assurance that the worst of the depression is over and that bright days are ahead. Politicians submerge political statements to those bearing on business improvement these days.

Bertram E. Mott, chairman of the Republican committee in New Jersey, told the President that the "economic upswing" has begun to help the President's chances considerably in that State.

"We have no reason to worry about November," Mott said on leaving. "Business is reviving, particularly in the textile industry—and if it keeps on the upturn by fall we will run away with the vote."

Lynchburg College Dean Takes Pulpit Tomorrow

Dean M. E. Sadler, of Lynchburg College, Lynchburg, Va., will be guest minister at both services at the Ninth Street Christian Church tomorrow. Mr. Donald Thomas will sing at the morning service, "O Lord Be Merciful," by Bartlett, and the Sunday School orchestra under the direction of Herbert Cooper will render a short musical program before the evening sermon. The Rev. Clifford H. Jope, the minister of Ninth Street Church, is spending the month vacationing in Michigan.

The regular mid-week service of the church will be held Thursday evening at 7:45 o'clock under the auspices of the Naomi Class of Women, Mrs. J. H. Beckwith leading the meeting.

"Sources of Strength" To Be Lutheran Topic

Services at Grace Lutheran Church will be conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Gerhard E. Lenski, tomorrow at 11 a. m. Pastor Lenski has recently returned to the city, having been serving for the past weeks as chaplain at the citizens' military training camp at Fort George Meade, Md. He has served as chaplain both in the Army and Navy, and at this present time is a captain in the United States Reserve Force.

The theme of Pastor Lenski's sermon will be "Sources of Strength."

Food Shortage Menaces Western Coal Strikers

McAlester, Okla., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A food shortage today threatened several thousand union coal miners and their sympathizers from Arkansas and eastern Oklahoma, who have concentrated to picket mines in the McAlester Hartshorne district.

Merchants of nearby towns were being solicited for aid by leaders of 2,000 pickets gathered in the City Park camp at Hartshorne, Okla. Picketing was extended to the Milby-Dow workings at Dow, Okla., following a demonstration at the Messina Mine near Halleyville, where nonunion workers were prevented from going on duty yesterday by a group of 1,200 men.

Steamship Line Cuts Fare to Chapel Point

New low rates to Colonial Beach and Chapel Point were put into effect yesterday by the Wilson Steamship Line.

The Colonial Beach rate is now $1 for the one-day trip and $1.50 on the stopover ticket. Mondays and Fridays the rate to Chapel Point is 25 cents for children and 50 cents for adults.

Worshiper's Spirit Theme of Sermon

"The True Worshippers's Spirit" will be the subject of the message tomorrow morning at Luther Place Memorial Church. The Rev. Frank H. Clutz, assistant pastor, will preach.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold its meeting tomorrow evening at 6:45 on the west slope of the Sixteenth and Kennedy streets reservoir. Some of the members will meet at the church at 6:15. Transportation to the grounds will be provided.

Chester, Pa., Minister At Metropolitan Baptist

Tomorrow, at the Metropolitan Baptist Church, the Rev. Hinson V. Howlett, of West Chester, Pa., will occupy the pulpit. The theme for the morning is, "The Way of a Good Man." The evening subject, "The Call of a Christian." The ordinance of the Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning hour.

Bible school at 9:30 a. m. A large class of business and professional men meets in the main auditorium for the church and Bible study. E. B. Shaver is the teacher.

"Freedom" Topic at St. Margaret's Church

Dr. Herbert Scott Smith, rector of St. Margaret's Church, Connecticut avenue and Bancroft place northwest, will preach at 11 o'clock on "Freedom," concluding his series on "The Marks of the Lord Jesus."

There will be two celebrations of Holy Communion at 7:30 a. m. and at 11 a. m. The Rev. Robert Shores will be celebrant at 7:30, and Dr. Smith will celebrate at 11 a. m. On Thursday and on Saturday, the Feast of the Transfiguration, there will be a celebration of Holy Communion at 11 a. m.

62 CITIES PLEDGE $44,600,000 OUTLAY

Property Improvement and Labor Expenditures Reported.

(Associated Press.)

Favorable business gleanings yesterday included:

Washington—The Department of Commerce announced that pledges from 62 cities since the first of the year insured expenditure of $44,600,000 for property improvement and labor.

Phoenixville, Pa.—The Ajax Hosiery Co. mills here and at Pottstown, Pa., now employing 600 workers, return to full time schedules August 15, giving employment to 1,500 persons. Heavy orders are to be filled.

Boston — More than 15,000,000 pounds of wool have been sold "in the street" with some estimates as high as 25,000,000 according to leaders in the trade here. L. U. Edgehill, whose firm is selling agent for the National Cooperative Wool Marketing Corporation, described the present market as "moving rapidly," such as the trade has not experienced since 1920.

New York—Corporate stock and bond financing during July reached a peak of $140,590,000 for the seven months of 1932.

Baltimore—Climbing consistently since April, construction contracts in sixteen Southern States reached $213,569,000 for the first seven months of the year with nearly $46,000,000 in new contracts added during July, the Manufacturers Record says in its current issue.

Busy Stock Market Days Help Federal Treasury

(Associated Press.)

Uncle Sam hopes the stock market stays bullish and busy—it means money in his pockets.

The stock market turnover Thursday, totaling 3,522,000 shares, netted the Federal Treasury a minimum of $140,000. Actuaries expect this fiscal year's revenues from stock and bond transfers, as well as new issues, to reach $31,500,000.

The stock tax is 5 cents on every share selling for more than $20 and 4 cents if the price is less than that; bond transfers bring 4 cents on each $100; new issues 10 cents each for $100 of par value.

Adirondack Minister Chevy Chase Preacher

The Rev. Clark Smith Defandorf, of Northville, N. Y., who, for August, will occupy the pulpit of the Chevy Chase Baptist Church, in the absence of the Rev. Edward O. Clark, has chosen as his topic for tomorrow "The Human Unit." Thomas H. Patterson will teach the adult class in Church School at 9:45 a. m.

Mr. Clark has exchanged churches for one month with Dr. Defandorf, whose pastorate is situated in the Adirondack Mountains.

NORFOLK MINISTER SPEAKS TOMORROW

Dr. Gordon to Preach on "Religion and Hard Times" in Mt. Pleasant Church.

The preacher at the union summer service in the Mount Pleasant Congregational Church tomorrow morning is Right Rev. C. M. Gordon, minister of the First Christian Church (Disciples), Norfolk, Va. His subject is "Religion and Hard Times." Cooperating with Mount Pleasant are All Souls' Unitarian and the National Memorial Universalist Churches.

Dr. Gordon has had an eventful career. Born on the Australian frontier, he was for many years the main supporter of ten brothers and sisters, and did not enter college until he was 28 years old. Taking his undergraduate courses at the College of the Bible, in Melbourne, Australia, and Butler College, Indianapolis, he did post-graduate work at Harvard, and for the first five years of his ministry was pastor of the Swanton Street Church of Christ in Melbourne, and several years on the faculty of the College of the Bible.

Mr. Gordon has been actively identified with interdenominational work, both in Australia and the United States, and for the past six years has been minister of the Norfolk church, where he has been unusually successful and popular. Since he has been in this country Dr. Gordon has acted as supply preacher in some of the largest American churches, including the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian, New York; the Central Methodist Episcopal, Detroit, and the Emanuel Congregational, of Montreal. Several years ago he was on the summer schedule of the First Congregational Church of this city two successive years.

The Rev. Russell J. Clinchy, minister of Mount Pleasant Congregational Church, will occupy the pulpit of the Church of the Covenant, Boston, tomorrow morning. The Church of the Covenant is one of the largest Protestant churches in Boston, having been formed a few years ago by a combination of the old Central Congregational and First Presbyterian churches.

Mr. Clinchy will also attend the annual conference of the Congregational Commission on International Relations at Lake Sunapee, N. H., next Monday and Tuesday. He is a member of the commission and will speak Tuesday on "The Menace of Population in the Balkans."

"Light of World" Topic of Dr. Ward

Illinois Pastor Will Preach in First Congregational Tomorrow.

The Rev. Dr. J. W. G. Ward, minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Oak Park, Ill., one of the leading Presbyterian churches in the Middle West, will preach tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at First Congregational Church, Tenth and G streets.

Dr. Ward served many of the years of his ministry in the British Isles and Canada. He was the successor of Dr. Campbell Morgan at Tollington Park Church, London, and has held pastorates in Montreal and Detroit. Dr. Ward is internationally known as an orator and author, and in the last three years has published twelve books—religious and literary. Dr. Ward's sermon theme tomorrow morning will be "The Light of the World." This service will be broadcast over Station WOL.

All departments of the Sunday school will meet at 9:45 a. m. tomorrow. The midweek meeting will be held on Thursday at 7:45 p. m. in the east parlor. Dr. John D. Wolcott will lead the meeting and his subject will be "Strange New World Within the Bible."

Rev. H. R. Deal To Preach Twice

Will Fill Pulpit at Mount Vernon Place Methodist Tomorrow.

The Rev. H. R. Deal will preach at both services at the Mount Vernon Place Methodist Episcopal Church South tomorrow. His morning subject is "Adequate Life Purpose," and evening subject, "Encouragement." Miss Mathilde Kolb will sing a solo in the morning, and Arthur M. Tabbutt in the evening. The quartet will give selections for offertory at both services.

The church school meets at 9:30 a. m., the A. B. Pugh Bible class meeting in the Sunday school auditorium, the young peoples' department in room ten, the younger adult department in the senior house on K street. The evangelistic prayer meeting service will be held at 7 o'clock tomorrow evening in the Sunday school auditorium, with Talma L. Smith in charge.

The regular prayer meeting service will be in charge of the associate pastor, the Rev. H. R. Deal, meeting at 7 o'clock in the Sunday school auditorium. The choir is to be enlarged for the coming season and new singers are invited to join for each of the four parts.

B. Y. P. U. to Direct Services.

Throughout August, during the absence of the pastor, E. Hez Swem, the Sunday night services of the Centennial Baptist Church will be conducted by the Senior B. Y. P. U. There will be interesting speakers and special musical selections. The speaker for tomorrow will be the past president of the B. Y. P. U., J. H. Johnson. Those who may be visitors in the city or those without a church home are cordially invited to attend these services.

St. Paul's Pastor To Be in Pageant

Dr. Henry W. Snyder Is on Vacation; Guest Clerics to Preach.

Dr. Henry W. Snyder, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, left this week on his vacation, the first part of which will be spent at Selinsgrove, Pa., at the Lutheran Summer Assembly, of which he is a director. One of the features of this year's assembly will be a bicentennial pageant entitled "The Lutheran Spirit of '76," written by Dr. Snyder, to be given on August 16. The pageant is in four historic episodes and will be presented by about 25 members of St. Paul's Church, who will attend the assembly, Dr. Snyder himself appearing as John Peter Gabriel Muhlenberg, the famous soldier-preacher of Revolutionary times.

In the absence of the regular pastor, St. Paul's will have guest preachers each Sunday during August, the first of these being the Rev. Walter E. Brown, of Danville, Pa., who will preach tomorrow morning on the subject, "They Need Not Depart."

While most of the organizations have suspended meetings for the summer, St. Paul's Sunday school, Henry C. Brunner, superintendent, meets each Sunday morning at 9:30.

Transfiguration Church Will Celebrate Feast

The Feast of the Transfiguration will be observed at Transfiguration Episcopal Church, 1419 Gallatin street northwest, tomorrow. The services will be at 7:30 and 11 a. m. The Rev. John J. Queally will officiate and preach.

Several gifts to the church will be dedicated. All the societies will observe the day with Corporate Communion.

Five-minute visits to the church will be made each day of this week for quiet prayer and meditation by the men and women of the parish.

"When I Met Christ" Topic of Beatty Sermon

"When I Met Christ" will be the subject tomorrow at 11 a. m. in Georgetown Lutheran Church, the Rev. Harold E. Beatty, pastor.

The Sunday school services will be conducted by J. Frank Butts at 9:30 a. m. Bible study, "The Ten Commandments."

During the pastor's vacation the last three Sundays in August, Mr. Edmund Bieber, Gettysburg Seminary student, will preach at the 11 o'clock services.

Christian Science Churches

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all the Churches of Christ, Scientist tomorrow. The Golden Text is from I Corinthians 12:13: "By one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, whether we be Jews or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free; and have been all made to drink into one Spirit."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God; thy spirit is good; lead me into the land of uprightness." (Psalms 143:10). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science Text Book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:" God is infinite, the only Life, substance, Spirit, or Soul, the only intelligence of the universe, including man.

The individuality of Spirit, or the infinite, is unknown, and thus a knowledge of it is left either to human conjecture or to the revelation of divine Science." (page 330).

J. Raymond Schmidt Will Be Guest Preacher at Several Churches.

J. Raymond Schmidt, editor of Twentieth Century Progress and lecturer for the International Reform Federation, for the fifth consecutive season, has been engaged by a number of Washington churches as guest preacher during the summer vacation period.

The churches on Mr. Schmidt's schedule are as follows: Tomorrow, 11 a. m., Eldebrooke M. E. Church, and 8 p. m., Brightwood Park M. E. Church; Sunday, August 14, 11 a. m., West Washington Baptist Church; Sunday, August 21, 11 a. m., Hamline M. E. Church; Sunday, August 28, 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m., Petworth M. E. Church, and Sunday, September 4, 11 a. m., Eckington Presbyterian Church.

The series really opened last Sunday, when Mr. Schmidt occupied the pulpit of Park View Christian Church. The exercise of Christian citizenship in the elimination of commercialized vice from society will be the general theme of Mr. Schmidt in this series of addresses.

Dr. Brodie to Preach On Books Jesus Read

Tomorrow morning at the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church Dr. Andrew Brodie, the associate minister, will have for his subject "What Books Did Jesus Read?" At 7 o'clock tomorrow evening the evening vesper service will be conducted by the young people of the Christian Endeavor Society.

At the midweek prayer meeting on Thursday evening Dr. Brodie will talk on "Blueprint of the Church."

Communion at McKendree Church.

McKendree Methodist Episcopal Church will observe Holy Communion at the service tomorrow morning. The pastor, the Rev. William Pierpont, will speak upon the topic "Enlarging Life."

MR. GRUBB SPEAKS AT NATIONAL CITY

Bloomington, Ill., Preacher Prominent in Disciples of Christ.

The Rev. Chester B. Grubb, prominent minister of the Disciples of Christ, and pastor of the First Christian Church at Bloomington, Ill., will be the guest speaker at the National City Christian Church tomorrow and on August 14 and 21, during the absence of Dr. H. H. Harmon, who is spending a few weeks at Bethany Beach, Del. The Rev. Mr. Grubb has been pastor of the Bloomington church for the last eight years and previously held pastorates at Fort Smith, Ark., and Wateeka, Ill. He is a director of the national board of education of the Disciples of Christ and is prominent in the national councils of the church. He has chosen for his morning sermon topic, "The Possible You."

Special music at the National City Church tomorrow will include a duet, "O Let Him Whose Sorrow," by W. E. Braithwaite, tenor, and J. Horace Smithey, barytone, and a solo, "Hear Thou My Prayer," by Mr. Smithey at the morning service and two numbers, "Now the Day Is Over" and "Alone With Thee," by Mrs. Leo Tooley, soprano, at the evening bells service.

The program of the Le Rendezvous Society at 6:45 o'clock will deal with the Holy Land and will be under the leadership of Miss Rae Welch.

The Alpha Christian Endeavor Society will hold its regular tea at 5 o'clock and the expression meeting at 6:45 o'clock. The society will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawton G. Herriman, 1 Noyes drive, Silver Spring, for a picnic supper, to be followed by the monthly business meeting.

"Old Ironsides" to Get Bibles at Special Rites

Religious services aboard the United State frigate Constitution at 10 a. m. tomorrow will be of a special nature appropriate to the presentation to the historic ship of finely bound copies of the Bible by the American Bible Society and the Maryland Bible Society. The program follows:

Church call, ship's bugler; overture, Navy Band; hymn; prayer, Lieut C. W. Salisbury, chaplain, Washington Navy Yard; presentations, the Rev. George W. Brown, of the American Bible Society, and J. Henry Baker of the Maryland Bible Society; acceptances, Capt. L. J. Gulliver and Lieut. Hartley, of the Constitution; "America," United States Navy Band; hymn, "God Save America," congregation and band; sermon, the Rev. Edgar Cordell Powers, of Baltimore; prayer, Lieut. Salisbury. The public has been invited to attend the services at the navy yard.

"Call of Confession" Palmer Sermon Topic

The Rev. Ray Palmer will preach tomorrow at Bethany Baptist Church, Second street and Rhode Island avenue northwest with services at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

"The Christian's Inheritance" will be the topic at the morning worship, while in the evening Dr. Palmer will preach on "God's Clarion Call to Confession."

NO MENACE AT OTTAWA.

Efforts to alarm the United States over the prospects of trade agreements between Great Britain and the dominions at the Ottawa conference have been maintained ever since the sessions opened. Each day brings reports of a new assault upon American trade. These reports are unquestionably magnified by those interests which are seeking to discredit the American policy on international commerce. The British Commonwealth is not discussing how American trade can be ruined, but how its own economic status can be improved.

There has been much talk at Ottawa, but no action yet. Broad plans for intra-empire trade have been advanced, but they represent a conflict of interests. Each country is maneuvering for its own welfare. It is not to be supposed that any of the dominions will enter into trade agreements with Great Britain unless it is to their advantage to do so. The outcome of the conference will probably touch only a small portion of the projects which have been thrown into the pot.

Great Britain wants to increase her exports to Canada by $100,000,000, chiefly in iron, steel, chemicals and coal. In turn Canada wants to ship more lumber, bacon, cheese, butter and wheat to Great Britain. The British are firmly opposed to extending that privilege to Canada, because it would increase the cost of foodstuffs. Yet concessions may be made on both sides and a final agreement, providing for a larger volume of trade between Britain and Canada, may be arrived at. Even so, the United States has no cause for alarm.

The assumption that the expansion of British-Canadian trade by $100,000,000 would impair the foreign trade of the United States to that extent, or to any fraction of that sum, is wholly fanciful. If Canada furnishes Great Britain with more bacon, she will need more American corn. If her agricultural exports are increased, she will need more American machinery and trucks. Furthermore, if Holland can not sell her dairy products in such large volume to Britain, she may find it advantageous to purchase more of her manufactured goods from the United States. Even Soviet Russia may be inclined to resume ordering machinery from the United States, if Great Britain yields to Premier Bennett's demand for curtailment of British imports from the Soviet.

In addition to these probable shifts it is certain that the United States will sell Canada and Britain more typewriters, motor cars, gasoline, sewing machines and hundreds of other products, if those countries are able to enhance their own prosperity through trade agreements. Whatever may be decided at Ottawa, the result probably will be a shifting rather than a curtailment of American trade. Greater trade within the empire means less British trade outside of the empire, part of which would doubtless accrue to the United States. So long as this country maintains its industrial efficiency and protects its great home market from foreign exploitation, it has nothing to fear from the trade arrangements of other nations. After all, the British Commonwealth is only trying to secure for itself some of the advantages that the United States has enjoyed for many years by reason of its free trade within the 48 States and protection against the rest of the world.

DUMPING BY JAPAN.

While a few politicians prattle about curing the depression by "unfettering" foreign trade, manufacturers are coming to Washington to plead for protection against foreign competition which American industries can not possibly meet. The Rubber Association of America is particularly alarmed because of the importation of shoes made from canvas and rubber in Japan and Czechoslovakia. New industries that have recently sprung up in these two countries have already captured the American export market and are now threatening to destroy the domestic rubber footwear manufacturers.

Japanese shoes of this type are selling for as little as 20 cents per pair in the United States. This price covers the cost of raw materials, labor, freight to the United States and a 35 per cent duty. In this country the cost of making the same shoe is slightly more than 29 cents, without any profit to the manufacturer. Since the beginning of the year Japan has increased her exports of these shoes to the United States by 600 per cent. About 1,300,000 pairs were shipped in through the port of New York alone during the first five months of this year, and shipments are increasing every month.

It is obvious that American manufacturers can not meet such competition. Yet American factories can buy cotton as cheaply as can the Japanese. This country exports enormous quantities of cotton to Japan. There is no substantial difference between the cost of rubber here and in Japan. The principal difference in the cost of manufacturing rubber shoes here and in Japan is labor. Reports indicate that the labor used for this purpose in the Orient costs 35 cents per day. Even these starvation wages can not account, however, for the extremely low prices at which this merchandise is selling in the United States.

F. X. A. Eble, commissioner of customs, is conducting an investigation to determine whether the anti-dumping laws are being violated. That inquiry should be vigorously pursued. A powerful Japanese cartel may have set out to gain a monopoly on this business, or the Japanese government may be subsidizing its manufacturers. In either event an effective bar to this type of unfair competition should be raised immediately.

There is not the slightest reason why American cotton should be shipped to Japan for manufacture into shoes for reshipment to America. Japan has no economic advantages in this industry, except that she pays her workingmen 35 cents per day. It would be insane to allow Japan to capture this industry and throw 26,000 Americans permanently out of work for want of adequate tariff protection.

This is only one example of how inadequate duties operate to destroy American industry and add to the distress of workingmen. Hundreds of articles are imported from Japan and Czechoslovakia, in spite of substantial tariff rates, and are sold in this country for less than they can be produced here, because of the high American standard of living. Japan increased her imports to the United States by 7 per cent during the first five months of this year, while domestic production sharply declined.

Americans who are ready to tear down the American protective tariff are not aware of this situation. They speak of increasing our trade with Europe, of allowing France, Great Britain and Italy to pay their war debts with goods. Even a superficial examination of the facts would reveal that Japan and Czechoslovakia would be the beneficiaries of any lower tariffs. They use modern machinery and mass production methods along with pauper labor. So long as this condition prevails, increased trade with these nations would be the certain road to disaster.

WALL STREET.

Wall Street has astounded the whole country by its sudden spurt of confidence. The stock market was so erratic during the first half of 1932 that the public had almost forgotten that it used to be a barometer of business conditions. The country went ahead with the business of pulling out of the depression without consulting Wall Street. Then suddenly the financial interests woke up with a start and found that they were several steps behind the procession. Bears that had not already gone into hibernation were covered by an avalanche of trading, and the bulls came out once more in a full dress parade.

It would be a mistake to minimize the importance of what has happened in Wall Street. Of course, speculators are watching closely for a turn in the opposite direction. Every one knows that there must be a break in the phenomenal rise of stock prices sooner or later. But that does not alter the fact that Wall Street is seething with activity again, and that the general public is rushing in to buy stocks that could have been had a few weeks ago at half or two-thirds of their present prices. This sort of confidence is contagious. It plays just as powerful a role in the return of prosperity as did the reverse psychology in intensifying hard times.

People in all parts of the country have been feeling poverty. Those who have money have been affected by a depression complex. Money has been kept in hiding because of fear of losing it. Now it is being brought out and invested because of the growing belief that innumerable bargains are available. The flurry in Wall Street is not a maneuver by professionals. Hundreds of brokers are astonished at the strength shown by stocks. Many have been caught unprepared for such a brisk rise. Those who waited for a reaction lost heavily as the market surged forward day after day.

The rise in stock values has exceeded the improvement in business, just as the depths touched by stock values were not justified by the status of business at its worst. Market values were driven down by fear. Now they are being driven back up again by sudden enthusiasm.

An excessive rise would invite a collapse, which would have a depressing effect on business once more. Investors would do well to proceed with caution, even though they are confident that the worst of the depression is over. A complicated industrial system can not regain its momentum in a short period. While business is making the pull back to normal conditions, the stock market will probably fluctuate widely, even though the general trend is upward. If returning confidence is tempered with prudence the rise may be slower, but every step will have a more secure foundation.

COTTON'S TURN NEXT.

The decision of the Farm Board to dispose of its cotton holdings gradually during the coming year manifests good judgment. Cotton prices can not substantially improve so long as the board holds or controls a surplus of 3,500,000 bales. Of course, farmers would like to see this surplus cotton burned, but more than one-third of it represents taxpayers' money. It should be sold at the most advantageous prices available and in a way that will not demoralize the market.

In disposing of its wheat holdings the Farm Board met with remarkable success. Government-owned wheat amounted to 257,000,000 bushels a little more than a year ago. Now the Farm Board holds only about 25,000,000 bushels. Its sales have undoubtedly kept wheat prices down, but the market has not been demoralized. If the board is equally successful in disposing of its cotton holdings, farmers in the United States will once more be relieved of a crushing weight on prices.

Organization of powerful pools to strengthen agricultural prices is reported from New York. If this plan succeeds, it will tie in with the Farm Board's cotton marketing program. A large volume of credit would be made available to users of agricultural commodities so that they could purchase raw materials while prices are low. The result would be to strengthen prices and to move much of the surplus now existing in this country into consumption. In this way the farmer, the textile manufacturer and other producers using agricultural commodities would benefit, and the tendency would be to stimulate all business.

It will be a notable event in all farm communities when the enormous surpluses accumulated during the last few years are finally disposed of. The valiant efforts of the Farm Board to protect the farmer from low prices have proved a failure. Instead of cooperating with the Farm Board, farmers responded to the purchase of surplus crops by planting more acreage. The human element defeated the board's stabilization program, as it has defeated every other attempt to create artificial prices when there is no firm control over production.

Farmers now begin to see a dim light of returning prosperity. If they are wise enough to control production, to market their crops in an orderly manner through cooperative action, to practice business methods and turn their backs resolutely against all legislative nostrums, agriculture will return to its proper place in the American economic system. There is some danger that Congress will learn nothing from the sad experience of the Farm Board, and that the farmer will be victimized by his political champions. But if the farmer has definitely learned that a surplus in the hands of the Government is but slightly less damaging than the same surplus in his own hands, a basis for more stable agriculture has been laid.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation can obtain full information concerning two big institutions that are struggling against tight money conditions by applying to Everett Sanders and Jim Farley.

If the Wall Street bull rushes too far ahead of the procession he may fall into a bear-trap.

GERMANY'S PRIVATE DEBTS

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

As had been expected, the United States has accepted the invitation to participate in the international monetary and economic conference to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations. The meeting will take place in the autumn, probably in October and presumably at London.

According to stipulations laid down by Secretary of State Stimson on May 31, war debts, German reparations and tariff rates will be "excluded" from the discussions—though how such exclusions can be made effective is not clear—and the question of silver will be included. This leaves a wide field for examination—problems of exchange, embargoes, import and export quotas, tariff policies generally, credit policies and other similar issues.

But just at present the most pressing problem involves private indebtedness, rather than intergovernmental finance, and Germany is the pivotal nation in this respect. These obligations in Germany consist of short-term loans lumped under the "standstill" agreement, other short-term indebtedness of German subsidiary corporations to parent organizations in other countries and long-term loans incurred by states, municipalities and industries under definite agreements providing for amortization.

The total annual transfer requirements on these sums amount to about $288,000,000 and thus far Germany's foreign trade balance has been sufficient to cover them. It has been the policy of German industry and finance, and heretofore of the German government, to keep up these payments at all costs. The reason is obvious. Germans will need to borrow abroad again in the future and the maintenance of German commercial credit is a vital consideration.

A few months ago there developed a disposition to attempt to bring about a liquidation of this private indebtedness, with some extremists advocating total repudiation, and no more borrowing abroad. Such a course, obviously, would be flatly dishonest, and the suggestion was probably a signal of distress rather than anything else. It was frowned upon in Germany as elsewhere.

Now the Von Papen government seems inclined to follow up its success in bringing about a cancellation of reparations with a move to level downward, either by a capital conversion or interest rate reductions, the total of German private obligations owed abroad. It is emphasized that any negotiations on the subject would have to be carried on with the full consent of the creditors.

This problem should be approached with extreme caution. Many of Germany's private creditors are in no position to decide whether or not it would be to their own best interests to accept a conversion or an interest-rate reduction. They would be at a great disadvantage, especially if the German government appeared in the picture.

And the German government is already in the picture. It has control of all exchange operations, and through this control could prevent payment on these private debts.

A German bank, for example, has a note for $25,000,000 falling due on September 1. It has had to inform its American creditors that, while the marks to cover payment are available, the government will not permit it to acquire the necessary dollars. It offers to pay in marks, or in dollars, three years hence. Interest payments are not affected.

It is difficult to believe that the German government would employ its dictatorial control over exchange operations to bring pressure to bear upon private foreign creditors. But the example cited is a bit disquieting. While no one wants to complicate the German situation, creditors least of all, it should be made plain that default is default, even if it is forced by the government. And the German government should consider long and carefully before it undertakes a course which would do irreparable damage to German industrial and commercial credit.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE THRUSH.

A song bird near my window pane
Sings cheerily a sweet refrain,
As if its brief instinctive span
Excelled the fuller life of man.

What burdens does a song bird bear?
What is its daily round of care?
What sorrows grieve, what heartaches sting
O'er which it bravely dares to sing?

Now from that little feathered throat
I hear no sad and dismal note;
Nor from that glad, courageous song
Catch any hint of hurt or wrong.

Sing, throstle, sing! I, too, like you,
Will try to hide my cares from view,
And spite of hurt and loss the while
Will greet my neighbors with a smile.

I will not spread my woes about,
Nor cover faith with shade of doubt;
But with a cheery word I'll speak
To all who shall my doorway seek.

Another Letter From a Bald-Headed Dad to His Flapper Daughter

By ROBERT QUILLEN

MY DEAR LOUISE: Yesterday, while waiting in a doctor's office, I picked up a recent number of a medical journal and turned the pages indifferently in search of pictures.

I found two of them—a reproduced photograph of a woman's lips and one of a man's face. Something had eaten away so much of the lips that they were scarred beyond hope of repair, and the man's face was almost covered with hideous red blotches.

Lip stick was responsible in one case and hair tonic in the other.

The scientific name given to both afflictions means nothing more than "an irritation of the skin," which doesn't sound very dreadful, but such irritations frequently develop into chronic eczema and then the victim is sunk.

According to this article, intended for physicians only, poison cosmetics caused 34 per cent of the skin diseases treated by the specialist who made the report.

The name of the poison doesn't matter. As a matter of fact, several are used in toilet preparations—all of them comparatively harmless if used but once, but exceedingly dangerous when the application is frequently repeated.

You are not vain of your fatal beauty, but I notice that a shiny nose distresses you as it would a movie star, and I'm quite sure that you would not invite permanent blemishes. A girl with badly scarred lips hasn't much chance in competition.

There is only one way to play safe. Quit your habit of buying unknown bargains.

There are two reasons why you should buy from houses that have a Nation-wide reputation.

The first is that such concerns are financially responsible. If you are damaged by their goods, you can obtain the compensation to which you are entitled.

The second, but more important, is that business men do not spend millions to advertise faulty goods. Men who advertise consistently in respectable publications are buying a reputation, and a reputation so expensively acquired isn't sacrificed by selling poison.

Your face is capital stock. Most of your fun will be spoiled if it is. Why take a chance when you have nothing to gain and everything to lose?

In a strange town, go to the best hotel. One that hasn't a reputation may have native fauna in the beds.

The same theory applies to cosmetics. If you must use the stuff, don't touch an unknown brand with tongs. If clean people are available, why chum with those who have the itch. Love, DAD.

PRO AND CON

The Reconstruction Program.
Topeka Capital.

With the appointment of former Senator Pomerene of Ohio and Charles A. Miller of New York to fill the vacancies on the board of directors of the Reconstruction Corporation, the vast program of work ought to get into active operation within a comparatively few days.

The President has shown his determination to take politics out of the R. F. C. so far as that is possible by appointing four Democrats on the board of directors and only three Republicans. The reason for appointing a majority of Democrats is reported to be this: This Reconstruction Corporation is President Hoover's idea; that is admitted by the Democratic leaders. The President felt that if he appointed a majority of Republicans on the board of directors it might be charged that the corporation, clothed as it is with greater powers than were ever before granted to a political organization with the possible exception of the Federal Reserve Banking System, was to be used for the political advantage of the President. With the control of the corporation in the hands of Democrats this charge can not consistently be made.

Kansas Stays Dry.
New York Times.

Last spring Mr. William Allen White, finding no other trouble ready to his hand, proposed that there should be a State-wide referendum on prohibition. He might as well have proposed a referendum on the Ten Commandments. Ephraim is joined to his idols, though the number of the iconoclasts has been increasing.

Indictments of Democracy.
Topeka Capital.

Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, widow of the late President, has received, she says, a huge number of letters and telegrams in the last few weeks congratulating her on the fact that the Democrats have nominated her husband for the Presidency.

While you are mulling over the fact, consider also the fact that a man named Will Rogers is running for Congress in Oklahoma. He is not "the" Will Rogers; the papers have repeatedly called attention to the fact, but he got many thousands of votes in the recent primary from voters who thought that they were voting for the humorist.

Thinking of such things as these, one is inclined to wonder that the American democracy works as well as it does. A considerable number of voters, evidently, never read the newspapers, never talk of the affairs of the day with their fellows and have not the slightest notion what is going on in the world.

Hard to Beat.
Louisville Courier-Journal.

England has sent over a member of the House of Commons to compete in the Olympiad. America may not have a good enough runner in Congress to outfoot this hurdler; but if there are any fence-walking events, the Britisher would be wise to stand on the side lines.

What's Atlee's Swear Word?
Cincinnati Enquirer.

Pomerene will probably be able to fill Charley Dawes' place on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation satisfactorily, but he may feel handicapped now and then by not having any Helen Maria to relieve his feeling.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Old Timer Reminds Readers of Prices Following Civil War.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: There is a lot of loose talk about the currency system and the gold standard. Neither may be perfect, but they are the best we have thus far devised. Currency is used for small transactions, but in the aggregate its use is infinitesimal. Checks are used for the mass of commercial tranactions.

Gold has maintained its stability in cost of production. If this were not so, man would quit his ordinary occupations and go to mining gold. Such a course is not profitable, and so gold production goes on about the same in volume and cost each year. All the world might go "off the gold standard," so called, and still the traders would go on reckoning the value of their goods in gold. International transactions used to be reckoned in pounds sterling. Now they are reckoned in dollars. England has temporarily quit redeeming its pound note in gold and the note retains about 60 per cent of its former gold value on the prospect of a resumption of payment in gold.

The United States did about the same thing during the Civil War and later resumed specie payment. I remember it well. No one could tell between the value of a dollar the day before and the day after. People complain of low prices, yet we older men were brought up on these prices. In the eighties, butter fat sold for 12 cents a pound, eggs, 6 cents a dozen; corn for 15 cents a bushel, pork for 3 cents and fat cows for 2 cents a pound. Prices today are no lower than they were in the decade between 1880 and 1890. During the nineties carpenters' wages were 25 cents an hour. Jobs were impossible to find during the early nineties. People just forget. W. T. COE.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The lumber industry from the employment and milling standpoint is pretty much in the dumps like most other industries, and like other manufacturing plants, practically every sawmill, even though it has been shut down for a year or more, is selling lumber from the vast 1930 stock on hand. The tendency is to liquidate during any depression. Only a very small per cent of the numerous sawmills have kept their stock up to normal years.

The lumber industry controls the Pacific Northwestern States, and wealthy lumbermen living in the East and Middle West control the lumber industry. Those men working through, with, and leading the United States Chamber of Commerce have been hiring influential men for years, trying to bust the Sherman antitrust laws. At their Western meetings in Portland, in 1930, and in San Francisco, this year, 1932, at the United States Chamber of Commerce meetings, busting the Sherman antitrust laws seemed to be the main motive of the meetings, of which lumber leaders were the most persistent spokesmen.

Changing the antitrust laws to benefit the large lumber and mining trusts will not help us out of the depression. Instead, it will further depress the faith in Government and build for worse later. The many vacant houses in the cities with every available country shack filled or sought after indicates that national morale will have to be built up before material building starts again. Not one person I know wishes antitrust law changes except Chamber of Commerce leaders.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: There appeared an editorial on August 1 on Gov. Roosevelt's speech at Albany. You say that Gov. Roosevelt ought to know that abnormal demand was made upon the Government for construction work to relieve unemployment. Where is the construction work going on to relieve the unemployment? Certainly not in the City of Washington. There is plenty of work to be done on Pennsylvania avenue, but there seem to be very few hands doing it. On Pennsylvania avenue from Third street to Fifteenth street you will see a handful of men here and there where there should be thousands at work, for you had better let a man make a half loaf than no loaf at all. This relief plan for the unemployment is like the song, "The sun shines somewhere in this world for me, but where?" R. F. FORTUNE.

NICKNAMES.

American readers of the news from the Olympic games must miss the sobriquets which are a part of our own sporting literature, observes the New York Times. At Los Angeles are competitors from many countries, but only in the United States has been perfected the art of summing up the characteristics of an athlete's name, race or traits in a word or a phrase.

Carpentier had to come to America to be called "the Orchid Man." The same was true of Firpo, "Wild Bull of the Pampas;" Borotra, "the Bounding Basque," and Paulino, "the Woodchopper of the Pyrenees." No foreign sprinter in the wonderful race which Tolan won the other day, even if he were as black as the witching hour, would be called, as he is "the Midnight Express."

Americans insist upon nicknames. The late Charles Dryden was a master inventor. In his baseball writings Phillippi was always "the French King." Rogers Hornsby is "the Rajah" because he pronounces his first name somewhat like that. Nurmi on this side became at once "the Flying Finn." In Helsingfors he is just plain Paavo.

New Fossils Show Strange Early Man

Important Palestine Find Described to Science at London Session.

London, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Eons ago there lived in Palestine a creature like a man with a tremendously heavy jaw, overhanging brows and powerful arms and legs. Theodore McCown, a graduate of the University of California, told about him today at the Congress of Prehistoric Sciences.

The creature walked with a shambling gait and if one were to see him coming down the street he would seem an ugly brute, but not too fearsome.

Mr. McCown, as leader of an archeological expedition on Mount Carmel in Palestine, discovered eight fossil skeletons of the creature last spring. Sir Arthur Keith described the discovery today as "one of the most important finds yet made in this field." The skeletons date from the Mousteriate period and help to bridge the gap between the Neanderthal man and the modern Homo sapiens. The Mousterians, unlike the Neanderthal man, had chins.

Woodland Beach Sunday Program to BeContinued

The new type of entertainment sponsored by the social committee of the Woodland Beach Association last Sunday evening proved such a success that the committee plans to continue such programs each Sunday evening, from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock. Thomas P. Morrow is chairman of the committee. Mrs. Mary Ina Jackson is chairman of the program committee.

Tomorrow evening among those appearing on the program are Jack Schneider and Virginia Lee Moore, tap dancers; Tommie Morarre and his National Hawwaiians, and Mrs Charles Smith. Interspersing these special numbers, Mrs. Jackson directs group singing of folk and familiar songs. Two hours of dancing follow the early entertainment.

Crew of Ship Rescued.

Rush On for Seats For Hoover's Talk

Those Planning to Attend Notification Asked to Make Reservations.

"The requests for seats thus far for the notification ceremonies at Constitution Hall on the evening of August 11, has been so great as to make it very clear that all desiring to attend must get their requests in at once. These requests may be made directly to George deB. Keim, secretary of the Republican national committee, Barr Building, or to the members of the District of Columbia reception committee or to the National Capital Republican Club at Scott Circle, which is cooperating in the entertainment of visitors.

"It is the desire of those in charge of the ceremonies that to the extent of the capacity of the hall every Republican have the opportunity of hearing President Hoover's speech accepting the Republican nomination for the Presidency."

World Junior Chambers Proposed at Convention

Pasadena, Calif., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A resolution calling for formation of an international federation of junior chambers of commerce was presented to the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce convention today by E. R. West, of Los Angeles, chairman of the organization's international relations committee.

Lions Laud Hoover B. E. F. Action.

"Prompt and decisive action" of President Hoover in calling out troops to disperse the bonus marchers has been commended by the Lions Club of Washington, at a recent meeting. A resolution expressing such feeling was presented at the White House yesterday.

What Today Means to You

"LEO."

IF August 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a. m. to 12:30 p. m., from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 10 p. m. to 11:30 p. m. The danger periods are from 1 p. m. to 2:35 p. m. and from 8:15 p. m. to 9:30 p. m.

The sun will only shine at intervals on August 6, and it will be a day of varying moods. Events more aggravating than harmful will cast their shadows and "hit on the raw." Social affairs are not much in evidence, and will be lacking in spontaneous enjoyment. It will be a difficult time to study things out, and unravelling of problems should be left for another day.

The child born on this August 6 will have a gay, devil-may-care, irresponsible nature, full of life and laughter. It may become the so-called black sheep of the family, but it would be difficult to find a yellow streak in its real make-up. It will be casual but never dishonest, and it will never be a tattler. Friends of the wrong sort may be its undoing.

You, if born on August 6, will never become a learned person, but you are full of common sense and good practical knowledge which you can apply to your day's work. There is alertness, courage and progressiveness in your "make-up," and you have no "vested interest" in old ways simply because they are old and established customs. The willingness and power to use new facts is rarer than is the power to discover them—you are a bearer of new standards, not their originator.

There is a great deal of goodness in your nature, and your kindness has softened the blows for many another. You are not sentimentally soft or sympathetic, but you always give a generous hand to those who try to help themselves. Your life may be linked up with a confining business, or you may have sunk your brains and happiness in the making and sharing of a workman's home, but environment will never destroy your ability to find adventure and thrills out of your daily duties and contacts. You like people and consequently, they like you.

If you be a woman, you have the resilient qualities and all the domestic instincts of your sex. You are the type that flourishes in the home atmosphere and seems out of place in an office or factory.

Successful people born on August 6:
Tarkington Baker, editor.
James Loeb, retired banker.
Carl Henry Davis, obstetrician and gynecologist.
John H. Wheeler, U. S. Minister to Nicaragua.

How to Be Beautiful

By ELSIE PIERCE

"How Can I Be Beautiful Queries."

DEAR Miss Pierce: I keep up with your column every day and find it a great help. Am coming to you to help me as you have others. My legs are very ugly. They don't come close together like most girls'. Is there anything I can do, they are awful looking in a bathing suit. I am 15 years old, 5 feet 2 and weigh 106 pounds. Am I underweight? I have hazel eyes, brown hair. What are the most becoming colors? PAT.

You are a few pounds underweight, Pat. Try to gain and your legs and thighs will get their share. Swimming is a splendid exercise to develop thighs; dancing, climbing, too. After the hot bath at night, massage with warm cocoa butter is good. Good colors for you are soft, rich shade of blue and blue violet, rose-beige, black with color accents, soft shades of gold, warm grays, light orange, burnt orange and tomato, dark shades of orchid and purple, old silver. If you wish full information on weight gaining, send self-addressed, stamped envelope for leaflet on this subject; I also have a "beautiful legs" bulletin which may interest you.

* * * *

Dear Miss Pierce—This is the third time I've come to you for advice and you haven't failed me yet. I am blonde, but my hair has been turning darker and I thought I would like to have it bleached. Not platinum, but restored to its former color. I am going to get a permanent wave soon and want to know whether to get the bleach before or after. Is a bleach injurious? Can I remove a wrinkle that is just starting between my eyes, noticeable when the light shines on the side of my face, it seems?

A GRATEFUL READER.

Thank you for your nice letter. I would advise you to have the permanent first, and then the bleach if your hairdressing specialist advises it. Hair that has been bleached or dyed is more difficult to wave because the timing of the heat must take not only the hair texture into consideration but the penetration of the heat through the artificial color agent. Bleaching is not injurious, but continued bleachings tend to weaken and dry the hair. You certainly can dim the wrinkle. Start at once to pat across the wrinkle, with a good wrinkle oil.

* * * *

Dear Miss Pierce—Kindly send me a list of diet suitable for reducing 25 pounds. I am only 12 years old. Also tell me in what ways can I reduce by exercise. I live on the farm. Send booklet on reducing the safe way. STUBBY.

In the first place, Stubby, you did not inclose self-addressed, stamped envelope for my reducing leaflet. But I should hesitate to send you a reducing course in any case. At your age you should not adopt any strenuous reducing measures. Dance your way to slender grace. Exercise, bending, rope jumping if you are entirely healthy, running in place, rolling and squatting are all good. Try to avoid sweets and starchy foods and eat plenty of fruits and leafy vegetables. But be sure to consult with your physician before adopting any strenuous reducing measures.

* * * *

Dear Miss Pierce—I understand that vinegar and cocoanut or olive oil smoothed over the skin helps one to acquire an even tan? How is this done? Q. V.

Bathe parts to be exposed with ordinary cider vinegar, allow it to dry. Then smooth either oil over the skin generously. Allow to remain as long as possible. Blot surplus with tissues. Pat with powder. And don't expose the skin to the sun too long. Ten or fifteen minutes to begin with is enough.

A MOST DIFFICULT SQUEEZE.

WHAT Mr. Blake C. Hooper, of Cleveland, described as the most difficult squeeze play he had ever seen occurred in the play of the hand which appears in this article which was played recently in a Duplicate game in Cleveland. Mr. Hooper was the only player, holding the South hand, to make the Grand Slam contract in spades. The squeeze, it must be conceded, was difficult and unusual, and the hand itself intensely interesting.

South—Dealer.

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
2♠(1)	Pass	7♠(2)	Pass
Pass	Pass

1—South's distribution is unfavorable for a two-bid, but the fact that the hand, played at any declaration, contains 7 tricks, seemed to furnish justification to Mr. Hooper.

2—Deciding that partner's two-bid must contain honors in all suits, with not more than a single loser, regardless of the Opening, North, much too optimistically, bids for a Grand Slam on a hand containing only 1 honor-trick, but tremendous support in trumps.

West's Opening lead was the heart Knave, which was won with the Ace in the closed hand. Mr. Hooper then proceeded to lead from his own hand his four trumps. East followed suit once, then discarded the diamond 9 and the club 3 and 7. West first discarded the club 4, followed with the club 2 and then played the 3 and 4 of diamonds. To the sixth trick South led the 2 of diamonds, West played the 5, Dummy ruffed with the 7 of spades and East played the 10 of diamonds. The 8 of spades was now led from Dummy, and East was faced with a difficult choice of a discard. To throw a diamond would make the contract easy for South; so, after much thought, East discarded the 2 of hearts, and South discarded the 7 of hearts. West parted with his last diamond. A heart was now led from Dummy, won in the closed hand, and Mr. Hooper then laid down the diamond Ace, upon which the club 6 was discarded in the Dummy. Another diamond, which was trumped in Dummy, and Dummy's last trump completed a perfect triple squeeze.

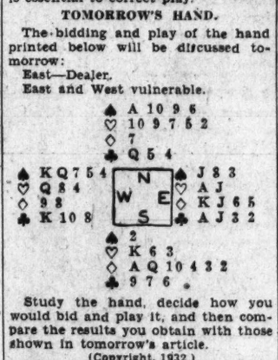
TODAY'S POINTER.

A squeeze play at Bridge is the utilization of the time factor. It is a recognition of the fact that two bodies can not occupy the same space at the same time. An appreciation of the unusual results frequently obtained through means of the squeeze is essential to correct play.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

The bidding and play of the hand printed below will be discussed tomorrow:

East—Dealer.
East and West vulnerable.



Study the hand, decide how you would bid and play it, and then compare the results you obtain with those shown in tomorrow's article.

Interpreting the Mode

By DARE

Clever Fingers makes over her hats into the latest models for fall! (Assisted by Dah-ray.)

NEW York, Aug. 5.—Well, it's just no time for hat styles to change! Not for we mere mortals who have to think of our pennies, ennyhow. I tellayou, Dame Fashion is not only a capricious ladyee—but a meanie, too, so there!

For hat fashions have changed, you know. Oh, of course you are only wearing your summer hats today—but you know you have the least little tiniest bit of panic about those fall hats that you see everywhere—in windows and in fashion articles and things.

Never mind and needn't-not! Dare to the rescue—your rescue, my deahs—not to mention her own. With the brightest ideas you can imagine for fooling the public, as well as your own pocketbook.

Why, just analyze the fall hats! The only thing really different about them is the very, very shallow brims—just little pancakes of affairs, really—but brims that seem nevertheless to actually perch on the head and not in the air. And then the way they are worn, no longer on the side of the head, but over the eyebrows—as they were worn not so very many years ago—'member?

So Clever Fingers took hope, and got out all her good felt or velvet or fabric hats, and—since they were hopelessly out of date anyhow—just ripped them up and experimented with making them over for her own self! And that's what comes of training any pretty fingers to be clever fingers—and reading the Dah-ray Collom!

'Course, even though Clever Fingers thought she could do it alone—she thought that she had better just for fun send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare Department of The Washington Post for the illustrated leaflet which would help her to make over her last year's hats into the very latest style for this fall and winter. Because she just knew that she couldn't wear 'em as they were, anyhow—and she had a very definite idea that maybe she could if she was very, very careful about following the instructions in the leaflet. Well, she did and could and would—and better hurry and send for this leaflet right this minute, before you forget.

"With my magic wand, child—fear not. But instantly, instantly, I command you to begin the after-summer care that will assure you of an alabaster complexion by the opening night of the opera."

"And what might it be, grandmother?"

"Well, for today, let's start with an egg."

"What, only an egg?"

"Yes; only an egg. An egg a day chases the freckles away—so let's start."

"Yes, grandmother."

How to Keep Well

By DR. W. A. EVANS

A CHILD MAY NEED CANDY.

THE rule is that children get too much candy. Their appetite for plain, wholesome foods is destroyed by the development of a sweet tooth. In this they match the adults who eat highly seasoned foods until they have no taste for the plain, wholesome, everyday dishes that should be the staff of their lives.

But the rule about the overuse of candies and other sweets by children has its exceptions.

Drs. Elias and Turner report four cases in which children were found unconscious, some with and some without convulsions, which state, on the one hand, was due to a deficiency of sugar and, on the other, was cured by administration of the food. In these cases it would be proper to say that sugar was a remedy as well as a food.

When children fall over unconscious we think first of acidosis as a cause. In some of these cases there was the sweetish odor that so often is held to decide that acidosis is responsible for the condition. Other diseases that come in for investigation are meningitis, sleeping sickness, the onset of a contagious disease, and epilepsy.

In these cases the physicians were not willing to stop short of getting all the information obtainable. They made blood analysis for sugar, and these showed that the symptoms were due to sugar hunger. Injections of sugar quickly restored consciousness, banished other symptoms, and cured the case. A guess is that, thereafter, the parents of these children saw to it that they were given enough candy and sugar, and the children took their medicine without fear of punishment or hope for further reward. These cases occurred in private practice in the course of four years, indicating that in the case of a fair number of children the restrictions on candies and sweets are rather too severe.

In making this report Drs. Elias and Turner got together ten articles on the same subject, all written within ten years, and half of the number reporting attacks of unconsciousness and convulsions in children resulting from diets that were deficient in sugars.

Sugar is a food with high values. It is easily absorbed and readily used by the body. Some years ago Dr. Seale Harris told us that when we are faint and trembly and feel all caved in and let down, the easiest and quickest way to pick up is to eat a lump or two of sugar or a few pieces of candy. Analyses show that the cause of that faint feeling is a shortage of blood sugar. When, in times past, we drink a cup of coffee or a toddy for that "gone" feeling it was the sugar in the mixture and not the coffee, whisky, or what else that supplied the needed punch or kick.

In all probability, at times, children become sugar hungry and their works threaten to run down from it just as is the case with adults.

LEGS ARE SKINNY.

G. P. writes: I have tried to develop my legs between the calf and ankle. I am more than average weight for my height and age, but can not seem to add any flesh to my legs. They are developed, so far as muscles are concerned—in fact, too much so. They are extremely thin, which makes the muscles in the calf quite pronounced. In fact, they are shaped like a man's. I am greatly embarrassed because of this and have given up swimming.

Could you suggest some exercise or light treatment, or is there some glandular disturbance which prevents some of my weight going to that part?

REPLY.

You are built that way and there is not much chance that you will ever be different. Toe, clog and tap dancing build up the calves, but it is the muscle that is increased. They decrease fat. Should you try to remedy your shape by getting fat, or even obese, the probability is that your lower legs would never get much of the fat. I wonder if you are not unduly concerned? Slim legs are greatly in favor.

TONSILS AND LUMPS.

Mrs. J. S. writes:

1. When granules or yellow lumps with an offensive odor come up from the throat would it mean the tonsils should necessarily be removed, or could it be from other sources?

2. Would this cause an offensive breath?

3. The odor is particularly offensive when crushed.

4. Would this condition also be the cause of the voice sounding blurred as though one were holding something in the mouth while speaking?

REPLY.

1. No. The tonsils can be emptied by massage or suction. The pockets can be slit or the tonsils removed.

2. Yes, such granules often cause halitosis.

3. That is usual. They contain an offensive bacillus.

4. No.

CONSULT A PHYSICIAN.

A Reader writes: I am a girl 25 years old. About two years ago I started taking fits, something like epilepsy. It was never in our family.

REPLY.

Let your physician decide whether you have epilepsy, hysteria or something else. If you have epilepsy some one should teach you how to live with the disease. Regulation of eating and exercise is an important part of the program. Certain dietetic treatments are being tried.

Anti-Semetic Outrage Charged.

Berlin, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—A delegation from the Central Federation of Citizens of the Jewish Faith laid before Wilhelm von Gayl, minister of the interior, today extensive material charging anti-Semitic outrages in East Prussia, Upper Silesia and other parts of Germany. Baron von Gayl promised them he would do all he could to protect the lives and properties of the Jews in those districts.

AN AMERICAN TOWN ASKS A LITTLE HELP.

"The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is now authorized to give aid to needy and worthy municipalities."—News Item.

* * * *

DEAR R. F. C.: If there is any community that needs more aid than ours does I would like to hear about it. Just how worthy we are I wouldn't attempt to state. It all depends on how you look at us. On our performance during the jazz era, I reckon we would strike any good financial experts as pretty worthless, but if you go back ten or fifteen years to the times when city government was more of a business than a racket we might look worth throwing a rope to, provided we gave suitable pledges of reform.

* * * *

We're just an average American city and, to avoid embarrassment, let's call us Jittery Heights. We're an old community and date back to the days when a man figured he'd had a pretty good year if he and his family came through without being scalped by Indians. For many years we lived as if we possessed common sense and knew how to add and subtract. We paid as we went, kept our budget balanced and thought we owed it to the residents to keep the taxes low. (Of course that's going back pretty far, but maybe some of you can recall it.)

* * * *

Then we began to go haywire. I guess it was just an offshoot of the financial insanity from which the country suffered from 1921 to 1929. Anyhow, the notion that economy and careful living were important blew up in about every community in the country; the idea that all bills had to be met became old-fashioned and the attitude of the city and town toward the taxpayers was expressed in those classic lines, "Never give a sucker an even break."

* * * *

Jittery Heights, like so many other cities, went berserk with official salaries and public works. Our salary list looked like a Hollywood pay roll in the boom years, and you couldn't even mention such things as three new municipal golf courses, a new reservoir or a bigger and better park system without bringing on an immediate appropriation by the board of finance.

* * * *

No city hall was considered adequate after its third year, and no town that kept its fire apparatus after the varnish lost its original gloss was considered up to date and alive to municipal needs. Community swimming pools were built on inaccessible mountain tops, public playgrounds were designed in the middle of swamps and the junior high school was traded in for a new building every eighteen months.

* * * *

Jittery Heights was a sucker for a snow-plow salesman, and by the end of 1928 it had enough newfangled snow removers on hand to transform Wrangel Island into a summer resort.

* * * *

Well, now we're just climbing out of the debris. And are we needy? Could we use a little aid from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation? Say, do seagulls need wings and can mice use cheese?

Yours hopefully,
ELMER TWITCHELL,
Mayor, Jittery Heights.

Destroyer Barker Wins Battle Efficiency Award

(Associated Press.)

The red pennant, centered by a black ball, which will fly from the mast of the destroyer Barker, means the ship has won the coveted honor for the highest rating in battle efficiency.

A white "E" on her bridge and another on her smokestack will indicate that she also won the gunnery and engineering competition in the destroyer class. The Barker, now in Asiatic waters, was commanded during the fiscal year just ended by Lieut. Comdr. James Kepler Davis, of Tionesta, Pa.

STANLEY Baldwin, former Prime Minister of England, Richard B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, and other distinguished Britons will speak over national networks today during the ceremonies of the opening of the Welland Ship Canal.

The channel is one of the most important links between the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence waterways, and one of the world's largest canals. It is the connecting link between Lake Erie and Lake Ontario, enabling ships to circumnavigate the natural barriers of Niagara Falls and the Famous Whirlpool Rapids.

The special broadcast, which will be carried over WMAL beginning at 1:45 o'clock and WRC at 2 o'clock, will open with a short description of the great engineering feat, followed by the playing of the national anthem and an inspection of the guard of honor by the Governor General of Canada, the Earl of Bessborough. Baldwin, Bennett and others will then speak briefly, after which the canal will be opened officially.

VERBAL military orders over an N. B. C. network from Washington were received and executed with precision yesterday by the 24th Reserve Marines at Great Lakes Training Station, in Chicago.

Maj. Chester L. Fordney, who commanded the Marines at the training station, reported that the experiment was a success. He said it was not necessary to repeat a single order.

An original fairy story, "Princess Golden Hair and the Wonderful Flower," has been dramatized for presentation in two episodes during the children's program over WMAL today at 10 a. m. and next Saturday.

JOHN BARRETT, former American Minister to the Argentine, Panama and Colombia, will speak on the Institute of Public Affairs program (WMAL), 9:15 o'clock) tonight. His subject will be "South America in Turmoil," and he will deal specifically with such topics as the threatened war between Bolivia and Paraguay, civil war in Brazil and the Chilean revolution.

Listeners will be taken on a radio trip through the Empire State during the broadcast of Our Daily Food series, "Dining Around the States," this morning (WRC, 8:45 o'clock). A typical New York menu will be given.

The Lewisohn Stadium Concert, conducted by Albert Coates, will be heard over WMAL beginning at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The selections include:

Four German Dances (Mozart), Tone Poem, "Don Juan" (Strauss); "Cortege des Noces," from Suite, "Le Coq d'Or" (Rimsky-Korsakoff); Eight Russian Folk Songs (Liadoff), and the Prelude and Liebestod from "Tristan" (Wagner).

THE Coral Islanders, under the direction of William Lincoln, will do five numbers (WMAL, 9:45 o'clock) tonigh', including "Will will wal," a native ballad, and "He Manoa he Aloha," a native love song.

DAVE HARRIS SPOILS BRIDGES' NO-HIT GAME IN 9TH

Bill Carr Smashes All Records to Win Olympic 400 Meters

This Morning with SHIRLEY L. POVICH

TOM BRIDGES is entitled to curse the bat of Dave Harris, who jerked him off the threshold of the Hall of Fame yesterday with the Nats' only hit of the contest after two were out in the ninth, but Bucky Harris, the Tigers' manager, has no right to weep.

Harris it was who engineered the blasting of Ted Lyons' hopes in a similar situation at Griffith Stadium in 1926 when Bucky was managing the Nats and Lyons needed to dispose of only the last batter to inscribe his name among the pitching greats who had achieved no-hit games.

The Nats were hopelessly behind in that game, too. Lyons had a lead of 15 runs when the first two Washington batters went out in the ninth. Whatever milk of human kindness that might have coursed the veins of the Nats' manager apparently had soured, for Harris sent in as a pinch hitter Bobby Veach, one of the surest hitters of his time.

Among a generous portion of the fans, Walter Johnson may be censured for his action in sending the league's best pinch-hitter against Bridges to spoil a no-hit game when the chances of a thirteen-run rally with two out in the ninth were niller than nil, but Dave Harris must be held blameless.

Harris was sent to bat for Burke with instructions to hit, or he would not have been sent to bat. If Bridges could dispose of Harris, then he truly deserved his no-hit triumph. If he couldn't, there is none to say that he deserved the honor.

Johnson can ward off any blame for his action easily with the defense that as long as there is a chance to win the game, his ball players are going to try to win it. That is baseball, undisputably. Any kindly gestures toward Bridges would have detracted from the young Tiger pitcher's performance had he succeeded in twirling a perfect game. It was too bad, but beyond that it was baseball.

Only four pitchers in modern baseball have achieved the distinction of pitching the perfect game. Not the no-hit game, but the no-hit, no-run, no-man-reach-first game. Cy Young, pitching for the Red Sox against the Athletics did it in 1904 and four years later Addie Joss, hurling for Cleveland against the White Sox, repeated the stunt. Ernie Shore, of the Red Sox entered this particular section of the Hall of Fame in 1917, pitching against Washington, and Charlie "No-Hit" Robertson, of the White Sox, pitched the last perfect game in 1922, against the Tigers.

Robertson's feat was the most astounding of all. He was a raw rookie from the minors when he turned in his sensational performance against the Tigers. The Detroit club then, with Cobb, Veach and Heilmann in the outfield, were the slugging kings of the league, and the rookie's feat was virtually unbelievable.

Cobb protested officially that Robertson tampered with the ball, but the umpires refused to sustain him, and the rookie's perfect game went into the record books. Every other perfect game author was a recognized pitching star of his day, but Robertson failed to make the grade in the majors and after playing in the Coast League was released to the Southern Association.

The most peculiar of all no-hit games was Ernie Shore's perfect performance in 1917, and it required an official league ruling for the game to be recognized as such not willfully interfere with No. 433 (Hill) in the finish." Holz, for diplomatic reasons, acted for the nominal chief judge, Gustavus T. Kirby, of the United States, in making the final announcement of Lehtinen's victory.

This weird and unfortunate episode so upset the Olympic proceedings that it was necessary to relay the 400-meter final a half hour, but the crowd found it well worth waiting for, as Carr, with another of his dazzling finishes, ran away from Ben Eastman in the stretch to win by 2 good yards.

The boy from Arkansas and the University of Pennsylvania, who never ran the quarter mile unitl this year, turned in the greatest performance of five dazzling days of Olympic competition. His slim legs whirled him around the sun-baked, lightning fast oval in as fine an exhibition of speed-racing as has ever been witnessed at any distance.

Carr Shatters Marks.

Carr not only smashed all records, but obliterated them with his unbeatable drive down the stretch. His time of 46.2 seconds wiped out the listed world mark of 47 seconds as well as his own unofficial mark of 46.9 seconds, made in the final American trials. It clipped a full second and four-tenths off the old Olympic mark of 47.6 seconds, made in 1924 by Eric Liddell, of Great Britain, and was a full second faster than the time Carr registered in the semifinals earlier in the afternoon.

For the third and final time, at least, for 1932, Carr's mastery over Eastman was proved to the complete satisfaction of all concerned. The big blond Stanford runner, again in superb form, ran a great race. He negotiated the first 200 meters in the remarkable time of 22.7 seconds as he took the lead, but yielded to Carr's rush around the final turn and down the stretch. Eastman simply did not have the final "kick" to match Carr's burning pace, but Big Ben needed to make no apology for finishing second in 46.4 seconds, also well under the former world record.

So swift was the pace that even the third runner, Alex Wilson, of Canada, who was second in the record-breaking 800-meter final to Tom Hampson, was clocked in 47.4 seconds, under the old Olympic mark.

British Star Is Eliminated.

The big surprise of the 400 was the failure of the widely heralded British threat, Lieut. Godfrey Lionel Rampling, even to reach the final. Rampling was shut out by George Golding, of Australia, for the third qualifying position in the semifinal that Carr won in 47.2 seconds. Britain's last hopes then faded when C. Hallett Stoneley, another runner "feared" by the Americans, was eliminated in the second semifinal, which Eastman captured in 47.6 seconds.

Meanwhile, as a sideshow for the big crowd, the decathlon championship swung through five of the ten events, at the conclusion of which the American Indian star, Wilson (Buster) Charles, of Kansas, held the lead with the sensational total of 4,266.20 points.

Charles came through with brilliant performances, including a broad jump of 23 feet 9 inches and the best high jump, 6 feet 1 inch, to take the lead over an all-star field.

Thirteen all-around athletes survived the first day's grind. The remaining starter, Hector Berra, of the Argentine, dropped out after sharing the lead with Charles for the first two events, the 100-meter dash and broad jump.

Charles' total, helped along by a third place in the dash, fourth in the 400-meter run and tenth in the shot put, represented a world record pace, if he can sustain it in the five concluding events tomorrow.

His nearest rivals, with their aggregate totals, were Janis Dimsa, of Latvia, second, with 4,181 points; Akilles Jarvinen, of Finland, holder of the world record, third, with 4,168.76 points; Hans Sievert, of Germany, fourth, with 4,158.21 points, and James Bausch, American champion, fifth, with 4,029.35 points.

Grove Also Hits Home Run; Browns Take Game in 10th.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The St. Louis Browns went ten innings today to take the second game of the series from Philadelphia, 9 to 8, each side using three pitchers.

Campbell's homer gave the Browns two runs in the first and Scharein's double in the third drove in three more, but the Athletics counted six times in the fifth. Their lead was brief, however, with St. Louis making a pair of runs in the same inning.

Foxx's homer, his forty-second of the season, tied the count in the next frame. In the ninth, Lefty Grove, relief hurler, almost won his own game with a home run. When St. Louis came to bat he weakened and there were two on when Ferrell's double brought in the winning runs.

CUBS ROUTED BY PHILLIES, 9 TO 2

Benge Holds Chicago Safe; Grimm Feels Sting of Defeat.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Charley Grimm experienced the sadder side of managerial life today when the Phillies hammered the offerings of three Chicago pitchers for fifteen hits and a 9-to-2 victory.

While Ray Benge held the Cubs safe, the Phils returned to their slugging ways and evened the series. It was Benge's ninth win of the season.

Hansen Returns To D. C. Mat Wars

Hansen was matched here in 1926 against Joe Stecher, then world's champion, and lost two of three falls.

In the evening's windup Kola Kwiriani, or plain "Koko Kolo" if you prefer it, wrestles Frank Speer. Two of three falls will be required.

Women Stars In Singles Finals

Marion Butler Bows in Semifinal; Play at Columbia.

LOUISE HOFMEISTER, who apparently plays a brand of tennis such as local netwomen see only in the newsreels or upon their yearly pilgrimages to Forest Hills, reached the final round of the annual District of Columbia championship for women yesterday at Columbia Country Club, beating Mrs. Lee D. Butler, 6—0, 6—3.

Today, at 2 o'clock, Miss Hofmeister, who holds the Chicago City and Wisconsin State championships, meets Sara Moore, the local public parks player who is at the peak of her form.

Miss Moore made good her sensational quarter-final round win over Mrs. Ruth Martinez by vanquishing Marion Butler, 6—2, 6—3, yesterday in the semifinals.

Miss Hofmeister Favored.

While Miss Hofmeister looms as an outstanding favorite today by reason of her low trajectory flat drives which skim over the net with good length and excellent pace, she will find in Sara Moore about the most determined netwoman in the city. Armed with an offensive chop and a willingness to volley, Miss Moore may make a real battle of it today.

Helen Jacobs Opposes Mrs. Harper in Final

Easthampton, N. Y., Aug. 5 (A.P.). America's No. 2 and No. 3 ranking women tennis players today gained the final round of the Maidstone Club invitation tournament as Helen Jacobs, of Berkeley, Calif., eliminated Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper defeated Joan Ridley, of England, in the semifinals.

Miss Jacobs, defeating Miss Cruickshank for the second time in ten days, allowed her opponent only five games, winning 6—1, 6—4. Mrs. Harper, former national titleholder, was carried to three sets before she managed to turn back the hard-hitting British star, 10—8, 2—6, 6—3.

DAVE HARRIS.

Special to The Washington Post.

NAVIN FIELD, Detroit, Aug. 5.—Probably the most unpopular man in Detroit tonight is the genial Dave Harris, pinch hitter extraordinary of the Nationals. With the Tigers leading, 13 to 0, in the ninth and two men out, Manager Walter Johnson sent Harris to the swinging block to hit for Bob Burke. And Harris did hit, singling cleanly to left, to rob Pitcher Tom Bridges of a no-hit, no-man-reach-first ball game.

As Sam Rice, next up, went out on a grounder, the blow did the Nationals no good and kept the young hurler from entering baseball's "Hall of Fame;" hence, Harris' unpopularity tonight not only with the 8,000 fans at the game, but throughout the entire city. In fact, one mixing about the street corners would think that Dave had committed murder, judging from the remarks made concerning him.

Bridges' Performance Outstanding.

Bridges' performance, of course, was the outstanding feature of the game. He struck out seven and walked none, pitching as many as three balls to but two batters. He mowed down the Nats like a machine gun. Only six were able to drive the ball out of the infield, and only one of these chances was a difficult one, until Harris appeared upon the scene with two gone in the ninth.

Evidently figuring that, if Bridges were to get credit for a no-hit game, he would have to earn it, even though his team was 13 runs behind, Manager Walter Johnson called on Dave to bat for Burke. And Harris, who gets paid for hitting the same as Bridges does for pitching, smote the first ball pitched squarely on the nose for a clean one-baser to left. He was up there trying, as he always is, but this probably is the only hit that he has ever made that he regrets.

While the Nationals never had a chance to win, in view of the manner in which Bridges performed against them, Lloyd Brown and Bob Burke, on the hill for the Nats, looked like the two worst pitchers in the world.

Indians Again Trounce Red Sox by 7-2 Score

Cleveland, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The Red Sox matched hit-for-hit with Cleveland today but lost their third straight of the series, 7 to 2. Mel Harder was headed for a shutout until Morgan fumbled two chances in the eighth. The Tribe's first baseman redeemed himself at the bat, however, by slamming out a triple, double and single.

The victory was Cleveland's thirteenth from Boston in fourteen meetings this season.

MISS MARR ANNEXES HAWTHORNE FEATURE IN HEAVY RAIN

I Say Beaten Half Length In Drive

Seven Veils Third in Sprint; Supreme Sweet Tires.

HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, Ill., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Showing high disregard for a heavy rain which started just before the race, Mrs. Emil Denemarks' Miss Marr came from behind to win the Rose of Sharon purse, top event at Hawthorne today.

Supreme Sweet acted as pacemaker for four of the 6½ furlongs, and when she gave up, Miss Marr took command to win over I Say by a half length. Miss Marr ran the distance in 1:20 2-5, and rewarded her backers with $7.48 to win. Seven Veils finished third.

Suntica Wins in New York.

Saratoga Race Track, Aug. 5 (A.P.) Willis Sharpe Kilmer's Suntica, winner of the Latonia, Kentucky and Illinois Oaks, showed Saratoga racegoers a sample of her speed today by accounting for the Test Stakes and $2,975. The bay daughter of Sun Briar, under 128 pounds, got up in the final strides of the 7-furlong test, to beat Mrs. Payne Whitney's Parry, the odds-on choice, by a nose. Unique, from the Wheatley Stable, was third. As the second choice, Sunica paid 13 to 5.

JOE AND ASBESTOS

(Watch Sunday's Post for New Secret Code) —By Ken Kling

Asbestos tried to put over another long shot yesterday, but the horse ran second and the roll lost 30 cents. It is now $45.96. He expected the O. K. on Baby Bane at Thistledown for today, but no word was received by press time. Instead he got 14, 7, 2, 9, 22, 2, 11, 4, 21 at Dorval.

AT THE POST
with Bill Bennings

DEAR AL: HAWTHORNE RACE TRACK, CHICAGO, AUG. 5.

They're expecting the big race tomorrow to gross $36,000 and I forsee Pittsburgher taking down the major chunk. I look for no outstanding favorite in the race unless the crowd gets especially worked up about Faireno and Blenheim, the New York pair. My Three-X special here is MARMION. Get yours.

Mike wired two from Saratoga. Take them or leave them. Here they are: Rubio and Cattail.

BILL.

FIRST RACE—FLIRTING was beaten a neck last time and with better racing luck appears to be capable of taking these into camp. HOPE TO DO, if moved into the race, will be the leading contender. LERACK may be the third one.

SECOND RACE—SYRINX is a bear for heavy going and the track may be that way at post time tomorrow. This one is bound to be a price and I recommend an across-the-board wager. OSWEGO PRINCESS and TERRY LASS to battle it out for the place.

THIRD RACE—PORTCODINE can be picked in this without any heavy explaining. Likes the going, the distance and is reported in top shape. FLAG TIME should beat TOMBEREAU for the place.

FOURTH RACE—Can't resist the opportunity to pick MARMION on top in this field. CATHOP is consistent and ready and appears to have the edge on ETCETERA for the place.

FIFTH RACE—That place performance turned in by ROYAL RUFFIAN at Arlington was the indicator, I do believe. This fellow has regained that terrific stretch speed and watch him roll today. B'AR HUNTER has been freshened up and is the same dangerous animal. KINCSEN to take care of the others.

SIXTH RACE—PITTSBURGHER drops a big chunk of weight and so rigged with only 105 pounds gets my backing in the big race. FAIRENO has the speed and is apt to make the top fellow hustle. EVERGOLD, the improved one, may be the upset medium.

SEVENTH RACE—SEARINGTON is a long-shot possibility in this. Has made some moves that show promise. A 1, 2, 3 bet will bring profits. I believe. WHITE LEGS and WHO WIN for the remainder.

EIGHTH RACE—SUITOR is asked to stretch his old dogs at a mile and a quarter, something he can do on occasions, especially when the track is soft enough to sooth those ailing hoofs. HARAMZADA and GAY PARTY for the rest.

PILOTS DOWN CUBANS BY 8 TO 7

Capital Club Accounts for First Nocturnal Victory Here.

THE Pilots won their first nocturnal game on their home grounds last night at the Griffith Stadium when they defeated the Cuban All-Stars, 8-7, in a well-played game. The Cubans scored in the first when Arango's single drove Manssip home, but the Pilots tied the score in the second when Suttles hit to right field, stole second and came home on Johnson's slow bounder to short.

The count was tied again in the seventh after the Pilots had scored three runs in the sixth, Lopez hitting to the centerfield corner for the circuit. But the Pilots came back strong in the eighth, Dunn leading off with a bunt down the third base line that went for a single and was followed by "Mule" Suttles' triple to the right field fence, scoring Dunn. Creacy walked and Suttles came home on a double steal. Hayes' liner to Solis scored Creacy with the run that won the game.

The Pilots will meet the Baltimore Black Sox in a double-header today, the first game at 1:30 o'clock. Sunday they will meet the Atlantic City Bachrach Giants at 3 o'clock.

THIS MORNING:

Babe Ruth started as the Boston pitcher against the Nats. After walking Ray Morgan, the first batter, Ruth became involved in an argument with Umpire Owens and was ejected from the game. Without warming up, Shore went in to pitch. Morgan was out stealing and Shore then retired the next 26 batters in order. After considerable deliberation he was credited with a perfect game despite the fact that he was not the starting pitcher.

Storage-Jeweler Melee Tomorrow

The game between the Franc Jewelers and Federal Storage, which has an important bearing on the outcome of the flag race in section B, unlimited division, of the Capital City League, will be played tomorrow as originally scheduled. The contest was called off earlier in the week when the manager of the Franc nine asked for a postponement because several of his players will leave tomorrow for C. M. T. C. training camps. In the event that the Federals win and Columbia Heights loses tomorrow they will be tied for the lead.

The departure of the Union Printers for their annual convention and baseball series to be held this year in Milwaukee forces a postponement of the team's game with City Cab in section A. It will be one of three postponed league games which will be played next Sunday.

SEMIFINALS REACHED IN NET PLAY

Choices Win in Playground Championship Event.

THE Playground tennis championship for boys ran full blast through the thick of yesterday's heat and saw the field diminished to a few survivors as play moved into the semifinal round in several of the sections of play.

Happy Jacob, Montrose, favorite to cop the senior title, romped into the round of four with a 6—0, 6—1 victory over Pete Buonoviri, of Rosedale. Spencer Howell, also of Montrose, first seeded player in the junior division, won two matches, beating Phil Boundford, of Gordon, 6—2, 6—3, in the first and then nosing out Don Dunlap, of Happy Hollow, 6—4, 6—4, in one of the best matches of the day.

Ray Victor in Lengthy Struggle.

In a three-hour struggle, John Ray, representative of Chevy Chase Playgrounds in the junior division, nosed out diminutive Melvin Dower, of Takoma Park, 7—5, 4—6, 6—4.

Play opened in the colored section of the playground championship at Howard with large crowds cheering the favorites on. Matches were exceptionally close.

The vast tournament, which is drawing to a close after the elimination of nearly 1,600 juvenile tennis players, continues this morning with a few scattered matches at Chevy Chase and Howard playgrounds.

HARRIS' HIT SPOILS NO-HIT PERFORMANCE

especially in view of the showing of their rival. They were knocked all over the lot, granting 15 hits, which the Tigers bunched like bananas, walking a total of four and uncorking one wild pitch apiece.

Brown Knocked Out In Fourth.

Brown started and pitched hitless ball for three frames. Then he seemed to lose everything he had. The first four men to face him singled, he uncorked a wild pitch before striking out Walker, Rhiel was intentionally walked to fill the bases, and then Schuble doubled. Brown went to the crying room at this stage and Burke, who relieved him, walked two and granted two more singles before the third out was turned in.

This frame netted seven runs and the Tigers added on six more before the finish. It was a slap-bang victory for Detroit, making it two out of three for the series, but it was a heart-breaker for Bridges. The set ends here tomorrow with Johnson likely to call on Dick Coffman, in view of the fact none of his regular starters is available.

D. C. BOXERS BEATEN BY D'CAPUA

DeCapua, now in training at Bob Godwin's Herald Harbor camp, first splashed into recognition against a local scrapper down in Virginia a few years back.

Willie Ptomey, rough, tough Mohawk Club middleweight, was riding the crest of a victorious wave when he bumped into DeCapua. Surprisingly enough, the Italian knocked Ptomey out 'n jig time.

Barry Was Handed Beating.

Shortly afterward, Reds Barry, then just stepping into prominence, was routed against DeCapua at Portsmouth, Va. Again the Italian made good, handing Barry the most artistic lacing he has ever received.

Having since whipped a flock of durable light-heavies, DeCapua is convinced he can add Benovic to his string.

Threatening to steal the play away from the main event is the six-round semifinal returning Sammy Britt against Young Van. Knocked out by Britt in less than a round last Monday night, Van is pointing eagerly for revenge.

Tickets are available at Vic's.

Garibaldi Matched With Jim McMillan

Gino Garibaldi gets another chance to test his newly developed knockout punch when he pits his brawn and trusty right uppercut against agile young Jim McMillan in the feature match of Joe Turner's wrestling card to be presented Thursday night at Griffith Stadium. Following several weeks of victorious campaigning in this city, the two are in rare form for the match and the fans are in a receptive mood for it.

McMillan pinned the shoulders of Lou Plummer, who has found plenty of favor with the local mat maniacs in their bout last week. Two weeks ago he disposed of Fred Grobmeier with one of his famed tackles when the scissors expert appeared well on his way to victory. But it is believed that Jim will encounter his Waterloo when he bumps into this Garibaldi person.

Gino scored another of his semi-boxing victories last Thursday, disposing of Frank Brunowicz. Always a good showman he engineered an encore by offering his hand to Frank, who took his cue nicely and plastered a right to Garibaldi's jaw. Disinterested parties halted the fracas, holding the combatants apart with finger holds.

THE FISH ARE BITING.

Hardheads, trout, bluefish and spot are alleged to be begging for bait off Sharps Island, according to Capt. Noah Hazard, of Chesapeake Beach.

Stocks Take Higher Ground In Defiance of Profit Sales

Trading Volume Declines to 2,690,370 Shares; Gains Trimmed.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Stocks ploughed ahead with most commodities today, although activity in the share market was reduced. Profit taking seemed to hold few if any terrors for the confident bulls, who bid prices up sharply at the close, after realizing sales had cut into extreme gains of 1 to 7 points made during the morning's upward excursion.

Case and International Harvester, which a few weeks ago were plumbing the depths of despair, charged ahead to respective net gains of about 8 and 7 points, respectively. Sears-Roebuck was also prominent, up 3⅝.

American Telephone, again a leader, closed at its day's high, 101⅝, for a net gain of 3⅝.

Western Union rallied more than 3. American Can, American Water Works, American Tobacco "B," Allied Chemical, Santa Fe, Union Pacific, National Biscuit and Westinghouse closed roughly 1½ to 3 points higher.

Although turnover was reduced to 2,690,270 shares, the market remained in strong hands throughout the session, especially at the opening and closing. Brokers reported foreign purchasing orders were coming in freely, despite the feeling in more conservative quarters here that the rise might be getting topheavy.

New proposals for stimulating business, such as the reputed arrangement on commodities and the move to expand railroad purchases of equipment, coincide closely with reviving security markets.

This week's mercantile reviews emphasize the higher spirits now prevailing.

THE MARKETS AT A GLANCE

What the Stock Market Did

	Fri.	Thurs.
Number of advances	396	390
Number of declines	140	192
Stocks unchanged	149	156
Total issues traded	685	738

Stocks.

Advance was pushed 1 to 7 points higher in early trading, which yielded in part later to profit-taking. The turnover dropped to 2,690,270 shares. Market closed approximately 3 points to the good.

Bonds.

Indifference and dull trading failed to prevent an average rise of one-tenth on a sale of $10,861,000.

Curb.

Wheat.

The market stampeded in rushes of buying to a 2-cent per bushel advance, but gave up part of rise in a determined selling drive.

Cotton.

Southern selling clipped early gains, and the quotations closed 5 to 9 points higher. Liverpool hedged. Decembers sold up to 6.15.

Montgomery Ward Sales Drop.

Chicago, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Sales of Montgomery Ward & Co., totaled $11,804,281 in July, a decrease of 22.9 per cent from July 1931, officials said today.

BANKING INSTITUTE APPOINTS WHITTON

Virginia Organization Adds Alexandria Financier to Executive Council.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Robert H. Whitton, assistant cashier, First National Bank of Alexandria, Va., and president of the Mortgage Finance Corporation of Alexandria, has been appointed associate executive councilman of the American Institute of Banking for the State of Virginia, according to announcement from headquarters of Washington Chapter of the institute.

Mr. Whitton has been a member of Washington Chapter since 1924 and is a graduate of its courses. He has served two terms on the board of governors of the local chapter and has won a number of its prizes for class work.

The investor is now in a position where he must recognize the fact that, with prices already advancing both in stocks and bonds, a more aggressive buying policy is warranted, says the Standard Statistics Co. of New York in a recent bulletin.

The company is now even more firmly of the definite belief, initially expressed June 6, that a further extension of commitments in selected securities is thoroughly justified. Purchases are recommended in both the higher grade and lower priced divisions of the bond list. Limited purchases of preferred stocks are likewise viewed with favor.

While fixed income securities afford a more stable basis of investment than equities in the current uncertain times, the company believed that the low levels of common stocks now existing amply discount unfavorable developments, including the continuation of minimum corporation earnings over the near future.

Building in Southern States Increases to $259,569,000

Baltimore, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Climbing consistently since April, construction contracts in sixteen Southern States reached $213,569,000 for the first seven months of the year, with nearly $46,000,000 in new contracts added during July, the Manufacturers Record says in its current issue published today.

The $46,000,000 figure exceeds the April figure by 76 per cent; the May total, by more than 30 per cent, and the June total, by more than 5 per cent, the Record says.

By including numerous small projects for which contracts were awarded but which were not reported separately, the seven-month total is conservatively estimated at $260,000,000.

BONDS PUSH HIGHER IN QUIETER TRADING

Dull Session Also Reduces Sales to $10,861,000; Speculators Blamed.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Bonds were indifferent to soaring stock market values today and moderate irregularities marked a comparatively dull session.

Total sales dropped to $10,861,000, par value, and only a revival of interest in the utilities prevented the average for 60 corporate loans from closing with a fractional minus sign. As it was, this average registered a gain of one-tenth of a point.

Some bonds of Santa Fe, Canadian Pacific, Delaware & Hudson, Burlington, Pennsylvania, Nickel Plate, St. Louis Southwestern and Union Pacific showed substantial gains. The industrials were without particular interest.

The United States Government list had no appreciable following, although prices were steady. German and Japanese obligations were heavy and the Argentines slumped from 1 to 3 points in light trading.

CURB FORGES HIGHER IN CONFIDENT SPIRIT

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The Curb Market continued to forge ahead in vigorous fashion today, resisting easily one or two waves of profit-taking and closing around the top. Transactions totaled 300,000, which was a little less than the previous day's volume. It was another red-letter day for utilities, in which advances ran from 1 to 5 points. Columbia Gas & Electric convertible preferred and Alabama Power preferred gained 4, and Electric Bond & Share 6 per cent preferred, 3.

Oils stepped ahead briskly, influenced by strength in the same group in the big board.

Industrial specialties covered further broad ground on the upside, lead by Aluminum Co. of America, which rose 3 points; Pepperel Manufacturing, 3; Singer Manufacturing, 2½; Western Auto Supply, 2; Sherman Williams, 54, and Driver-Harris, 2.

COTTON RISE SLICED BY SOUTH'S SELLING

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—An early advance in cotton today was followed by fractions under a little Southern selling and realizing. December contracts, after selling up to 6.23 early, declined to 6.14, and closed at 6.15, with the general market closing barely steady at new advances of 5 to 9 points.

There was a little selling through the brokers supposed to be acting for the cooperative interests. October declined to 5.97 and March to 6.35, making reactions of 7 to 9 points from the high levels of the morning.

A private report made the condition 67.3 and the indicated crop 11,824,000 bales. Another placed the condition at 68.3 and the indicated crop at 12,175,000 bales, while a third gave no condition but pointed to a crop of 12,596,000 bales.

Liverpool cables said that trade calling had been supplied by hedge selling at the advance in that market. Exports today, 19,169, making 59,270 so far this season.

Bank of France Losing Gold First Time in Years

Paris, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Steady loss of gold by the Bank of France for the first time in several years was commented upon in today's papers.

The articles said a drop in the gold reserve of 143,000,000 francs (approximately $5,720,000) reported yesterday may mean that France no longer is the refuge for foreign investments.

The newspaper L'Avenir said that gold is now flowing back toward America, the steadying of the dollar having brought France close to the gold point.

WHEAT PRICES GAIN ON BUYING PRESSURE

Heavy Selling Cuts Advance; Corn and Oats Yield to Rural Offerings.

Chicago, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Taking the bit in its teeth, the wheat market stampeded to much higher price levels today. Only by hours of huge concentrated selling operations were prices driven part of the way back. Stories of pools being organized to advance commodity values, especially wheat, led to persistent rushes of buying, ascribed in great degree to the general public.

After jumping 2 cents a bushel, wheat closed unsettled, ⅛ to 1⅜ above yesterday's finish; corn, unchanged to ⅜ off; oats, at ⅛ decline to ⅛ advance, and provisions, unchanged to a rise of 20 cents.

Confirmation of crop damage in Canada was emphasized by assertions that rains now would not add much to wheat yields.

Another stimulus was word that the harvested area in Russia totaled 21,000,000 bushels less than last year. Corn and oats sympathized with wheat strength, but met enlarged rural offerings.

Provisions responded to hog market upturns.

LOSSES STILL MARK RUBBER OPERATIONS

Pacific Phone and Hudson Motors Also Report Net Income Declines.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The United States Rubber Co., for the first six months of 1932, reports a net loss of $5,028,399 against a loss of $4,660,000 in the first half of 1931. Net sales for the 1932 period totaled $42,432,014, compared with $60,540,074 for the first six months of 1931.

Loss from operations, after interest but before provision for depreciation, amounted to $843,369. Depreciation charges totaled $4,185,930.

Nevada Consolidated Copper Co., a Kennecott subsidiary, had net loss of $1,158,167 in the first half year, contrasted with profit of $375,831 in the same 1931 period. Figures in both instances are before depreciation and depletion.

San Francisco, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Net income of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph and associated companies for the first half of 1932 was announced today as $8,266,532, compared with $9,715,064 for the first half of 1931. Earnings were $510,968 less than dividend requirements.

Detroit, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The Hudson Motor Car Co. today reported a net loss of $1,886,307.12 for the three months ended June 30, 1932. This was after all charges, including $740,647.82 for depreciation.

The company announced at the same time that shipments of automobiles from its factories for the first half of July totaled 4,621 units, the largest for a period of similar length in more than a year.

Copper Continues Advance.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Copper in the foreign market stepped up another rung on the ladder of firming prices today. Asking rates for the metal, outside of France, are now based upon 5.20 to 5.25 cents a pound, c. i. f. Hamburg and London. French quotations are around 5.25 cents, Havre.

Dollar Wins Paris Brokers.

Paris, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Splendid recovery of the dollar and the boom on the Wall street market were the principal topics for discussion on the bourse today. Local operators, tired of the persistent inactivity on the local market, are turning their attention to Wall street.

Hosiery Work Increases.

Phoenixville, Pa., Aug. 5 (A.P.).—The Ajax Hosiery Co., with mills here and in Pottstown, Pa., now employing about 600 workers will go on a full time schedule with 1,500 employes August 15, Stanton D. Sanson, president of the company, said today.

OPTIMISM SPREADS IN GENERAL TRADES

Security, Commodity Rise Renews Confidence, Week's Survey Shows.

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Rising security prices in conjunction with other constructive factors of recent origin have helped to widen the new feeling of optimism in business and trade circles, the weekly mercantile reviews report.

Bradstreet's said that prospects for stabilization of wholesale prices and promise of better employment conditions from the Government relief measures are proving potent factors in lifting the spirits of business interests.

"A feature in retail trade," said this review, "is the large number of sales going on for the purpose of clearing out summer stocks to make room for fall merchandise. Due to the careful buying by merchants this year, stocks of summer goods are not excessive and there is considerable satisfaction in the prospect of a small amount of carry-over."

Dun's, in a still more cheerful summary of conditions, said: "In the sustained advance of trade expansion and the rising commodity and security markets, overcautiousness gradually is disappearing by major commercial branches. Reports received during the current week reflect a furtherance of buoyant sentiment regarding improved conditions and a more pronounced evidence of confidence and hope than has been apparent during any comparative period in the last two years."

Wall Street Briefs

New York, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Paolino Gerli, president of the Silk Association of America, believes an upward trend in prices of broad silks is in prospect, due to rising quotations on raw silk and encouraging news from the Orient.

Wall street expects that a $20,000,000 offering of Peoples Gas, Light & Coke Co. 25-year first and refunding mortgage 6 per cent bonds will be offered for sale next week, probably at a price of 98. The $18,000,000 Commonwealth Edison loan, another part of the Insull group's refinancing, was sold at 93 this week and was substantially oversubscribed.

MARYLAND'S FIRST QUITS CAMP TODAY

Gen. Ely Presents Banners and Prizes to Companies and Individuals.

By Staff Correspondent.

Camp Albert C. Ritchie, Cascade, Md., Aug. 5.—Banners and prizes were awarded tonight to the members of the First Infantry, Maryland National Guard, which breaks camp tomorrow morning after two weeks of training here. The prizes were presented by Maj. Gen. Hanson E. Ely, retired, who commanded the First Division at Cantigny.

The presentation was made at a regimental parade held in honor of the general. Brig. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, commanding the Maryland National Guard, also was present. Gen. Ely presented medals for perfect attendance at armory drill to 267 men and officers and 10 special prizes and banners.

Company Pennants Given.

Pennants were awarded to the following companies: Best company rifle qualifications, Company G; best company pistol qualification, Company M; best company automatic rifle qualifications, Company G; best company machine gun qualifications, Company D; best communications test and best kitchen banners, Headquarters Company, Third Battalion, of Pocomoke, which has won the kitchen banner nine times in ten years.

Prizes of $5 each were awarded as follows: Highest rifle score, Private Thomas L. Walker, service company of Silver Spring; highest pistol score, Private Stewart A. Rickell, Company H; highest automatic rifle score, Private Edward L. Kessler, Company F, of Hyattsville, and highest machine gun score, Corporal Mason A. Wilson, Company D.

The regiment completed its maneuvers this morning with flying colors. The entire movement was without a hitch and surprisingly well executed. The troops were back in Camp Ritchie before breakfast.

Kensington Company Wins.

The howitzer company of Kensington today won the State howitzer match with a score of 90 out of a possible 100. Members of the winning team were Sergts. Richard Marks and Theodore Hundley; Corp. L. L. Lewis and Private Charles A. Kengla.

First call will sound at 4 a. m. tomorrow and the regiment will begin loading into trains at 6:30. All units will be returned to their home stations tomorrow. Most of the heavy loading has been completed by the service company of Silver Spring, which has charge of the work.

Chicago Conflagration Injured Mount to 125

Chicago, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Rain this afternoon aided firemen still pouring water on the smoking ruins of the Quincy grain elevator, Omaha Packing Co. and Crane Lumber Yard while owners counted in the millions their losses in yesterday's fire. Forty engine companies threw water on smoldering embers. They were not expected to be extinguished for a month.

The injury list mounted to 125 firemen and workmen, with one seriously hurt by a skull fracture. Fire Marshal Michael J. Corrigan set the damage at $1,650,000, but owners of the three plants put it at $6,000,000. Much of the difference involved valuation of live stock and prepared meat products.

Von Gronau Reaches Milwaukee.

Milwaukee, Aug. 5 (A.P.).—Capt. Wolfgang von Gronau and his three German flying companions landed at Maitland Airport here this afternoon. They had flown from Chicago.

MONROE DOCTRINE TENETS ANALYZED

"Big-Stick" Intimations of President Roosevelt Held Investors' Protection.

The genesis of the "Roosevelt Corollary"—extension of tenets of the Monroe Doctrine—was analyzed yesterday by Prof. J. Fred Rippy, of Duke University, before the conference of Hispanic-American affairs at George Washington University.

Prof. Rippy told of increasing American investments in Latin America during the early part of this century and of the reaction of British holders in the same territory between 1906 and 1909 toward intimations of use of the "big stick" toward protection of American interests in the Caribbean area.

Roosevelt was placed in an embarrassing position, said the lecturer, because he could not intervene in the Latin-American nations toward protection of American interests and at the same time object to similar action by European powers.

This situation, said Prof. Rippy, led to a further interpretation of the Monroe Doctrine. While preventing European intervention, President Roosevelt recognized a duty to see that the South American states acted in a just manner toward European interests. This mollified the continental powers and met with the enthusiastic approval of British bondholders, who saw therein hope for collection of claims long pending, Prof. Rippy said.

He reviewed at length operations of American bankers in the Caribbean countries, showing that frequently assets to which foreign bondholders had laid claim as security were diverted to American syndicates.

That the British government did not more actively support their bondholders is explained by the Monroe Doctrine, said Prof. Rippy, and by the fact that considerable fraud had entered into the floating of the British loans to Latin America.

Man Hurt in Fatal Crash Found to Be Baltimorean

The man who was seriously injured in a crash on the Baltimore boulevard near Ammendale Thursday night when his companion was killed was identified yesterday as Milton Bender, of Baltimore. He is in critical condition at Casualty Hospital with a fractured skull and possible internal injuries. Bender was riding with Edward Buckler, also of Baltimore, who was killed when the car Buckler was driving crashed into a parked truck.

An inquest into the fatal accident will be held Monday night by Magistrate George Phillips. John E. Owens, of 1133 Twelfth street northwest, driver of the truck, was arrested after the crash and charged with parking without lights.

Contract Let for Taft Junior High Erection

The District Commissioners yesterday awarded a contract for construcion of the William Howard Taft Junior High School to the Prescott-White Corporation, of New York, on its low bid of $338,096.

The school is to be erected within a year on a site bounded by South Dakota avenue and Eighteenth and Perry streets. It will contain 10 classrooms and 26 special rooms, including an auditorium, kitchen and lunchroom.

Lodge Will Take Part In Parade at Unveiling

The Edward Douglas White Council, No. 2473, Knights of Columbus, completed arrangements last night to participate in a parade in Washington August 14 in connection with the unveiling of a statue to the late Cardinal Gibbons.

The council's new home located on Garrison road, where the meeting was held, has been remodeled. Provisions are being made for a library and other recreational facilities as well as an auditorium.

District Economy Group Reports on Budget Study

The District economy committee yesterday transmitted its report on departmental estimates to the District Commissioners, but no figures were revealed as to the recommendations of reductions. The Commissioners said they would not make the report public before next week.

Estimates for the 1934 fiscal year submitted early in July amounted to approximately $47,200,000. It is expected that the committee's report will propose slashing this amount considerably.

12 Capital Residents Score Use of Troops

One Signer of Resolution Deploring "Incredible Ocurrances" in Rout of Bonus Army, Is Clerk At Quaker Church Mr. Hoover Attends.

A resolution taking sharp issue with Federal authorities in the recent rout of the bonus army with troops and tear gas and signed by a dozen Washingtonians, including the clerk of the Quaker Meeting House, which President Hoover attends, was made public tonight

The resolution recalled with "profound shame the incredible occurrences of the night of Thursday, July 28," and denounced the use of "weapons of war" against "defenseless men and their families."

Daniel Shoemaker, clerk of the Friends Meeting House, is one of the signers of the resolution. Others include Isador Lubin, economist of the Brookings Institute; John T. L. Donovan, Washington attorney and former Army captain; Paul Y. Anderson and Elliott Thurston, newspapermen; the Rev. Raymond A. McGowan, Catholic priest; Ralph D. Winstead, editor; Felix Morley, author; Frederick Vining Fisher, Protestant clergyman; Herbert S. Ward, lawyer; J. Douglas Rollow, business man, and Richard W. Hogue, research worker.

"We call upon fellow Americans," said the resolution, "to join us in proclaiming that this Nation has a better solution to the plight of its jobless and impoverished people than the suppressive use of bayonet, gas bomb and torch."

Mr. Hogue said last night that he was the initiator of a movement which resulted in adoption of the resolution. The signers are representatives of a large group, many of them eyewitnesses of the events concerning the bonus army evacuation, said Mr. Hogue. He is the director of the temporarily suspended Peoples Legislative Service.

Federal authorities were accused in the resolution adopted by the group of "attempting to justify their action by raising the false issue of radicalism." The resolution claimed that a "left wing" contingent of the bonus army, "never numbering more than 3 per cent," was outlawed from the veterans' camps by their own action.

"We deplore the sudden and unexplained intervention," the resolution continued, "by the order of the Administration of the Military into a situation that has for weeks been handled by the local authorities with rare skill and judgment.

"We make this protest wholly aside from any political bias. We hold no brief either for or against the payment of the bonus. We do not champion any of the various political or economic ideas advocated by the veterans. We do maintain the right to live is a basic human right and that the right of these former service men to be in Washington to work in their own interest is indisputable."

Mr. Hogue said the first meeting of the group which the signers represent was held in the office of Senator Bronson T. Cutting, of New Mexico, although the latter was not present. Mr. Hogue said the New Mexico senator concurs generally in the attitude of the resolution's signers. Other meetings were held in the home of Mr. Hogue, and legislators, officials, educators and others were claimed to have been present.

4 Stricken by Heat, Which Reaches 91

Miss Sylvia Brown, 22 of 1314 Massachusetts avenue northwest, was treated at Emergency Hospital after she collapsed in a downtown store where she is employed. An unidentified white woman was stricken near the courthouse. The fire rescue squad was called but she had been removed by a motorist before they arrived. Police could not locate her in any hospital.

Two colored men were treated. John Brady, 28 years old, of 216 Massachusetts avenue northwest, was removed to Casualty Hospital, and Thomas Ross, 23, of 2315 Champlain street northwest, received first aid at Freedmen's Hospital.

Aid Office to Close To Check on Pleas

Requests Will Not Be Taken Today and Tomorrow by Relief Organization.

The special unemployment relief headquarters in the old Metropolitan Methodist Church, John Marshall place and C street, will be closed today and tomorrow while the welfare workers check on as many as possible of more than 2,500 applicants for jobs.

Relief in the nature of grocery orders is already being distributed by Leroy A. Halbert, director of the $350,000 fund, and a number of applicants have been put to work in various branches of the District government. Because of his limited staff of welfare workers, however, Mr. Halbert does not expect to complete investigation of all applications for a week or more.

Consideration will be given next week to the request of the Office of Public Buildings and Public Parks that a number of laborers be assigned to clean up the parks, particularly those used for bonus camps.

Writ Given Fur Store Against Strike Pickets

Alleging that its business was being harmed by pickets from the Fur Workers Union, No. 27, the Capitol Fur Shop, Inc., of 1208 G street northwest, yesterday secured from Justice James M. Proctor, in District Supreme Court, a rule to require the fur workers to show cause why they should not be enjoined from picketing the store.

The rule, returnable August 12, was obtained by the firm of Simon, Koenigsberger, Young & Brez, who said that a strike had been illegally called and that pickets were walking in front of the store.

Pay Fight Is Taken Higher by Fireman

U. S. Supreme Court Asked to Decide on Right to Extra Earnings.

The Supreme Court of the United States has been asked by John R. Ihrie, a District fireman, to pass on the validity of an order of the District Commissioners of September, 1930, prohibiting firemen from accepting pay for employment in their leisure hours. Ihrie, who earns $25 a week, argues that the order infringed his constitutional rights.

The District Supreme Court had ruled that the Commissioners exceeded their powers in the order, but this ruling was reversed by the District Court of Appeals, which held that the Commissioners had acted within their powers and that the fireman had not been deprived of his constitutional rights.

Ihrie asked the Supreme Court to set aside the verdict of the appeals body. He claims that his outside work does not impair his duties as a member of the Fire Department. When the court meets in October it will announce whether a review will be granted.

Two Are Held in Assault On Kenneth Romney, Jr.

Charged with assault upon Kenneth Romney, jr., son of the sergeant at arms of the House of Representatives, two men, Vernon Storey and Richard P. Williams, yesterday were arraigned in Police Court. They demanded a jury trial and will be tried next week.

The pair also faced charges of taking Romney's automobile. On that they were ordered held for the action of the grand jury under bonds of $1,000 each. Romney heard the motor of his car start while he was visiting friends on Mount Pleasant street. He ran out and jumped on the back of the car until help arrived. Storey was held for police, but Williams was arrested later.

Coroner Probes Death Of Youth in Stoneyard

The coroner's office is investigating the death of Claude Joseph Hodgkins, 11, of 2901 Seventh street northeast, who died yesterday in Children's Hospital from injuries suffered when a crane fell on him while playing in a stoneyard at Eighth and Franklin streets northeast Wednesday afternoon.

An autopsy performed last night revealed the boy died from a crushed pelvis and internal injuries. The coroner received several different versions of how the boy met his death and will not issue a certificate until the investigation is completed.

UTILITY BODY FIGHTS WRIT ON BUS DEPOT

Justice Proctor Reserves His Decision on Downtown Terminal Ban.

Justice James M. Proctor, in the District Supreme Court yesterday, took under advisement an attempt by the Public Utilities Commission, through Assistant Corporation Counsel William A. Roberts, to have the court dismiss an injunction suit brought by the Capital Greyhound Lines, Inc., last Saturday to prevent the commission from actually putting into effect its ban against downtown bus terminals.

Mr. Roberts contended the bus company was prevented from asking for an injunction because criminal arrests can not be enjoined. He said also that the company had not appealed the regulation within the 120 days prescribed by law.

Richmond B. Keech, peoples' counsel, asked leave to intervene in the suit, and Walter C. Clephane, attorney for the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, opposed a suggestion by Justice Proctor that the matter be put off until the fall term because, he said, the noise and confusion attending the present New York avenue terminal was detrimental to the church's services. Attorney Paul Sleman appeared for the bus company.

Company Will Forbid Widewater Swimming

Swimming parties in the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal at Widewater, Md., will soon be a thing of the past, the canal company naving announced that it will post "no bathing" and "no trespassing" signs around the popular swimming place. Montgomery County police will then be able to enforce the desire of the county commissioners that no swimming be allowed.

Last week the commissioners asked the canal company to forbid bathing after the third drowning of the season had occurred there. County police had no power to stop the swimming except to enforce the "no trespassing" signs erected by the company. The signs will be put up within a few weeks, and the county officers will then enforce their edict.

Store Manager Robbed By Two Holdup Men

Ralph E. Wilkinson, of 214 C street northwest, manager of the Thom McAn shoe store at 935 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, reported to police that he was held up early yesterday morning in the store and robbed of $20.

According to Wilkinson, two colored men entered his store and forced him into a rear room, and after taking the money warned him not to make an outcry while they were escaping. The bandits locked Wilkinson in the store when they left.

Attacks on Grant In Riots Answered

Buildings and Parks Office Denies He Was Connected With Ejection.

Denial that Lieut. Col. U. S. Grant 3d, had anything to do with eviction of bonus marchers from property under his jurisdiction was made yesterday by officials of the Office of Public Buildings and Parks, of which the Army officer is director. He is now in Europe on a vacation.

Recently District council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars went on record as favoring the expulsion of Col. Grant from the organization because of his alleged helping to bring about the eviction. The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, formed in honor of the late Maj. Gen. Frederick Dent Grant, father of Col. Grant, was said not to have officially participated in the action.

The public parks office officials made it clear yesterday that they do not desire to get into a controversy with any group, but asserted that the records have been checked and interested authorities contacted in an effort to determine the basis of the charges against Col. Grant, which are declared groundless.

Fall is Basis of $35,000 Suit.

THE NEW CINEMA OFFERINGS

LOEW'S FOX

"A PASSPORT TO HELL." Fox picturization of a story by Harry Hervey, starring Elissa Landi, with Paul Lukas, Alexander Kirkland and Warner Oland. Directed by Frank Lloyd. Reviewed Friday afternoon.

By NELSON B. BELL.

Elissa Landi's intelligent repression in the provocative stellar role and Paul Lukas' agreeable earnestness in a part that is not so important as Alexander Kirkland's, but much better acted, do much to generate a bit of plausible drama in the closing sequences of this exotic subject, despite the fact that it is just another jungle picture—obtrusively akin to "Thunder Below"—that adheres too faithfully for its own good to a stereotyped and familiar pattern.

Miss Landi in the present fable is a charming and inscrutable adventuress playing battledore and shuttlecock with the authorities of the various colonies strewn up and down the west coast of Africa. When her British compatriotis give her a visa to a neighboring German settlement, she presumes she is being handed a "passport to Hell," so dreary is the outlook. At the new port of call, however, she eludes an immiment discomfiture by marrying the son of Baron Von Sydow, just in from the jungles as a reward for good behavior. The baron, being, as he is, in command of the post, is irked no end by this trifle of strategy on the part of his unwelcome visitor and banishes the boy, Erich, and his bride back to the jungles as a tormenting reminder of how he feels about it.

Out among the savages and the skeeters, Erich soon finds it part of his official job to take himself for a hike of a fortnight's duration. In his absence his subordinate, Kurt, returns from an engineering trip with his mind full of a new route into enemy territory and finds this lovely blonde already up and getting breakfast. From this point on it ought to be possible to throw away the diagram without losing your direction.

Miss Landi, never notable for the extravagances of her moods or methods, seems to me a little more expressive than usual as Myra, whose reputation is so bad and deportment so good. There is scarcely a moment when she is not completely believable. This is true in almost equal measure of Herr Lukas. Alexander Kirkland, on the other hand, is always acting—an impression which is no doubt aggravated by the execrable speeches written into his part and the emotional stress to which the author has sentenced him. Warner Oland resembles a Japanese field marshal a little more closely than he does a German commissioner of military police, but otherwise, as always, gives a thoroughly sound performance.

The stage revue, "Veils," is packed tight with talent. Zelda Santley, the star, is an impersonator of the first rank, who scores with impressions of Garbo, Chevalier, ZaSu Pitts, Helen Morgan and Jimmy Durante; Roy Rogers, an acrobatic comedian who does wonders as a genial souse. Edna Errica and Madeline Schmid are singers of contrasted types and Merna Fortune an exceptional acrobatic dancer. Conrad's Pigeons are, indeed, wonder birds.

Then, too, there is Wesley Eddy, with Harpist Manning assisting, in an interval of straight violin virtuosity that won an ovation, and Phil Lampkin, who, by some abstruse legerdemain, galvanizes "Selections From Faust" into one of the program's emphatic hits.

METROPOLITAN

"TWO SECONDS." First National picturization of the play by Lester Elliott, adapted to the screen by Harvey Thew, starring Edward G. Robinson, with Preston Foster and Vivienne Osborne. Directed by Mervyn LeRoy. Reviewed Friday night by Don B. Reed.

If it's fine acting by a great actor that attracts you to the theater, don't miss "Two Seconds." Edward G. Robinson adds further to an already commendable list of successes with a portrayal that holds his audience from start to finish. It is a one-man picture, and since Robinson is the man, the picture is fine.

There are moments in the star's last scenes when he reminds strongly of Lionel Barrymore.

The story given Mr. Robinson is that of a steel rigger, uneducated, but seeking to learn, falling for a "dance hall dame," who succeeds in marrying him. This causes a rift between Robinson and his buddy, a fight atop a skyscraper and sudden death for the buddy. Then sickness, unfaithfulness on the part of the wife and a climax that is pitiful and at the same time magnificent.

Director LeRoy has squeezed the last ounce of appeal out of the story. It opens and closes with a resounding crash, dramatically.

In addition to Robinson's splendid characterization, Vivienne Osborne is well cast as the scheming dance hall girl. Minor characters who add considerably to the scheme of things are played by Preston Foster, as Robinson's buddy; J. Carroll Neish, as Miss Osborne's lover; Guy Kibbee, as a bookmaker; Walter Walker, as the sentencing judge; Burton Churchill, as the warden, and William Janney, as the college boy witness at an electrocution.

Auxiliary subjects include an issue in the "Believe It or Not" series; a rather boresome Al St. John comedy, "The Door Knocker," and Paramount News.

RKO-KEITH'S

"THE MAN CALLED BACK." Quadruple Picture Corporation, Ltd., picturization of Andrew Soutar's novel, "Silent Thunder," featuring Conrad Nagel, with Doris Kenyon, John Halliday and Reginald Owen. Directed by Robert Florey. Reviewed Friday night by Dorothea Lewis.

If they hadn't called Dr. David Yorke, the man in question, back from his South Sea Island, where he had gone to seed, there would have been just one more forgotten man and it wouldn't have mattered much. But since Quadruple Pictures Corporation, Ltd., (what a name!) did call him, Conrad Nagel saw to it that he was done more than right by.

In fact, this picture is considerably more interesting than it deserves to be. Nagel, assisted by some capital acting on the part of John Halliday, except for one lapse into melodrama, giggling humor by that master of silliness, Reginald Owen, and the wigs in the English court scene, triumphs to a certain extent over the usual story of a down-and-out, drunken, one-time brilliant surgeon regenerated through love (and love at first sight at that), and the painful coyness of the undoubtedly beautiful Doris Kenyon. There is no other word for her acting save "lush."

An emergency case in the South Seas with "dependable" doctors absent, introduces Dr. Yorke to Diana, with whom he falls in love and for whom he straightaway begins to reform, shaving and throwing the whisky bottle out the window. A second emergency brings St. Claire, a rich and rather rotten Englishman with an appetite (not taste) for ladies, across his path and takes him back to England to be set up as a fashionable doctor only to discover that Diana is St. Claire's unhappy wife. The sudden death of St. Claire from poison, and not the heart failure which Dr. Yorke announced, brings on the inevitable courtroom scene.

To Nagel's eternal trouping credit let it be said that every time Doris Kenyon gets a little florid in her acting, he immediately adopts understatement to put the affair on safe and satisfactory ground again.

An unusually interesting subsidiary is "Ghingi," a travelogue of Australia, its amazing animals and strange people, with the ingenuous Craveth Wells, big-game hunter, as guide.

An amusing Aesop Fable, set in China this time, and a Pathe News complete the bill.

COLUMBIA

"FORBIDDEN COMPANY." Invincible picturization of a story by Edward T. Lowe, featuring Sally Blane, John Darrow, John St. Polis and Myrtle Steadman. Directed by Richard Thorpe. Reviewed Friday evening by W. A. Whitney.

The tables are turned, and papa knows best this time—but not without the same potentially disastrous consequences as have been so frequently portrayed when love's young dream was all but shattered by mamma. So, except for some few minor shifts in personalities, "Forbidden Company" runs along in the traditional manner.

As the result of an auto accident, Jerry Grant falls in love with Barbara Blake, erstwhile model, this leading to a mutual break in his engagement to Louelle, scioness of the 400. But papa doesn't like the arrangement and he forthwith breaks up the affair. Mamma, unorthodoxly, patches it up, but she is later badly hurt in another auto accident and Barbara saves her life through a blood transfusion. And so all works out all right in the end.

The "forbidden company" is Sally Blane, but between John Darrow and Myrtle Steadman the objections of John St. Polis are completely overridden, with some assistance from Josephine Dunn, as Miss Blane's girl friend, and Dorothy Christy, as Louelle. While the cast does a highly creditable job, the story is palpably beneath its capabilities, collectively and individually. However, the picture is a pretty good weapon for killing a couple of hours.

Out of the dim ages there has been exhumed a travelogue of the scenic wonders of Wales, which, with concurrent comment, has been titled and scored with "March of the Men of Harlech." Like a thing of beauty, the inherent splendor of the Welsh scenery can hardly be spoiled, but cinamatagraphy has advanced in recent years.

Other supporting pictures include Will King and Olive Hasbrouck in "Father's Advice" and a release of the Paramount News.

EARLE

By NELSON B. BELL.

"Cuckoo Week" is correct!

Theres hould be a handsome prize for any one who can detect a single moment of sanity in the wave of pleasant lunacy currently epidemic at the Earle. It would be a safe offer, because nobody could by any possibility win!

Of all the completely goofy pictures that have ever been plopped upon a screen, "Million Dollar Legs" is by all odds the most nonsensical, nuttiest and—most entertaining. For, notwithstanding all of its absurdity, its fantastic exaggerations and its admirable aloofness from any attempt to make sense, this exciting extravaganza is corking good fun and timely to the minute in its friendly satire of the Olympic games now in progress in Los Angeles.

The manner in which the athletic prowess of the representatives of Klopstockia is diverted into channels helpful to the country's exchequer is no less bizarre than the notion of the President's holding office by virtue of being the best weight lifter or his enemies' enlisting the aid of Mata Machree, "the woman no man can resist," as the arch spy alone capable of bringing about his downfall. That is as near a plot as can be traced through the maze of slapstick, gags, chases, burlesque, travesty and damphoolishness that is the picture.

Jack Oakie, as the brush salesman who puts Klopstockia on the map and, incidentally, impresses his map upon Klopstockia, has a part made to order. W. C. Fields, the comedy juggler, comedian, revue star and all-around swell actor, is even better fitted in the matter of material. Lyda Roberti and Susan Fleming, as Mata Machree and Angela, the President's daughter, are no more sane than their male associates. Ben Turpin, as a "man of mystery," will bowl you over with his new-fangled binoculars. And can Andy Clyde run!

But it is a hopeless task to detail the manifold eccentricities of this particular film. Go see it for yourself and die laughing.

The supplementary screen items are just as crazy as the feature. Tom Howard in "Breaking Even" is funnier than he ever was with Joe Cook and the "Screen Souvenirs" goes clear back to 1900 for its revived camera shots. Come to think of it, you might, after all, win that prize with the Graham McNamee Newsreel.

On the stage Stuart and Lash headline the vaudeville bill with a "nut" act that matches the major screen offering perfectly and carry over into the orchestral interlude contributed by "Helen Johns' Glorious Girls." The opening number is Pipifax's clowning. Queenie Smith and Harry Puck sing, dance and piano their way through "Bits of Musical Comedy Hits" to a bigger hit than the deuce spot usually scores.

The orchestral overture, "Maybe We're Wrong," introduces Alex Podhos as a comedian and proves that Freddie Clark and his boys have gone plenty cuckoo along with the rest of the show!

PALACE

"THE FIRST YEAR." Fox picturization of Frank Craven's play, starring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell. Directed by William K. Howard. Reviewed (second week) Friday afternoon by Dorothea Lewis.

The second week of "The First Year" means the second week of a pleasant enough, mildly amusing little picture, which can boast some bang-up performances in rather minor roles and a nicely-turned chore by Charlie Farrell.

Grace Livingston has two beaux to choose from, despite her very, very small-town background, and she chooses Tommy Tucker. Spurred on, in fact rather rudely prodded, by Grace, who likes to go new places and see new things, Tommy chucks his business and they land in Joplin, Mo. Domestic difficulties are brought to a head by an unexpected dinner party, a visit of Grace's former "other beau," and Tommy's apparent defeat in business. Home goes Gracie to mother, and it's really just as simple and commonplace and everyday real as that.

As we mentioned, Farrell is very good as Tommy. Other performances to crow about are turned in by Maude Eburne, Dudley Digges, Robert McWade and Leila Bennet. Little Gaynor succeeds in being very breathless about the whole affair.

PAY SLASH IS URGED FOR BUILDERS HERE

Employers' Group Complains to Doak on Scale in U. S. Projects.

Claiming wage scales paid to building mechanics on Government projects here were too high and artificial, the Building Trades Employers Association of Washington yesterday laid before Secretary of Labor Doak an appeal for reconsideration of the pay rates.

The letter was referred by Secretary Doak to Hugh L. Kerwin, director of conciliation, and it was learned the two officials will hold a conference on the petition on Monday.

Officials at the Labor Department were dubious as to the status the local employers' appeal would receive because no specific contest with regard to any particular group was cited in the petition.

Union Leaders Plan Fight.

Under the Bacon-Davis act, it was explained, the Secretary of Labor acts as final judge in a wage dispute involving Government projects only when the contracting Government agency can not arrive at an agreement with the protestants.

Union leaders yesterday indicated they would vigorously contest any move to lower wage rates paid to building mechanics on Government construction projects. It was pointed out that money saved by such decrease in wage scales would go to the contractor and not to the Government.

The petition of the building trades employers' group was signed by Charles J. Columbus, executive secretary of the organization. It pointed out that recent conferences with the Washington Building Trades Council had developed agreement for submission to affiliated labor groups of a recommendation for a 10 per cent cut for trades drawing $10 a day or less and 14 per cent for trades having a scale over $10 a day.

Regarded as Compromise.

Only a scattering of the affiliated groups have agreed to the recommendation, it was learned, while many have rejected the offer regarded as a compromise in view of the proposal first advanced by the contractors for a general 30 per cent decrease in wage scales.

Pointing out the recent economy legislation enacted by Congress, the petition said that the "administration of the prevailing wage law in building operations has made it possible for labor unions to maintain an unreasonable scale of wages in the District of Columbia and its environments to the detriment of the Federal Government as well as individual welfare."

Labor costs here are far out of line with those elsewhere, said the petition. The investing public is loath to build, it said, in view of such a situation, and consequently hundreds of men are denied employment.
